NEW CABINET OFFICE

Resolution Calling on Congress to Create a Secretary of Labor Introduced in the Legislature.

Committee Appointed to Inquire Into Whipping and Other Punishments at the St. Cloud Reformatory.

The Attorney General Says That It Will be Constitutional to Classify According to Population.

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—[Special to the Herald].—A joint resolution of the Indiana legislature calling on congress to create a new cabinet office to be known as the secretary of labor was introduced in the house today and referred. Speaker Lee announced the following committee of the house to have charge of the Itasca
state park: Markham, Abbott, Greer, Turrell, Fleming, Schofield, Moore,
Gorman, Furlong.

A resolution was introduced by Mr.
Cairns asking that a committee of three
from the house and two from the senate
be appointed to investigate the state reformatory at St. Cloud relating to whipping and other punishments alleged to be in use there. The resolution passed and Messrs. Cairns, Fuller and Skinner were appointed such committee.

The following bills were introduced:
By Paulson, an act to regulate and provide for the supervision of mutual building associations. All are brought under the jurisdiction of the public examiner.
By Mr. Heinrichs, a bill designating all roads not on county boundaries, as county roads.

The speaker received a communication from the attorney general stating that the legislature has power under the revision of the constitution to make classification on the ground of population,
when it is shown that no other means can be had to classify. The courts of Pennsylvania under the same constitutional amendment do not permit of over three or four classes. When classifications are so made special legislation may be enacted applying to each class after the divisions according to population have been made.

SHOCKING CHILD MURDER.

A Child Thrown From a Train On the Baltimore & Ohio.
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 6.—A shocking child
murder was discovered at Glenwood,
on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at 8:30 o'clock this morning. The dead infant was found on the main tracks in the railroad yard just after the express train
east bound had passed the station.
It is supposed that the baby, evidently about three months old, was thrown from the express train leaving the Smithfield station, Pittsburgh, at 8 o'clock. The train does not stop at Glenwood. The discovery was made by the crew of a shifting engine.

The police officers were notified and an investigation was in progress within a very few minutes after the discovery of the body. The police believe that the baby was dropped from the toilet room
of one of the cars.

WRECKED PETTY SPIE.

Democrats and Independents in Nebraska Act
Very Foolishly.
LINCOLN, Neb. Feb. 6.—The Republicans announced in the senate this morning that they would get together and elect J. Sterling Morton as United States senator.

The Democrats and Independents tried to prevent them from leaving the chamber to caucus for that purpose, but when they found this a hopeless task
they went to work with a vim
during the absence of the Republicans.
Senators and adopted or rejected reports
made by committees at their own sweet will.

Every bill favorable to the Republicans was indefinitely postponed, and it will take a week for them to find out what has become of their pet measures.

Kilgore Still Kicking.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Mr. Kilgore's filibustering in the house against the approval of the journal came to naught except in that it consumed time. He was unable to break a quorum and in his efforts to do so received nothing but a very small passive support. He is now engaged in killing time by requiring the reading of the journal in full.

Hill's Motion Rejected.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—After a good deal of confusion and parliamentary wrangling the senate was finally brought to a direct vote upon Mr. Hill's motion to take up the bill for the repeal of the Sherman act; and the motion was rejected—yeas, 23; nays, 42.

Wright Reappointed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The president
today sent to the senate the nomination of C. D. Wright of Massachusetts, to be commissioner of labor, reappointed.

Still No Choice.

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 6.—The ballot
for senator today resulted as follows:
Clark 16, Sanders 24, Dixon 12. No choice.

Towed in Port.

SAN FRANCISCO, Neb. 6.—The steamer City of Peking is being towed into port.

STORY OF AN ELOPEMENT.

Some of the Statements Do Not Accord With the Facts.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 6.—Israel
Ward, the banker referred to in a Chicago dispatch on the Lewis-Ward elopement, has been dead about ten years.
He was at one time cashier of the Second National bank of this city. He left a son and daughter, now about 20 and 16 years of age respectively.

The young lady has been in New York
all winter. Gossip at West Haven has it that last summer a young man named Lewis paid marked attention to Miss Ward, but whether he is the person alluded to in the dispatch cannot be learned. Wallace M. Ward, the girl's uncle, positively refuses to discuss the elopement matter. There is no bank in the town of West Haven and consequently no "James Lewis, cashier," thereof.

THEY DEMANDED HIS LIFE

Negroes in Texas Nearly Lynched the Wrong Man for Shooting One of Their Number.

STAFFORD'S POINT, Tex., Feb. 6.—
Yesterday morning a half-grown negro boy offered a gross insult to Mrs. Dr.
Cochran. She reported the matter to her husband on his return and the doctor chastised the boy. Last night while at the railway station Clinton Edwards, the boy's father, met Dr. Cochran, who is a one-armed man, and after a wordy
quarrel the negro picked up a stone with which he felled the doctor to the earth.

As he fell Dr. Cochran seized his pistol and put three bullets into Edwards, killing him instantly. William Watts, station agent of the Southern Pacific, disarmed Cochran and then a number of negroes assaulted him. They accused him of having assaulted Edwards and demanded his life.

Dr. Cochran told the excited crowd he was the guilty party, but the mob was bent on lynching Watts. Watts managed to reach the inside of the depot,
which he barred, and with the aid of
had there and the assistance of the telegraph operator he managed to hold the crowd at bay and meantime telegraphed Richmond, Houston, Wilkes and sister towns for assistance.

While this was going on, the negroes were also securing reinforcements and very leaders proposed burning the depot and the town. Just as they were about to put their designs into execution, an engine pulled into the train, the sheriff and a posse of armed men. It was with difficulty the sheriff could get the crowd quiescent.

Dr. Cochran surrendered, but the mob clamored for Watts, the station agent.
In the hubbub the sheriff, to appease them, arrested Watts and quickly getting him to the train, the posse pulled out for Richmond, where he will be held until an examination is held.
The negroes are ugly and threatening,
and the whites are looking on with triumph.

IN CLIFFORD'S DEFENSE.

An Attempt Will Be Made to Prove An Alibi.
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 6.—Attorney Brennan made the opening speech for the defense this morning in the trial of Jack Clifford, charged with murder at Homestead during the riot on July 6, and said that they would be able to show that the defendant was not at the rail or on the grounds until after 12 o'clock noon of that day, and that at the hour (11 o'clock) when Connors was shot
Clifford was in bed at his home.

Witnesses of the battle testified that the first shots came from the barges, and that although they had mingled with the crowd they had not seen Jack Clifford until after noon of that day.

New Zealand Protest.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The Mail Mail
Gazette states that the governor of New Zealand has telegraphed to the marquis
of Ripon, secretary of state for the colonies, a strongly worded protest against the annexation of Hawaii by the United States. No definite answer has yet been returned by the imperial government to the New Zealand communication.

The Mineral Land Cases.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The cases of Barden & Walker against the Northern Pacific Railroad company which were argued before the supreme court last week, were today ordered rearranged before a full bench. These are what are known as the mineral land cases and involve title to a large part of the mineral lands along the Northern Pacific road.

Mrs. W. C. Whitney Dead.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Amie Whitney, wife of the ex-secretary of the navy, died at her home, No. 2 West Fifty-seventh street, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, of heart disease. Only Mr.
Whitney and the nurses who attended her during her illness were present at the deathbed, the end coming unexpectedly.

Fraudulent Bank Failure.

ROME, Feb. 6.—The Banca Assa-ciation, of Florence, has failed. Its liabilities amount to 7,000,000 lire. It is suspected that the bankruptcy of the concern is fraudulent, and the manager
and cashier have been arrested.

A Steamer Burning.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 6.—The steamer
Wilmington, from Puget Sound with a cargo of lime, is burning nine miles before here. At last accounts only her forecastle remained standing.

The Railway Telegraphers.

Division No. 25, Order of Railway Telegraphers, on Saturday evening elected the following officers for the ensuing year:
Chief telegrapher, S. T. Welch;
secretary, George Nichols;
junior telegrapher, J. W. Holden; inside sentinel, P. B. McQuig; outside sentinel, C. E. Burr; past chief telegrapher, H. L. Heisler. N. S. Mitchell was elected delegate to represent Duluth at the annual convention of the order at Toronto next May.

THE TRIAL HAS BEGUN

Opening of the Impeachment Proceedings Against the Fire Commissioners,
Hart and Helsinki.

The Council Adopts a Report Which Gives a Black Eye to the Hartley Bridge
Bill.

Senators and Representatives From Minnesota Urged to Aid the Passage of the Other Bill.

There will be no council meeting tonight. All immediate business was transacted in connection with the trial of the fire commissioners. The councilmen were called to order about seven minutes
after 10 by President Hugo, with Aldermen Cox, Nelson, Helm, Kennedy, Butchart, Dingwall, Sorensen and Long present. By general consent a little regular business in the form of the monthly pay rolls and the expenses of the board of public works during their late Chicago trip was introduced and referred to the proper committees.

Alderman Thomas then came in, and
as soon as he shook the pine bark dust off his overcoat a recess was ordered by the president. At 10:20 o'clock Alderman Weiss appeared and doffed his big election cap. President Hugo then called time and at 10:25 the impeachment proceedings commenced to proceed.

City Clerk Burke led off by reading a resolution establishing the order of procedure. In that a provision was made giving the council the opening and closing. Attorney Rude objected, asserting that an impeachment was a criminal procedure, hence the defense was entitled to the closing. Attorney Holmes maintained otherwise on both points raised.
The defense objected but was not sustained. Exceptions were then made to the ruling of the council.

Attorney Holmes announced that he would place in evidence the following:
A copy of the notice to the commissioners to cause the opening of the trial, the rules governing the fire department, the report of the committee on the Twaddle investigating case, and portions of the minutes of the commissioners' meeting.
The defense again objected and when the objections were overruled, entered the usual exceptions. Service of the notice on the commissioners was admitted
by the defense. Several other points were also brought up and either admissions or denials were made on the defense
objections and exceptions made.

The examination of witnesses was then commenced. F. H. Little, the deposed assistant chief testified that his knowledge no complaints as to his standing had been made and that the first he knew that he had done amiss was when Chief Smith served on him notice of his dismissal. He also claimed that he went to engine house No. 1 to report the Twaddle-Lyott trouble but the chief was absent. The next day, when he went up, the chief inquired before he went to mention it of his own accord. On cross examination he admitted that he spoke to Chief Horgan about changing the name in the complaint against Twaddle and that he told Lyott
that he had best leave out his name at Lyott's investigation for drunkenness. He averred, however, that he had nothing himself to conceal, but felt that the mention of his name could be of no benefit to Twaddle.

Chief Smith then testified, but nothing
new other than has appeared in his testimony at the several investigations as reported in The Herald.

A Herald reporter was then placed on the stand to tell what he knew of the action of the commissioners at the meetings he attended in the interests of his paper. All his testimony appeared long since in these columns, so no synopsis is necessary.

Mr. Rude attempted to prove in his cross examination of the witness that the reporter attended the meeting for the purpose of writing up a garbled and biased report at the instigation, wishes
or orders of The Herald manager, Alderman Weiss, but it was plainly shown that the reporter was only there to get the news.

The Dinner Hour came on then and

the impeachment proceedings were adjournd until Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. The council then passed the monthly pay rolls and allowed the bill of expenses incurred by the board of public works by the Chicago trip.
The following report of a special committee was unanimously accepted and adopted:

Your committee to whom was referred the matter of the request of Messrs. Mendenhall and Hartley of the street railway company, for a conference

regarding a proposed bill of the Duluth-Superior Bridge company, a Wisconsin corporation, for a bridge between Duluth
and Superior, would most respectfully
report that the city clerk appointed Feb.
7 as the time of conference, and notified Messrs. Mendenhall and Hartley to that effect, to which Mr. Mendenhall replied that a conference
at that time would be useless, as he should be absent from the city for two weeks. Your committee has, however, made a careful study and comparison of the two bills now pending and find many elements of mischief in the Hartley bill,
known as senate file 3793, and see no
special advantage to accrue to the city from its passage, except the simple fact of having a bridge at that point, connecting the two cities,
which is already provided for in the Commercial Improvement company bill, which contains as well numerous points
of advantage to both cities, not to be obtained under the Hartley bill. Known as senate file No. 3282. Your committee is therefore of the opinion that every possible encouragement should be given the Commercial Improvement company senate file 3282 and house file 9287 and that the Minnesota representatives at Washington should be requested to be requested to use all honorable means to aid its passage in preference to any other bill now pending.

The aldermen dispersed and will not assemble again until the municipal battle of ballots, which is billed for tomorrow, is over.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

A Long Session Saturday Evening But Not Very Much Business.

Enough members of the school board turned out Saturday night to make a quorum. The session was an extended one but the actual amount of business was correspondingly small. The teachers and janitors pay rolls for the month of January were approved and a contract
let to N. C. Harvey & Co. for the equipment of a chemical laboratory in the Central High school building, $300 being the price.

A vote of thanks was ordered extended to the chiefs of police in Duluth and West Duluth for use of patrol wagons and men in getting home the children during last Thursday's storm. The same mark of courtesy was also voted to James A. Ferguson for his offer of the use of the wagons of the Pioneer Coal company.

Misses Laura Laumann and Catherine E. Brown were elected to positions in the schools and a committee appointed by the president to inspect the sanitary condition of the Jackson school which is alleged to be very bad. There is some talk of tearing down the old part of the building after the new addition, under process of erection, is completed.

THROWN INTO A CREEK.

Wreck on the Baltimore & Ohio Road and Two Men are Missing and Two Injured.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Feb. 6.—About 2 o'clock this morning freight train No. 74
on the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ran into the rear of an extra freight at Williams, Pa.,
wrecking several freight cars.
The engine was thrown in a creek.
Engineer Wallace and Conductor Nezare are missing. Conductor Dunlap and Flagman Grimes, of the extra train,
are slightly hurt and Fireman Noland,
of the regular train, are seriously injured.

SOUTH SHORE ACCIDENT.

A Car Derailed and Tipped Over But No One Badly Hurt.
The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic passenger train due here Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock met with an accident
which, almost miraculously, did not result in any deaths. It occurred near Lake Nebequam, about thirty miles from Duluth. The rear coach, and there were only two, became detached by the wheels catching in a bent fish plate. The train was running fast and the car jumped the track and ran along the ties for some distance, finally falling broadside into a heavy show bank.

Three persons were injured and they not seriously. Conductor Dan Carroll was hurt about the chest, but it is believed to be nothing more than a broken
rib. Tom Williams the newsboy was cut in the knee and a passenger by the name of McDougall, living at Carroll, Wis., was shaken up somewhat. The train came on to Duluth leaving the wrecked coach behind. McDougall got off at Carroll and walked home. Conductor Carroll was taken to the Brunwick hotel and will leave for Marquette tonight. Williams, the newsboy, also goes home tonight.

WEDDED AT OMAHA.

Miss Augusta Ohlstrom and F. O. Renard
Married Last Wednesday.
The Omaha World-Herald of February 3 contained the following marriage notice which will be of interest to Duluthians:
"A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Paxton hotel, in which Miss Augusta Ohl-strom, of the Ohlstrom-Renard Lyric Artists, and her manager, F. O. Renard, figured as principals. The couple have been engaged for over a year and a half,
but not until Wednesday evening at the supper table were the plans agreed upon which were to make them man and wife.
Miss Ohlstrom was born in Gottenberg,
Sweden, and met Mr. Renard four years ago for the first time. A friendship was formed which in the course of time developed into love making, and for the last two seasons Mr. Renard has traveled with her as a lover in addition to being business manager of the concert company. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. B. Lowrie, and the troupe left the city on an afternoon train for Vaboo. Mrs. Renard will still be known to the public as Miss Ohlstrom
and the company will continue to pose
as the Ohlstrom-Renard Lyric Artists, with more inseparable ties than ever before."

EXTENDED A CALL.

Rev. J. B. Perry, of Washington, Invited to Become Rector of St. Paul's.
Rev. J. B. Perry, of Washington, D.
C., has been extended a call by the vestry of St. Paul's Episcopal church to the rectorship left vacant by the retirement of Bishop Barker. It is not known as yet whether Rev. Mr. Perry will accept.
He is a man of about 40 years of age and Bishop Barker speaks very highly of him. He has been rector of a large church in Washington for ten years and is said to be an eloquent and profound preacher.
Bishop Barker and wife will leave for Colorado on Wednesday of next week.

ON SUNDAY OPENING

Rev. C. F. Southworth Gives Strong Reasons Why the World's Fair Should Be Open on Sunday.

A Complete Answer to the Arguments in Favor of the Closing of the Exposition.

The Increase of Sabbatarian Laws Will Be Certain to Make it a Day of Debauchery.

Rev. C. F. Southworth preached an eloquent and thoughtful sermon at the First Unitarian church yesterday morning on the subject: "Why the World's Fair Should be Open on Sunday." His text was from Luke 11, 27: "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath." Mr. Southworth said: "The stand taken next summer as to whether the gates of the Columbian exposition shall be open or closed one day in seven, will do a good deal in shaping the course of Sabbatarian legislation in the future. And the matter is of such importance in itself as to demand the most careful consideration on the part of every true American. An exposition more magnificent than anything which has ever been known in any age or country, is about to be thrown open for the period of six months for the inspection of people from every land. The congress of the United States has made an appropriation for this exposition conditional on the closing of its doors for one-seventh of this time, the debarring of the visitors at the fair from the privilege of viewing its contents for nearly one month out of the six in which it is to be open. This is not the place in which to describe the coming exhibit, or to picture to you the unique opportunity which is about to be given to the people of America to gain a more adequate conception of the grandeur of the age in which they live, and such as will probably not be offered again to the present generation. "One of the most pleasant and most hopeful features of the exposition has been that its privileges were not to be confined to any class, but are to be within the capacity of the ignorant and the learned and to a certain extent of the rich and poor alike. A million people reside within easy access of its gates, most of them belonging to that vast army of toilers by whose bone and sinew the animal wants of their countrymen are provided for and whom the exacting nature of their work debars from recreation except for one day in seven. Only on that day of days are they permitted to stroll with their friends and families among the parks with which their city is provided, and to appreciate the wonders of art and nature which are within their capacity to enjoy. "To all such the order which closes on Sunday the gates of the Columbian exposition will shut out a world of unexampled splendor which has been put down at their very doors, which like the fruit suspended over the head of Tantalus will forever recede as they stretch out their hands and become an object of continual torture as they learn of its delights and wonders from others. Sunday will be also the only day which many busy men and women outside Chicago can snatch, in which to get a glimpse of the great exhibition. The ease of getting there by train from any point within 500 miles, would make it possible for the man who has worked all the week to start after his work is done and to return in time to begin his work again on Monday. Such people as these at the opening of congress excludes from the fair as effectively as with bars of iron. "It is well to take this glance at the most significant results of this piece of Sabbatarian legislation, before we ask ourselves the ground upon which it has been based. You are familiar with the reasons which have been given, and doubtless know the argument which proved so weighty in our national senate. I will quote from a description of its action which the Rev. O. P. Gifford in the January Arena, takes from a recent writer: "The one supreme, sublime movement in the defence of Sabbath closing at the World's fair was when Senator Quay, on July 9, had the fourth commandment read from his Bible by the senate's clerk, as his only and sufficient argument for his amendment conditioning upon Sabbath closing the fair's financial aid from this Christian nation, so called in a recent supreme court opinion. The senate listened in reverent silence to that constitutional law of nations. It was a scene worthy of an historic painting, to be hung beside the landing of Columbus, cross in hand, or the devout landing of the Pilgrims, after making in the Mayflower that famous compact, which Daniel Webster used to say was in reality the first paragraph of our American constitution. "It devolves upon all who are advocating the Sunday opening of the World's fair to get at, to the best of their ability, the reasons which are inducing others to look for its closing. The ostensible reason which influenced the senate, may not be the one which is influencing others to work in the same direction. But as an argument which is doing more than any other to close the gates of the World's fair on Sunday, however many times it may have been met before, it will be necessary still to meet it honestly, candidly, fairly, and to meet it by the senate's clerk, and what did it imply? The last question must be divided into two: First, what did this commandment mean to the people who first received it, and second, what does it mean to us today? "It is a fact which I think is not yet generally appreciated that there are two editions of the Hebrew decalogue, one in the twentieth chapter of Exodus and the other in the fifth chapter of Deuteronomy. Each has practically the same commandment with reference to Sabbath observance, but the reason for such observance is a different one in each case. In Exodus the commandment reads as follows: "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work. But the seventh day is a Sabbath unto the Lord thy God. In it thou shalt not do any work, thou nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy man servant, nor thy maid servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day. Wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and hallowed it." Here, as you see, the reason for the observance of the Sabbath is that on that day rested from the labor of creation. But in the fifth chapter of Deuteronomy and the fifth verse, the reason assigned is as follows: "And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God brought thee thence by a mighty hand and by a stretched out arm; therefore the Lord thy God commanded thee to keep the Sabbath day."

"Both these editions of the decalogue purport to be the very words of God to Moses, and the writer of each edition evidently has reference to the same time, when Moses was said to have stood before Jehovah, who had descended to the top of Mt. Sinai in a cloud, amid fire and smoke, and there to have received from the very mouth of God the commandments which were subsequently written on tables of stone. It has been insisted again and again during the present controversy that this divine commandment given by God to Moses had made the Sabbath sacred above all other days, and that work or social amusement on that day is therefore wrong. And yet these direct commandments of God, in the reasons which they give for themselves in God's own words, are almost contradiction each of the other. But can God contradict himself? And if not, which is the time and which the place? Did God institute the Sabbath in commemoration of his resting from his labors, or of his deliverance of the children of Israel from the land of bondage? "Unfortunately we have here no divinely appointed guide, but are kept to our own resources. We have therefore to the very outset, as it seems to me, an insurmountable obstacle to the theory that this was a divine command. But in order to get at more thoroughly the position of Sabbatarianism on this question, let us assume that this difference does not exist, and that as Bishop Gilbert said two weeks ago in the meeting at the People's church in St. Paul, Sunday is really God's day. Let us forget for a moment this fundamental contradiction which we have discovered at the outset, and consider the common orthodox conception of Sunday as the day set forth in Cruden's concordance: "At Mt. Sinai by a positive moral and perpetual commandment God hath appointed one day in the seven to be kept holy to himself; which in the New Testament is called the Lord's day, and is to be continued to the end of the world as the Christian Sabbath. He blessed this day and sanctified it, because he had rested upon it."

"In giving this as the prevailing orthodox conception I am aware that there are many professing orthodox who would dissent from Sabbath observance based upon such grounds. And yet no less an authority than the late learned and in many respects progressive president of Princeton college has said of the Sabbath (God) instituted it at the creation of the world as a day of rest, to commemorate His resting from the work of his creation. "It is of course needless for me to take the time today to attack a theory of creation which is exploded in every respectable text-book of science which has been written during the last twenty-five years. Those of you who listened to the admirable paper presented to the Unity club a month ago, on the scientific idea of the creation, and heard of the gradual unfolding, step by step, of this wonderful world of ours, a process of creation which has been going on during limitless ages without a single break, will smile at the idea of a Creator resting from His labors. And those of you who have come to believe in a God of infinite power and greatness will wonder at that conception of Him which would represent him as in need of rest after six days of labor. And yet when the fourth commandment proves itself to be a sufficient reason to our United States senators for closing the World's fair on Sunday, it seems to me that something of that conception of God must still adhere in their minds. "But here we meet with a curious inconsistency. For the so-called Mosaic law contained various other requirements about Sabbath observance which have been passed over entirely by those people of modern times who would construct the laws for the government of an American republic in accordance with Pentateuchal terms. It was distinctly stated as a commandment of Moses, professedly from him by God, "Ye shall kindle no fire throughout your habitations on the Sabbath day." And a command was given from the same source to observe the seventh month of the year as sacred, as well as the seventh day of the week. Furthermore, a complete rest from all labor was to be taken one year out of every seven. The book of Leviticus tells us that Jehovah spake unto Moses in Mt. Sinai, saying, "In the seventh year shall be a complete rest for the land, a Sabbath unto the Lord; thou shalt neither sow thy field nor prune thy vineyard. That which groweth of itself of thy harvest thou shalt not reap, and the grapes of thy undressed vine thou shalt not gather; it shall be a year of solemn rest for the land. I do not see how those who hold that Jewish legislation was binding for all time can explain their neglect in failing to observe the seventh month and the seventh year, as well as the seventh day. "But there is another difficulty involved in the supposition which has so often been taken for granted, and the regulations concerning the Sabbath were given to God by Moses. That difficulty lies in the fact that all the contemporaneous evidence goes to show us that no Sabbatical legislation was in existence among the Jews until long after Moses' death. This is not the place in which to enter into a discussion about the date of the Pentateuch, the greater part of which is now believed by the leading scholars to have been composed and put in its original form from 500 to 1000 years later than the events ascribed to Moses. I will give only one of the many reasons why the Sabbatical legislation could not have existed before the sixth century before the Christian era. In not a single one of the prophetic books composed before the exile is Sabbath observance insisted on, on the basis of the laws of Moses. And further than that, the pre-exilian prophets whose business it was to rebuke the people for their sins and to teach them the law of righteousness, have not a word to say about the Sabbath as an institution. Surely if it had existed as a sacred institution, the prophets would have been the very first to insist that it should be perpetuated. And their silence on this point speaks conclusively, as it seems to me, that it was a custom which did not come in until the return from captivity near the end of the sixth century B. C. as an importation from Babylon. "We have considered the first part of the assumption of Sabbatarianism, that Sabbath was given by God. Let us now glance at the second assumption which they seem quite unconsciously to make, viz, that our Sunday is the Jewish Sabbath. Cruden, in the passage which I quoted, says that the Sabbath which God appointed is in the New Testament called the Lord's day, and is to be continued to the end of the world as the Christian Sabbath. "An article in the December Forum by the Rev. J. W. Chadwick deals a death blow to the assumption that there is any real connection between the Jewish Sabbath and the Christian Sunday. It is a fact so well known that to mention it seems almost superfluous, that the Jewish Sabbath falls on Saturday, a day observed religiously by the Jews today as it was before the time of Christ. At that time it had become enveloped in such an amount of petty rules and regulations which the tradition of the scribes embodied, that Jesus felt constrained to violate the scribal Sabbath laws on several occasions. The words of my text give in a nutshell the impression of Sabbath observance which his life in Palestine had made upon him. "The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath." And as he went on to unfold more and more fully his conception of the kingdom of God, so different from their own, and was able to impress this conception upon their minds by his life among them, they came more and more to see how insignificant were the petty forms and ceremonies by which they had been bound, beside the high spiritual ideals which he laid before them. Undership his leadership we cannot wonder that Sabbath observance declined, however long it took to die out entirely among his followers. Paul was much more vigorous in putting aside the Jewish forms as things which had cultivated their usefulness. "Ye observe days and months and times and years," he tells them, "I am persuaded that I have bestowed upon you labor in vain."

"It is a familiar fact that the observance of the first day of the week

stituted by the followers of Jesus to commemorate what they believed to be his victory over death. None of the restrictions which surrounded the observance of the Jewish Sabbath were imposed on it. Its origin was entirely different. Not for a number of centuries did it become a day of rest. But it was from the beginning pre-eminently a day of joy. St. Ignatius, one of the earliest of the apostolic fathers, tells us that in his time the Lord's day was a day of feasting, and Tertullian, who came somewhat later, testifies that it was then deemed wicked to fast on the Lord's day. It was customary to come together Sunday mornings, hold a short meeting and then disperse. Later, when Christianity had become a state religion, compulsory rest was sometimes enforced by law, but never abstention from legitimate amusement. Centuries later, when in the time of Henry the Eighth Sunday observance had become attended with brutal excesses, the Puritan reaction set in and enforced a more strict observance by a set of rules, many of which still remain in force in various places. As a reaction from the former excesses, the Puritan Sunday was a vast improvement on the Sunday which had preceded it, but it was a far different kind of a day than the Jewish Sabbath or the Christian Sunday. In its present form it is only about three centuries old and is only observed where the Puritan sects have had especial influence. "Let us now recapitulate a little the different reasons which we have considered why it has been held that the World's fair should be closed on Sunday. (1) We saw that it was not a sufficient reason to close its doors to commemorate the deliverance of the Hebrews from the land of bondage, because that had nothing to do with the original establishment of Sunday observance, and is a reason which in any case would affect the Hebrews alone. (2) It should not be closed because God rested on the Sabbath day, for the reason that he never rested. (3) It should not be closed because of deference to any law which God has given about Sabbath observance to Moses, because he never had anything to say to Moses about the Sabbath. (4) We are not justified in closing it out of deference to the later Jewish law, because that law was formulated to meet the wants of a certain time, was in many respects a poor law for the Jewish theocracy, and would be a much poorer law for the American republic. (5) We should not close it out of deference to any New Testament commandment, because there is no New Testament commandment on the subject. "I have said all this to clear the ground of certain misconceptions which I find are still widely prevalent among those who have thus far made their influence most widely felt in settling this vexed problem. God forbid that I should say a single word to make Sunday any less a sacred day than it now is. Too many insidious forces are now at work to destroy its sacredness along with that of other days to permit the true friend of a Sunday properly observed to give them any direct or indirect assistance. But it is because I am perfectly sure that to single out any particular day of the week and to attempt to make that in any special sense 'God's day' will mean eventually to make the other days less sacred, that I make this plea against the encroachment of superstition upon the religious liberty of the American people.

"The observance of the day in the week as a day of rest and recreation has its foundation in a time far back than that of Moses, has come on down through the Hebrews and has fortified itself in the very nature of man. I believe that it is too deeply rooted ever to die out. I believe that the tender associations connected with Sunday, with its glad freedom from business vexations, its cheerful relaxations from the cares and troubles of the week, its reverent worship of all that is most worthy of worship in man and nature, and of the central unity which lies underneath them both, I believe that these will perpetuate our Christian Sunday and make it more and more helpful to us as we get more rational ideas of its origin and purpose. If legislation is necessary in order to prevent the rich and powerful from taking away this day of rest from those in their employ, then by all means let such legislation come. Let the World's fair laborer enjoy his rest one day in seven as well as his employer. But if the attempt succeeds to exclude all visitors from its precincts on the very day when the largest number will be free to go, then our country will have taken a step in the direction of religious intolerance which I am sure she will live to repent. The time when religion can be forced upon people is passed. An open fair on Sunday gives each man or woman the privilege of attending church which was possessed before. But to attempt to enforce church attendance by shutting out the great throng of visitors at Chicago from what they desire most to see, would be a specimen of religious oppression unworthy of our country. "The enormous vote which was given in the convention of the Societies of Christian Endeavor in favor of Sunday closing, is only one of many instances of the energy which is being shown by those in favor of such action. It behooves all who thoroughly believe that to act in this way would be to do an act of the grossest injustice to several millions of people who are unable to make themselves heard at Washington, to continue the campaign against such an encroachment. There is still an opportunity for a reversal of the vote in congress, large as was the majority by which that vote was passed. Let every friend of a rational Sunday observance be on the alert and embrace every opportunity to make it a day of recreation in the highest sense, instead of a day of debauchery which the increase of Sabbatarian laws will bring about."

A COMPLICATED CASE

The Pickard vs. Mountain Habeas Corpus Case Taken Up Before Judge Ensign This Morning.

Mrs. Pickard is Trying to Secure Possession of Her Child, But the Father Objects.

The Woman's History Shows Some Unfortunate Difficulties in Connection With Her Marriages.

The interesting habeas corpus case of Pickard vs. Mountain is now on before Judge Ensign and is attracting considerable attention. Mrs. Pickard is trying to get the court to order Mrs.
Mountain to give into her keeping a 3-year-old female child by the name of Vera Hay, which she gave to Mrs.
Mountain some months ago because she was not able to support it.

The allegation in the complaint is that the child is the fruit of an illegal marriage of the plaintiff to William Hay,
"though no fault of the plaintiff." This rather ambiguous statement is explained
by the testimony which shows that Mrs.
Caryl-Hay-Pickard was married to Sir John or "Jack" Caryl in Toronto some years ago. This first husband was something of a sports and mingled up considerably with horses and women, went back to England and was lost sight of
and was eventually reported as dead.

Thinking that Caryl was dead the woman married William Hay and moved to Duluth. She became efficient and, while in this condition was informed that her first husband had just died in the Joliet, Ill., prison. She immediately told
Mr. Hay, who in turn said, "Then you are not my wife, and we will have to be married over again," or words to that effect. The parties did not marry again and the expected child proved to be a girl, the one now in dispute, and the father went to St. Paul while the mother remained here and gave away the child
as stated.

Mr. Hay eventually, for reasons which are not stated, refused, to have anything more to do with Mrs. Caryl-Hay and was weary of living alone married another man named Pickard, under which name
she asks the interposition of a writ of habeas corpus.

The second husband, the second husband, unexpectedly turned up during the trial and says he is perfectly willing to have the child, Vera Hay, remain in the custody of Mrs. Mountain.
Mrs. Pickard is a rather pretty woman and won some distinction during the British expedition into Egypt by accompanying the Canadian contingent as far as Khartoum in the capacity of a Red Cross nurse, winning a medal and honorable distinction for her attention to duty. Wm. Hay, or husband No. 2, is a well known printer and is foreman
in a St. Paul publishing house. This case is being brought on by the case is still on this afternoon.

Dr. Charest's Mishap.
Dr. Charest met with a mishap last evening while coming from Duluth. He was driving with a lady and gentleman,
shortly after dark when the slight capsized in a snow bank and the horse became frightened and ran away. The party were then obliged to take a street car and make their way home. At last accounts nothing has been seen or heard of either horse or cutter by the owner
and the doctor is quite anxious about his property.

WHEAT DULL AND HIGHER.
Business Was Light Today on the Duluth
Market of Trade.

The wheat market today opened strong and higher than Saturday for May and rail-dull, advancing to more on moderate trading before noon, with small transactions for July delivery at 34c up. A storm around Chicago and extending westward curtailed the supply
from outside markets. The close was dull and steady at 34c higher than Saturday, as follows:

The great object of advertising is not only

To Gain Custom, BUT
To Keep Customer

A merchant should always be able to back up and make good every public announcement. An advertised specialty at a low price indicates but does not guarantee that everything else sold is a bargain. Give careful consideration as well to articles which are not advertised. It is there you will find proof of the genuineness of our bargain declarations.

We Exhibit

In our mammoth warehouses, an assortment of

Carpets, Furniture,
Crockery,
And Other
House Furnishing Goods

Not Duplicated at the Head of the Lakes.

We Sell on Easy Payments When Desired.
Do you need accommodations? Have you given this method of our business your consideration? It is reasonable. It is just and equitable. Our books contain the names of the best customers of Duluth, who have availed themselves of its advantages. We ask a payment of $1.00 on $25.00 bought, $3.00 on $50.00 bought, $6.00 on $100.00 bought, $9.00 on $150.00 bought. NO INTEREST CHARGED!

IN THE LEGISLATURE

Senator McMillan Wants Date of Final Adjournment of Legislature Settled for March 22.

Bill Introduced to Restrict Newspaper Reporters to Be Present at the Executions in This State.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 7.—[Special to The Herald.]—A joint resolution was introduced by Mr. McMillan in the senate today providing that both houses adjourn sine die on March 22 at noon, and fixing March 1 as the last day on which bills can be introduced into the legislature. The resolution was referred to the committee on rules.

The following bills were introduced: By Mr. McMillan, a bill to amend the law relating to public trusts.

Mr. Keller brought in a bill for an act to appropriate money to build a bridge across Sauk river at Sauk Center.

Mr. Tawney, a bill relating to duties of county auditors.

Mr. Day, a bill for an act to provide for the erection of grain elevators at railway sidings or stations and for securing sites for the same.

John Day Smith introduced a bill to amend procedure and assess costs in civil actions.

Mr. Dedon, a bill to appropriate $10,000 to make swamp land selections for the state and $5000 to be used in examination of state swamp lands in the Duluth district.

Mr. Tawney introduced a bill to relieve certain property from double taxation.

The following bills have just been passed by the senate: McMillan, fixing boundary lines; McMillan's bill requiring county auditors to give notice of expiration of time for redemption of lands from tax sale; Davis' bill relating to posts and monuments fixed on boundary lines; Canister's bill for a permanent corporation of villages; Leavitt's bill for a tax on inheritances; Sanborn's probate code bill; and Nelson's bill repealing the special act fixing the salaries of the probate court of Goodhue.

In the house this morning a bill was introduced by Moore to accept the land grant from the United States contained in the Itasca state park and providing penalties for cutting or injuring timber growing in the park.

Mr. Washburn introduced a bill making it obligatory on boards of trustees and school boards to take a census of all the children between the ages of 5 and 11 in their districts in alternate years beginning in 1893.

Mr. Staples introduced a bill providing that a township shall not have more than two mills nor more than twenty on the dollar should be levied to build roads and bridges.

Mr. Henrich introduced a bill amending the execution law for capital offenses so as to allow reporters of newspapers to be present and to provide for permanent gallows at Stillwater where all executions shall take place.

Mr. Scofield introduced a bill defining the word "apparatus" so as to make it include free text books and supplies for class work, in the statutes defining the duties of school boards.

Mr. Noyes introduced a bill to apply all monies derived from liquor licenses to the construction of good roads.

CHARTERS FOR THE CITIES.

A Company of Lawyers to Aid in Preparing a Suitable Measure.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 7.—The members of the house who represent city constituencies were much relieved by the opinion of the attorney general yesterday, stating that there is nothing in the constitution which prohibits them from dividing cities into classes according to population.

It gives the committee on municipal legislation an opportunity to go ahead intelligently with its work and formulate a general bill for the government of cities, and there will be little excuse for further delay in getting down to work.

The members of the house committee on municipal legislation all met to-night to hear a delegation from the interior of the state, which will be present to tell what it wants to have incorporated into a general law governing cities and towns. The program of the house committee has been changed, and it will, by request, act with the senate committee and engage a company of lawyers to draft a charter bill.

This committee will consist of D. F. Simpson and R. D. Russell, of Minneapolis; T. D. Merwin, of St. Paul; and the city attorneys of Duluth and several other towns. It will come together at the capital and work under the direction of the joint committee on municipal legislation. By March 1 it is expected to have a bill drawn and it will be introduced into both houses and pushed through. A bill prepared in this way will have the united support of the two committees, and, according to Mr. Howard, chairman of the house committee, he is likely to go through without opposition.

Mr. Howard, by the way, is opposed to division of the cities into classes as provided in the Winston bill, and prefers instead the Illinois plan. In that state there is one general law which applies to Chicago and to the smallest hamlet in the state. "Under such a plan," says Mr. Howard, "the law must be made very general and increased power must be placed in the hands of city councils."

RAIATED A Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The senate has ratified the Russian extradition treaty with amendments.

The amendment made to the Russian treaty makes all attempts to assassinate the czar or members of the royal family an extraditable offense, regardless of motive.

CAUSED BY BAD WHISKY.

The Emute of the Indians at Pine Ridge Agency.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 7.—Gen. Wesley Merritt, commanding the department of Dakota, was seen yesterday afternoon at his office in St. Paul and was asked for news from Pine Ridge agency, where the emute of the renegade Indians is reported to have occurred. The general said:

"I have heard nothing more than has been reported in the dispatches. As a surmise, I should say that the probabilities were that the men whom the Indians killed were fellows who were trying to get what they could out of them by fraud and chicanery, the Indians having had a pay day not long before. They very likely had some social relations with these Indians, and sharp practice and bad whisky may have had something to do with the tragedy. This has struck me as the possible solution of the trouble."

"When trouble like this occurs, the agent has recourse to his police, reporting to the interior department at Washington, and if troops are needed we are ordered from Washington to send them to the scene of trouble. In case of emergency the department commander is asked directly for troops by the agent because he may, if it seems best, send them more promptly."

"Pine Ridge is in the department of the Platte, commanded by Gen. Brooks at Omaha, and not in my department. Troops could be quickly forwarded from either department."

More is Another Story.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 7.—A United States officer from the black hills country was in the city yesterday. He says the reports of the late troubles at Pine Ridge have been edited and colored by Agent Brown to suit his purpose, and that the trouble is really very serious.

Dancing is going on all over the reservation, he says, and the four cowboys were killed as a result of it. The cold weather alone prevents an outbreak, which is almost certain to occur in the spring. The settlers are alarmed and want troops placed on the reservation at once.

WERE BURNED TO DEATH.

The Horrible Fate of Conductor Crawford and Brakeman Quinlan on the Fargo & Southwestern Road.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 7.—A special to the Dispatch from Fargo says the passenger train on the Fargo & Southwestern road arriving this morning brought in two dead bodies.

A snow plow with engine, tender and caboose was running ahead of the passenger train. Near Sheldon the tender broke away from the engine, and the caboose left the track and ran down an embankment. The car caught fire and was destroyed.

The three train men could not get out of the caboose. William G. Crawford and Brakeman W. J. Quinlan were burned to death in sight of the passenger train crew, which had arrived and were powerless to do anything for them. Tom Smith, the third man in the caboose, was seriously injured, but will recover.

FUNERAL OF MRS. WHITNEY.

The Church Was Beautifully Decorated With Mazes of Flowers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The funeral of Mrs. William C. Whitney, wife of the ex-secretary of the navy, was held at St. Bartholomew's church, corner of Forty-fourth street and Madison avenue, this morning. Mrs. Whitney's body was removed from the room where she died and placed in one of the lower parlors, where it lay until 10 o'clock.

Friends of the family, together with the pallbearers, gathered at the residence and proceeded from there to the church. The chance of the church and the space around the altar was banked deep with palms and lilies of the valley.

The reading desk and pulpit were lost in wreaths of chrysanthemums and lilies, interspersed with splashes of red and white. The pulpit itself was festooned with white and crimson roses. The central piece in the mass of flowers bore the words: "Consecrated by God" in purple letters on a white ground.

THE HOUSE WAS DEMOLISHED.

Six People Seriously Injured by Explosion of Dynamite.

SHERMAN, Tex., Feb. 7.—James Zebastian, a farmer living a few miles west of here, brought home some dynamite to clear his land. Yesterday while Dan Brewer and William Denton were at Zebastian's house in the same room with the Zebastian family, Zebastian dropped a stick of it on the stove, with the result that the house was demolished and burned.

Everyone in the room was injured, and only by the hard work of neighbors were the inmates saved from being burned to death. Brewer's eyes were burned out and one of his cheeks was blown off, and his wife and three children were seriously injured.

A National University.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The bill to establish a national university introduced in the house by Gen. Hooker, of Mississippi, is almost identical to that offered in the senate by Mr. Proctor, of Vermont. It provides for a post graduate, non-sectarian and non-partisan university of highest rank, with endowed fellowships for scientific research, with facilities for utilizing the scientific collections and forces at the capital, grants the grounds set apart for a national university by President Washington and appropriates half the net proceeds of the public lands for support of the institution.

On Sunday Opening.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The question of opening the World's fair on Sundays is still undecided by the house committee on the Colombian exposition. A meeting for the consideration of the matter was called for this morning, but owing to the early meeting of the house, a quorum failed to appear and nothing was accomplished.

IS SOLD AT LAST

President Van Horn Close a Deal for the Purchase of the North Star Construction Company.

The Canadian Pacific Has Also Purchased the Superior Belt Line & Terminal Company.

Contracts to Be Let Monday for Fifteen Hundred Feet More of Dock Room on Allouez Bay.

Extension of the Road to the Boundary May Be Looked for in the Near Future.

The Herald received late this afternoon, reliable and authentic information that the Canadian Pacific railroad has closed a deal for the purchase of the North Star Construction company and also the Superior Belt Line & Terminal railway. The deal was closed in St. Paul a few days ago by President Van Horn and this explains the purpose of his visit to Duluth last week and his subsequent trip to St. Paul with General Manager Clarke, of the Consolidated Land company, which owns the Superior Belt Line & Terminal company.

The purchase of the North Star Construction company gives the Canadian Pacific control of the Duluth & Winnipeg railway, which it has long been after. Duluth may congratulate herself that the deal has been brought about for it means the consummation of some very aggressive plans on the part of the Canadian Pacific in which Duluth will figure greatly.

On Monday contracts will be let for 1500 feet more of dock room on Allouez bay. The extension of the road to the boundary may also be looked for in the very near future.

JACK CLIFFORD'S TRIAL.

The Case Will Go to the Jury this Evening.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7.—At the opening of the Jack Clifford trial this morning, P. H. McElroy, vice president of the Amalgamated association, was put on the stand as an additional alibi witness. He said he went to Homestead on the afternoon of July 1 to the factory of Amalgamated hall about 2 o'clock.

Defendant Clifford was placed on the stand and said he was engaged as a police officer from July 1 to the 6th of the borough of Homestead; that he had not been near the Carnegie plant from 2 a. m. till noon on July 6. This ended the testimony of the defense rested its case. The court allowed two hours for each side to address the jury.

Thomas F. Marshall, one of the attorneys for Clifford, filed two law points which he wanted incorporated in the court's charge to the jury, to one of which the defense took exception. Attorney John D. Robb then opened the argument. He was followed by Attorney Erwin. Mr. Marshall will also speak for the defense, and District Attorney Barleigh will make the closing address. The case will go to the jury this evening.

A POPULIST ELECTED.

The Nebraska Legislature Elected Allen as United States Senator.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 7.—Allen (Populist) was elected United States senator this morning, receiving 70 votes, four more than necessary to a choice.

All the Democrats voted solidly for Allen and he was cheered heartily. When the result of the ballot had been declared, Senator Taft (Rep.) moved to adjourn. This was taken as an insult to the senator-elect and Taft was hissed.

Church Howe (Rep.) sprang to his feet and made a strong speech in favor of courtesy to Allen and the honor of the state. A committee was appointed to escort Allen to the hall. He came and made a brief speech in which he promised conservative action. Further than this he made no promises. All the Democrats were congratulated by the independents, as soon as the vote was announced.

William Vincent Allen was born at Midway, Madison county, Ohio, Jan. 28, 1847. He is a man of commanding presence and much magnetism. In 1856 he moved from Ohio to Iowa and at the age of 15 years he enlisted from the latter state in the war of the rebellion. He carried a musket which was nearly as big as himself for three years. He then returned to Iowa and studied law. Nine years ago he came to Nebraska, locating at Madison, Madison county, his present home. He is at present judge of the Ninth judicial district.

Hon. O. F. Perkins Dead.

NORTHFIELD, Minn., Feb. 7.—Hon. O. F. Perkins died here Sunday night at 12 o'clock of heart failure, 63 years of age. He was the first lawyer to settle in Rice county, coming here in 1854. He was a member of the constitutional convention in 1857 and held several public offices, being county attorney four years, prosecuting attorney for this judicial district and a member of the legislature in 1867. He had been president of the board of education during the past year.

Phelps Confirmed.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 7.—The senate this noon confirmed all the nominations made by Governor Werts last week including that of William Walter Phelps to be lay judge of the court of errors and appeals. There was no opposition whatever to Mr. Phelps and his confirmation was by unanimous vote.

A TERRIFIC COLLISION

The Worcester Train on the Old Colony Road, was Run Into by a Local Freight.

Several Passengers Were All More or Less Injured and One, It Is Expected, Will Die.

The Freight Engine Upset, One Car Thrown On Its Side and Another Stood On End.

LEOMINSTER, Mass., Feb. 7.—The Worcester train on the Old Colony road was disabled last night near Leominster Center by a broken wheel and was run into by a local freight that was following it. The collision was terrific. The engine of the freight train crashed into the rear passenger car, which was empty, driving it into the combination baggage and smoking car in front of it, badly wrecking that and the next passenger car, and forcing the whole train nearly 200 feet along the track.

In the forward passenger car were several passengers who were all more or less injured, one, it is believed, fatally. The freight engine was separated from its tender which was turned bottom side up beside the track, the first car of the freight was thrown upon its side, the second one was driven into the adjoining field, while a third car stood end on end, all being totally wrecked.

George Luke had his face burned, leg broken and scalp cut, and his recovery is doubtful. The rest were not seriously injured.

OVER AN EMBANKMENT.

Wreck on the Union Pacific Caused by Spreading Rails.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Feb. 7.—George Hapen, a Minneapolis traveling man, who was on the train which was wrecked on the Union Pacific road yesterday, arrived in this city last evening. He states that the wreck was caused by spreading rails. He was in the second section east-bound, when the rails began to spread.

The engine and mail car passed over the dangerous place in safety. The smoker left the rails and carried a chair car with it. These lost about fifty feet and went down a fifty-foot embankment. Following is a list of the casualties:

Mrs. Egan and three children, of Chicago, bruises and internal injuries; J. C. Rodell, Minneapolis, Minn., badly injured in the hips and internally; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Babst, Chicago, injured seriously in back and internally; J. Hahn, New York, hand broken; baggageman Danielson, senior, cut, bruised and burned. Fifteen others were badly injured.

THE MINORITY PROTEST.

A Report Against Creating a Permanent Census Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Mr. Fithian, of Indiana, of the committee on census, has made a minority report protesting against the passage of the bill reported favorably from the committee providing for a permanent census bureau. The present census office, he says, is divided into twenty-two divisions, all of which should be eliminated.

Many of the statistics taken under the present census are of no value, and the cost of reports made by other bureaus. The census office has been enlarged from time to time, more to create offices and salaries than for legitimate purposes. Consequently the census has become a jumble of figures and irrelevant inquiries, filling volumes which make their appearance so late that they are only used for waste paper.

It is estimated that the cost of maintaining a permanent census bureau would not exceed $200,000 a year. The minority claim it would be treble this amount. Messrs. Baker, of Kansas, and Lawson, of Georgia, sign the report with Mr. Fithian.

FIVE SAILORS DROWNED.

Wreck of a Norwegian Bark on the New Jersey Coast.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Superintendent Havens, of the Fourth district life saving service at Point Pleasant, reports that the Norwegian bark Alice, capt. Jacobson, from Dunkirk, Dec. 21 for New York in ballast came ashore at 9:30 last night at Long Beach, N. J., life saving station.

Before an attempt was made to rescue the crew by the life saving station, five of the crew of the bark attempted to land in their own boat but it was capsized in the surf and all were drowned. The life-saving station finally succeeded in getting a line attached to the bark, and by use of the breeches buoy rescued the eleven remaining members of the crew, including the captain.

The bark's forecast is gone and she will probably prove a total loss. The Alice is a double-deck vessel of 777 tons, 164 feet long, 35 feet breadth of beam. She was built in Maine in 1865 and is owned by the captain. Her home port is Arendal, a seaport of Norway.

World's Fair Appointment.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Director General Davis yesterday appointed Gilbert Dods, of Detroit, to be superintendent of installation in manufacturers' hall. Dods was general manager of the Detroit exhibition for several years and was afterwards connected with the fair at Buffalo. He will begin work at once.

HOT SHOT FOR CLARKSON.

Gen. Noble Touches Up His Management of the Campaign.

St. Louis, Feb. 7.—Gen. John W. Noble, secretary of the interior, is here and when asked as to Clarkson's bitter assault on President Harrison he said: "There, I do not want to be drawn into political interviews, at least not till after March 4. I will say, however, that I think Clarkson is very unwise in calling the attention of the country to a campaign between himself and the president. Harrison is infinitely a great man."

"As to the amiable remark of Clarkson that all the president's cabinet except Blaine were unfit to manage a county committee in an Indiana political campaign, I'll say if I could not manage a campaign in Indiana or elsewhere better than he managed the last one I would quit the business and not only quit but keep my mouth closed."

Gen. Noble said he had no doubt that the senate would confirm the appointment of Judge Jackson.

ACTION WAS POSTPONED.

Judge Jackson's Nomination Before the Senate Committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The senate judiciary committee yesterday took up the nomination of Judge Jackson, but its consideration was postponed until next Monday, on account of objections made by Democratic members.

It is understood that at the next meeting of the committee an effort will be made to cause the nomination to be favorably reported to the senate. After the assembling of the senate Associate Justice Brown, of the supreme court, appeared on the floor and held a brief conference with Mr. Hoar, chairman of the judiciary committee.

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION.

Leaky Mains Caused a Fatality and Loss of Railroad Cars.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7.—An explosion of natural gas at Wildwood station, on the Pittsburgh & Western railway, resulted in the burning fatality of a car inspector, the destruction of a number of loaded freight cars and the trestle upon which the cars were standing.

The mains of the natural gas company are under the trestle. The leaky gas ignited by the inspector's torch. The Allegheny city fire department went to the scene and worked until 4:30 o'clock in the morning before the flames were extinguished. The loss to the railroad company will amount to several thousand dollars.

COLD WEATHER IN IOWA.

He then gradually became a Conservative. He was the author of a pamphlet on Oliver Cromwell, a pamphlet on the Transvaal and of various stories of a light character. His son, Lord Edward, succeeded to the peerage.

Regarded as a Fake.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 7.—The wrestling match between E. J. McKean, shortstop of the Cleveland baseball club, and Al Woods, a local athlete of considerable notoriety, took place before a large crowd of sports in a Bank street hall last night. The conditions were that there were to be an hour of continuous wrestling, no hold barred. About fifteen minutes McKean gave up the contest and Woods was declared to have won the $2000 bet. The affair was generally regarded as a fake.

A Paper Company's Failure.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—A special to the World from Niagara Falls, N. Y., says: The Niagara Wood Paper company has failed. The collapse was caused by a contract bank obtaining a judgment for nearly $150,000. The sheriff has taken possession of the plant. The liabilities are about $200,000. The assets will probably amount to a third over $100,000.

Many Lives Lost.

WOMEN WILL LIKE IT

And No One Will Think of Blaming Them.

Perfectly Right that Women Should Regard Their Complexion.

And This is So Much Better and Such an Excellent Way.

We believe it perfectly right that women should regard their complexion. Nothing makes them more beautiful. We take pleasure, therefore, in publishing the following letter to women written by that most popular and brilliant newspaper correspondent, Miss J. Holland, of 39 West Twenty-sixth street, New York city. Miss Holland is a noted and gifted writer, and her regular communications and articles in the New York World, Home Journal, Cleveland Tribune and other papers and magazines, will be remembered most pleasantly. She writes for our paper as follows:

"So many friends ask how it is that I am always in such good health and spirits, and have a complexion that requires no cosmetics. I would like to state for the benefit of many besides friends that I owe it all to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy."

"Several years ago a severe illness left me weak and unable to do my work. I might linger for a time but would never recover."

"I then began taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. In a week, much to the surprise of all, I was much better, and in a month I was out shopping and going into society like never before."

"I then took several bottles of this medicine, and after taking them my constitution was so thoroughly built up, although I have since passed through severe mental strains from the loss of dear ones by death, I have never been sick since."

MISS J. HOLLAND.

"Whenever I begin to feel over-taxed, mentally or physically, I take this remedy, and to keep in perfect health and spirits. I find it makes the skin soft and wonderfully improves the complexion. It increases the appetite and produces natural and healthy blood. This testimony is gratefully and willingly given in the hopes that it will benefit others. I will gladly communicate with those desiring it, substantiating this."

"Now, leaving aside the question of good health, strength and spirits, how much better it is for women to keep their complexion pure and clear, their cheeks plump and rosy and their eyes bright by the use of this wonderful vitalizer and invigorator for blood and nerves, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. The testimony of thousands of women corroborates the words of Miss Holland. All druggists keep this remedy for $1, and it is purely vegetable and harmless."

In fact, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the prescription and discovery of a physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West Tenth street, New York. The successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted in any case free of charge, personally or by letter.

AN INDIAN LETTER.

Methods of Communication Among the Indians.

The Picturesque of Eloquence.—Thoughts Expressed in Silence.—How Indian History is Preserved.—Letter from an Indian about Kickapoo Indian Sagwa.

The sign language of the Indians is a wonderful thing. Two Indians different in their speech as a German and a Spaniard will readily communicate with each other. It is the picturesqueness of eloquence to watch an Indian addressing a council and without speaking a word, making his meaning clear to all present by signs.

Histories and all written communications are made by pictures. The family history of a chief will be painted on a tape. The following is a specimen of this method of communication.

The letter was written by KENZELANWA, "The one who knows secrets," a Kickapoo Indian Medicine Man.

SAGWA

SPECIMEN OF INDIAN LETTER WRITING.

The above letter translates as follows: "The Indians offer to their white brothers horses, horses, roots and herbs, made by the sun, the stars, and the rain (nature). If the white brother is sick, this will make him stronger than the bear who will fall before him." "Sagwa" is a medicine word meaning good or best, and signifies "best medicine." "Here is proof of the genuine value of a Kickapoo Indian Sagwa."

Catlin, the highest authority on the Indians and who lived among them for years, have a word of an Indian can always be relied upon, and he is right. Here is proof of the genuine value of a Kickapoo Indian Sagwa.

"After a chemical analysis of Indian Sagwa, I find it to be an Extract of Roots, Herbs and Herbs of valuable Remedial Action with no Mineral or other Detestable Ingredients."

Read the teachings of these letters. Take Nature's remedy in season. If your blood is impure and your skin is marked by pimples, blotches and boils; if you have dandruff on your scalp; if your appetite is poor; if you do not get the best results from your food; if your health and strength are in danger; if you have any of the symptoms are the warnings of nature.

Arouse yourself, and drive the enemy—Aim yourself with Kickapoo Indian Sagwa—Build up your system by its use and all danger is averted.

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa and other Kickapoo vegetable roots and herbs, made by the sun, the stars, and the rain (nature), are free from all mineral poisons whatever, because the Indians have no knowledge of them, depending wholly upon nature's laboratory for their remedies, and upon their skill, born of centuries of experience.

SEVERAL BIG LUMBER DEALS.

Extensive Shipments to be Made by Lake This Year.

A sale of 6,000,000 feet of high grade lumber was made by Bradley & Hanford to Noyes & Sawyer, of Buffalo. The same firm has also purchased some 3,000,000 feet from the Howe Lumber company, all for water shipment East next season.

The Cranberry Lumber company, which last year sent an even 12,000,000 feet of high grade stuff by water to South America, is figuring on another big lot of the same class to the same destination. This timber will be shipped to Duluth by rail, to New York by canal and to Rio by Atlantic steamer.

The plaintiff asked that this order be rescinded as he had received notice and made no appearance at the time the order was issued.

THE MISSABE ANNUAL

Meeting of the Stockholders of the Road
This Morning and Election of Directors.

Merritt Interests Control in the Directorate
—Alfred Merritt Elected President—Other Officers.

Lon Merritt Makes a Plain Statement as to the Merritt Interests in the Road.

The annual meeting of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway was held this morning at the offices in the Lyceum building. All of the stock of the road, something over 18,000 shares was represented at the meeting except the interest of M. E. Clapp, about 250 shares. George L. Dunn, the St. Paul attorney, represented the Foley Bros. & Guthrie interests, about 1300 shares. He refused to vote the shares however, and took no part in the election.

The following directors were unanimously elected: Leonidas Merritt, Alfred Merritt, C. C. Merritt, N. B. Merritt, John E. Merritt, Alexander McDougall, A. D. Thompson, C. W. Wetmore, and W. W. Henry. The minutes for the year were read which occupied three or four hours time.

The directors met this afternoon, and elected the following officers: President, Alfred Merritt; vice president, Lon Merritt; secretary, S. K. Payne; treasurer, C. C. Merritt. All are re-elections with the exception of the president.

There have been so many conflicting stories in connection with the recent troubles in the road and so much speculation as to who really is in control now that Lon Merritt makes the following statement:

"Events have quite plainly shown that previous to the recent changes in stock and at the time of the beginning of the fight the Merritts were in control. Now, the Chas. and Grants received $25,000 for their 2000 shares. Of this the Merritt interests took one-half and the American Steel Large company—Rockefeller interests took the other half. Of the $25,000 worth of treasury stock sold at par for cash, the Merritts bought $300,000 and the New York, or Rockefeller interests as some call it, took $200,000. This leaves the Merritts and their associates in Duluth with a much greater proportional interest than they had before.

THE CITY ELECTION.

One of the Most Quiet Ever Held in Duluth—No Excitement.

There has been very little to indicate today that a city election is in progress. Occasionally a team might be seen with a label advising the wavering voter to cast his ballot for some particular individual but there has been no noise or excitement. The Fourth ward has been very quiet and the vote will be light. In the Third there has been considerable hustling mainly by the Sullivan and Getty men. In the Fifth ward, as predicted, a lively fight is being waged. In the Second ward also matters are somewhat interesting, but elsewhere there seem to be no very sharp contests.

That barometer of public events, the city hall, has only too clearly proven that a municipal election is quietly but effectively claiming the attention of patriots and politicians in Duluth. Frank Burke opened up his office early in the morning, complied with the requests of a few look-alikes to look at the records, told a story or two, fixed up a skeleton table to enable him to arrange easily and quickly the returns this evening and then disappeared with his office key in his pocket. Joel J. Squier was not even hammering out type written sheets on his Remington, but escaped the surrounding quiet by going up to the district court.

City Attorney Smith was watching the progress of election around the corner of some sequestered building with an anxious eye. Tom Clark was guarding the ballot box out in his ward and Judge Powell did not even attempt to open municipal court, which compelled four drunks to spend another day in the city jail, but enabled Deputy Clerk Tischart to sleep an hour longer and dream of the pleasures he had at the policeman's ball last night.

Fred Voss and W. G. Ten Brook bore faces devoid of anxiety and complacently looked forward to another term of office, gained without opposition. Uncle "Jimmy" Smith slowly figured on city assessments and with a skeptical smile occasionally glanced across the street at the team clothed in blankets bearing the injunction "Vote for Sullivan." Dr. C. H. dropped in, kicked on the weather, instructed John Kossiter in matters of record of babies born and humanity deceased, and then quietly dropped out to stick in a vote for his preferred candidate, home and native land.

Tom Walsh locked up the fire commissioners' records, the mayor's office, after strolled over to the Temple to look for illiterate homesteaders seeking some clerical-looking young man to make out final proof papers. Janitor O'Brien deliberately attended the furnace fires and the steam puffed and sizzled lazily out of the radiators. Reporters looked in vain for some juicy items, and dull sloth and masterly inactivity claimed that entire vicinity for its own. That is the way election affected matters at the city hall.

WANT FREE INTERCHANGE.

Real Estate Exchange Resolves Against Canal Discriminations.

The Duluth real estate exchange adopted a resolution yesterday afternoon in reference to alleged discriminations against the United States in taxing commodities passing through the Welland canal. It recites the fact that the free interchange of commodities between Canada and the United States is to be desired and that this country has always admitted them free through her canals whereas Canada collects a toll at the Welland canal. The secretary of state is requested to take such action as he may deem advisable to bring about a change.

The resolution was offered by W. B. Silvey and unanimously adopted. Some routine business was also transacted by the exchange.

WANT ANOTHER JUDGE.

The Bar Association Will Draft a Memorial to the Legislature.

Previous to the opening of the district court this morning W. W. Billson called the members of the bar to order and stated that the time was quite opportune to consider the question of what action the bar of St. Louis county should take looking toward the securing of a third judge for this district. He thought while there were so many members of the bar present that a more vigorous and united expression could be heard. Mr. Billson was chosen chairman and F. Crossweller secretary, and after some few remarks, D. G. Cash offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, that it is the sense of the bar of St. Louis county that every effort should be made to secure an additional judge at the present session of the legislature."

It was then moved by John G. Williams that a committee of three, one of whom should be the chairman, should be appointed to draft a memorial to the legislature on the subject and personally carry it down and present it to that body. Chairman Billson will make his appointments this evening.

THIS WEEK! THIS WEEK!

A Chance to Buy Dry Goods of the Very Best Character, at Prices LESS Than the Wholesale Price.

The past two week's sales of Dry Goods that have been going on, the real merit of which, to say the least, is an imposition on the people that go there to trade. Discarded, shopworn and utterly worthless goods, and the bulk of the goods that have been put on sale at good sound figures. The great advertising that these sales have received did attract many of our customers to those places, if not for any other reason, out of curiosity sake. We are here to do business with a large, painfully selected stock and not suffer to lose even a single customer, no matter at what sacrifice we have to do it. We have, therefore, determined to offer the people of Duluth and vicinity such great inducements and values this week which will give them the greatest opportunity to buy FIRST-CLASS DRY GOODS, at prices that will demonstrate to them that we are determined to hold their patronage at any cost.

This Great Sale Will Commence Tomorrow, and Last All the Rest of This Week.

A Big Four Passenger Train Wrecked by a Broken Rail and Thrown From a Small Trestle.

Baggageman Charles Ressler, of Indianapolis, Was Killed and Thirty-one Passengers Injured.

Ressler Was Pinioned Beneath Masses of Trunks and Burned to Death in Plain View.

A Corpse of a Man That Was in the Baggage Car Cremated Before the Widow's Eyes.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 8.—The Big Four passenger train No. 12, which left here
at 7:55 last night in charge of Conductor Fitzgerald, was wrecked by a broken rail
one mile east of Pana, Ill., at 11:10 last night. Baggageman Charles Ressler, of Indianapolis, was killed. Thirty-one passengers were injured. The train consisted of eight coaches, including baggage and mail car. The wreck was caused by a broken rail which was affected by the extreme cold weather.

The accident occurred on a small trestle which spans a creek. The engine passed over in safety but the entire train
left the rails and immediately caught fire. The mail car, which was next to the engine, was the first to ignite and it was burning split completely in two.
The express car and the two day coaches
were thrown from the trestle a distance
at least of thirty feet. The rest of the cars were saved by an embankment on the opposite side of the ditch, otherwise
the death toll would have been horrible.
The passengers in the day coaches were rescued with great difficulty by the trainmen and uninjured passengers.

The following is a list of the injured:
Samuel O. Doolittle, Madison, Ind., express messenger; C. H. Barr, St.
Louis, express messenger, badly injured;
A. M. Travers, Cincinnati, slightly bruised; Samuel Cohen, Houston, Tex., hurt about the head; — Fox, bruised
about the head and shoulders; Mrs.
Armstrong, Birmingham, Ind., internal injuries; Mail Agents Conway and Dewitz, hurt about the head; Mrs.
Laughlin, Cleveland, slightly injured;
Charles W. Conley, Alma, Kas., cut in head; James Carroll, Alma, Kas., bruised and cut; Charles H. Fox, Tiffin, O., internal injuries; H. M. Hubbard, St.
Louis, injured in back and head; James
M. Nichols, Matouana, Ill., badly bruised; Mrs. Steel, resident unknown, probably fatally injured; Matthew J. Banner, Pawtucket, R. I., slightly injured; W. T.
Muss, St. Louis, hand cut and back injured.

Several other passengers whose names
could not be learned were slightly injured. All the bed clothing in the sleeping car was utilized for the comfort and warmth of the women and children.
Baggageman Ressler was pinioned between the mass of trunks and burned to death in sight of the train men and passengers, who were unable to rescue him.

Mrs. Laughlin was traveling with the corpse of her husband, which was in the baggage car. The corpse was cremated.
Mrs. Laughlin's four children were slightly injured. The weather was very cold and the wounded suffered greatly from exposure in addition to their injuries.

The Ohio & Mississippi railroad sent a special train of two cars to the wreck and brought the injured passengers to Pana, where they were taken to the St.
James hotel, where they are being properly cared for by physicians of Pana and Tower Hill.

Mrs. Laughlin was in the fourth coach.
All her children were burned, bruised
and cut about their faces and hands.
The corpse of her husband was cremated before her eyes. She was taking the body home for burial. Strange to say Laughlin was hurt in a railroad wreck at Leavenworth, Kas., about two weeks ago, and died at Kansas City in the railroad hospital.

TWO DOCTORS ARRESTED.
Charged With Performing Criminal Operations
on a Girl.
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The Sun says
this morning: Maggie Manson is dangerously ill at the residence of Dr. Sara R. Chase, 231 West Thirty-ninth street, of blood poisoning, and says that a series
of criminal operations have been performed on her in the past two weeks.

In an ante-mortem statement made last night to Coroner Schutt, she said that Florence F. Donovan, whose successor as a member of the state board of mediation and arbitration was appointed recently by Governor Flower, is responsible for her condition. She says that he gave her $100 of the $150 which she paid
to have the operation performed.

On the strength of her statement the coroner last night had Dr. Sara R. Chase and Dr. Frederica Dimire, of 229 West
Forty-eighth street, arrested.

Clifford Was Acquitted.
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8.—Jack Clifford was found not guilty last night. At 3:55 o'clock Judge Stowe completed his charge to the jury and the latter retired.
At 7:35 the jury filed into the court room.
With the usual formality the verdict was received. "Not guilty," a relieved sigh was uttered by Clifford.

Iron Works Burned.
MOLINE, Ill., Feb. 8.—The malicible
iron works at this place were burned
last night. The loss is $50,000. About 300 men are thrown out of employment.

Sealers Will Appeal.
VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 8.—The owners of the sealing schooner Oscar and have appealed their case to the supreme court.

IS HELD IN CUSTODY.
A New York Man Worth Half a Million Jailed
in Georgia.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The Sun special from Savannah, Ga., says: This is the fifth day that William Austin, a member of the Manhattan and Union clubs of New York city, and a man whose wealth is placed at over half a million, has been kept in the custody of a deputy sheriff.
For two hours he was confined in jail,
but owing to his advanced age and ill health he was allowed to return to his hotel. He is detained here at the instance of Judge Crovatt, of Brunswick,
who avers that Austin has in his possession notes and mortgages to the amount of $3,500 for which no value has been given.

Austin, it is alleged, agreed to advance
$5,000 to Crovatt on certain property, gave him $300, but declared upon investigation that he had found the property to be encumbered and refused to advance the remainder. Austin says that it is any notes were given by Crovatt
he knows nothing of them and that his agent in New York or his attorneys have them.

He cannot leave the city until the notes are forthcoming or a bond for $2,000
is given. Judge Crovatt also claims $10,000 damages.

NOW THE BILL IS BURIED

The Secretary of War and Gen. Casey Have Reported Against the Hartley Bridge Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—[Special to The Herald.]—It is learned today that the bill
of the Duluth-Superior Bridge company,
for erecting a bridge between Rice's Point in Duluth, and Cannon's Point in Superior, which was referred by the senate committee on interstate commerce
to the war department, has been returned with an adverse report by the department. Both Secretary Elkins and Gen. Casey, chief of the government engineers, decided that the bill contains several provisions which render it inadvisable for congress to pass it.

As Secretary Elkins and Gen. Casey have already approved the bill of the Commercial Improvement company for a bridge at the same point, they see no reason for approving another bill for that purpose, thus assenting to the erection of two bridges.

CANNON AND BACON FIGHT.
Republican Leaders in Illinois Have a Personal Encounter.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 8.—Congressman-elect Cannon and Senator Bacon induced in a personal encounter in the lobby of the Leland hotel this morning,
which resulted in a fight but not serious injury to the congressmen's nose and face.

Cannon fell to the floor while the senator, who is many years the congress-
man's junior and has something of a reputation as an athlete, escaped without a scratch. The congressmen's friends charged the other with being the aggressor, but the general belief is that both the men were rather "cager for the fray."

Cannon and Bacon have for some years been leaders of the Republican party. The congressman attributes his defeat in the congressional election two years ago to the opposition and lethargy
of the Bacon faction.

ATTACKED BY ROBBERS.
Gen. Castrex Seized by Highwaymen in a Street in Nice.

NICE, Feb. 8.—The boulevard Du Bouchage, one of the principal thoroughfares of Nice, was the scene last night of a most daring outrage. Gen. Castrex was proceeding along the boulevard about 11 o'clock p. m. when he was attacked by robbers who seized him by the throat while they attempted to rifle his pockets.

Gen. Castrex made a desperate resistance to the garrotes and was severely injured in the struggle. The highway-men succeeded in getting away with his watch and several hundred francs in money.

A Remarkable Measure.
MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8.—A rather remarkable bill was presented in the senate this morning by Mr. Koonin, of Milwaukee. It provides for an insurance board composed of the governor,
secretary of state, attorney general, insurance commissioner and five members from the state at large, who virtually become an insurance company, doing business and taking all kinds of fire risks in the state.

The Electric Railroad.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—In the senate
Mr. Harris, Democrat, reported back from the committee on finance the bill
as to the proposed electric railroad between Chicago & St. Louis with a substitute permitting the importation
free of duty of multiphase motors, generators and transformers necessary for the construction and equipment of such railroad.

The Brown Injunction.
ST. PAUL, Feb. 8.—The Brown injunction case against the Duluth, Mississippi & Northern Railroad company is expected to come up late this afternoon.
The attorneys say that the case will be continued until the June term.

A Church Burned.
WABASH, Minn., Feb. 8.—Fire destroyed St. Felix Catholic church yesterday afternoon. The loss is $50,000. All the church furniture and ornaments were burned, not an article of any description being saved.

Gen. Beauregard Seriously Ill.
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 8.—Gen. P. G.
T. Beauregard is very ill at his residence in this city, and while there seems to be no immediate cause for alarm, report has it that the gallant soldier cannot recover.

COUNTING THE VOTES

"Cleveland Weather" Favored the Ceremonies Incident to Official Counting of the Electoral Vote.

Capt. Bassett, Who Has Participated in Every Presidential Count for Sixty Years, Was Present.

Grover Cleveland Was Declared to be Elected President and Adlai E. Stevenson Vice President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Immense crowds were drawn to the capitol today
by the merely formal ceremonies incident to the official counting of the electoral vote. It was an undress rehearsal of inauguration. The bright sunshine and tonic bracing breezes which marked the day were boldly claimed as "Cleveland weather" and were sharply contrasted with the dismal atmospheric surroundings which have so unfortunately accompanied nearly every one of Mr.
Harrison's public appearances, commencing with the dreary rain on his inauguration day and even following him into each of his private duck hunting expeditions.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Inauguration visitors are already flocking into the city and the stands on the streets on the line of the proposed procession are in course of construction.
So today was made the occasion of the first public demonstration, and it was a most successful one in point of numbers and enthusiasm, though there was little in the actual proceedings to call out any excitement. Vice President Morton some days since appointed as tellers on behalf of the senate for this important ceremony Mr. Hale, of Maine, and Mr.
Blackburn, of Kentucky, the last electoral count of the forty-four states and Mr. Manderson, of Nebraska, the present president pro tem of the senate, and Mr. Harris, of Tennessee, the Democratic Nestor of that body.

Speaker Crisp appointed Judge Chipman, of Michigan, and Henry Cabot Lodge, senator-elect from Massachusetts as the house tellers. Four years ago the corresponding officials were Mr.
Ermentrout, of Pennsylvania, and Mr.
Baker, of New York. The ceremonies were nearly the same today as four years ago, with a slight difference in personnel. There was the ceremonial opening of the safe in the vice-president's room and taking out of the eighty-eight sealed packages supposed to represent the votes of the forty-four states
as received in duplicate by mail and messenger; there was the solemn procession in "goose step" of old Capt. Bassett, who has participated in every presidential count for more than sixty years,
escorted by a squad of capitol police to prevent a raid, being made upon the precious locked boxes containing the votes.

This was a precaution originating in the fears of John C. Calhoun, president in 1857, and it has been since kept up.
The boxes (which were this year
entirely new, their predecessors in the service having been discharged) having been safely deposited in the house, the senate in a body followed shortly before 1 o'clock. The members of the upper chamber were, of course, received by the house with becoming respect.

The vice president, wearing the speaker's platform and took his seat at the right hand of Speaker Crisp, the senators ranging themselves in the places assigned to them on the right of the hall and the speaker sitting at the left hand of the vice president, and in this manner the count proceeded in the presence of densely packed galleries and a crowded floor.

Following the precedents observed
upon former occasions, unless demand
in full, the tellers having ascertained the certificates are in due form and properly authenticated, omitted the executive certificate of the ascertainment of the electors appointed and the preliminary formal statement of the proceedings of the college, and proceeded rapidly with the reading and ascertainment
of the result.

After the last certificate had been read
and the results footed up, the vice president made the customary announcement that under the law this was a sufficient declaration that Grover Cleveland, of the state of New York, was elected president of the United States, and that A. E.
Stevenson was elected vice president,
for the term beginning March 4, 1893,
and that this result would be entered together with a list of the votes on the journals of the senate and house of representatives. The joint session was then dissolved, the senate withdrew and each house resumed business in its own chamber.

Round House Destroyed.
HEATINGSBURG, Ill., Feb. 8.—The new round house of the Cent. & Great Ferry road company was burned last night together with six locomotives. The round house had been occupied only about ten days. Loss about $50,000. Several small business blocks were also destroyed, entailing a total loss of $75,000.

TO ADJUST GRAIN RATES.
Meeting of Northwestern Freight Agents Held at St. Paul Today.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 8.—Chairman Midgley, of the Western Freight association, arrived in the city this morning, together with the representatives from the freight departments of all roads running between the Twin Cities and Chicago, and all roads interested in the decision of the interstate commerce commission relative to the Minneapolis grain cases.

It will be remembered that the grain men of Minneapolis took before the commission a complaint that there was an unjust difference between the rates
from Dakota points to that city, and from the same points to Duluth, and that the commission decided that Minneapolis should have a more satisfactory rate.

The meeting of the freight officials of the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern, the Wisconsin Central, the Omaha,
the Soo and other interested roads,
which is being held today to consider the new rates, was commenced at the Great Northern general offices this morning.

THE WIDOWER FOOLED.
A Captivating Woman Finally Played Him for All His Money.

NAPOLEON, O., Feb. 8.—Jennie Garner is a very fine looking woman and while at Chicago on a two weeks' visit, met a coal dealer named Klineham, who is a widower with three children.
She promised to marry him, provided he would come to Napoleon to have the nuptials performed. They arrived here on the last line in the night and Jennie,
having secured $500 which he had drawn for their wedding tour, succeeded in getting off the train without him, while he was compelled to go on to Toledo. Returning by the next train he had her arrested for stealing the money.

When arraigned before the mayor,
she induced Klineham to withdraw the charge, promising she would marry him in Toledo. She claimed to have left the money at Napoleon and widely impor-
tuned him to go back and get it.
He went and after vainly coaxing
Jennie's mama to produce the money,
returned to Toledo only to find his lady love also missing. Disgusted, the aged widower returned to Chicago "strapped," while Jennie is without doubt enjoying the color of his money in some Eastern city.

TRAIN ROBBERS ARRESTED.
Two of the Three Persons Have Acknowledged Their Guilt.

ANNISTON, Ala., Feb. 8.—James
Brown, of Lincoln, and Jeff and Dick Harrison, of Rome, have been arrested
here on a charge of robbing the express and mail car of the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia railroad near Piedmont on Oct. 31. Brown, who was captured first, and Dick Harrison, who was arrested later, have confessed.

These arrests complicate matters, as a man named Dick Roper has already been convicted at a preliminary trial on his own sworn confession of having been one of three men who held up the train.

A BIG ICE GORGE.
One of Cleveland's Suburbs in Danger of a Flood.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 8.—There is a strong current and high water in the Cuyahoga river, causing fear of a flood.
A big ice gorge has formed near Bedford, a suburb, and the entire country surrounding is flooded.
An immense gorge has also formed near the Weigh lock and a number of large manufacturing companies in that vicinity are preparing to move out should the flood come. It is thought,
however, that the danger has been temporarily averted by the cold weather.

Visited the President.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Quarantine
having been raised against the White House because of the illness of Martha Harrison, the president today resumed the afternoon public receptions which were suspended because of the death of Mrs. Harrison. About 200

trate.

IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Republicans Held a Caucus Last Night and Decided to Have More United Action Hereafter.

Chief Inspector Clausen Tells About the Way
Wheat Cars Are Being Robbed at Minneapolis.

Markham's Bill for Taxing the Lands of Railroad Companies Was Passed by the House.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 8.—[Special to The Herald.]—The action of the Republican caucus at the Windsor hotel last night was such as to insure more united action on certain lines of legislation. It is probable that the policy of delay in the house, inaugurated by the Democrats and Alliance, will not be allowed to hinder business much in the future.
The committee of investigation into railroad wheat shipments had Mr. Clausen on the stand this morning. He believes that at terminal points all people should be kept out of the cars except the inspectors and elevator men. The elevators and railroad companies should be compelled to keep all cars sealed.
The railroad companies should keep police on the tracks to watch the cars and anyone caught in the wheat
cars or sweeping the same except elevator or railroad men or inspectors
should be punished for misconduct.

Mr. Clausen estimated that there were from 250 to 300 men engaged in stealing wheat at Minneapolis from cars for the last two or three years, causing a loss to farmers and others of nearly 250,000 bushels yearly. Mr. Clausen stated that grain shipped from farmers to commission men may be sold several times to other commission men and finally to a scalper while the car is being delayed on track and people are stealing out of it. The result is that when the final weight is declared by the state weigh-masters the farmer loses all the shortages.

In the house this morning the following bills were introduced: By Minette,
a bill to pay John H. Adams, of Sauk Centre, damages for the Indian outbreak in 1862. Mr. Allison introduced a joint memorial to congress that it is the sentiment of the people of the state that United States senators should be elected by the people and calling upon congress to submit an amendment to the constitution to that effect. The memorial passed under suspension of the rules.

Mr. Joeren introduced a bill for an act to authorize fees and salaries of state, county, municipal and other officers and compensations of other persons to be taken in attachment, garnishment, execution, and to prohibit assignment of same to default creditors.
J. D. Smith brought in a bill providing for an additional judge for the Fourteenth judicial district.

TAXING RAILROAD LANDS.
Markham's Bill Went Through the House
Almost Unanimously.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 8.—Mr. Markham's bill to tax railroad lands was passed by the house yesterday afternoon without hardly any opposition, only one vote being recorded against it. The railroads will probably fight it in the senate, but it is unlikely that they will be able to defeat
it. Following is the text of the bill:

Section 1. All lands in this state hereafter or hereafter granted by the state of Minnesota or the United States,
or the territory of Minnesota, to any railroad company, shall be assessed and taxed as other lands are taxed in this state, except such parts of said lands as are held, used or occupied for right-of-way, gravel pits, site tracks, depots and all buildings and structures which are necessarily used in the actual management and operation of the railroads of said companies. Provided that said railroad companies shall continue to pay taxes into the state treasury upon their gross earnings in the same manner and in the same amount as now provided by law. And that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to repeal said laws, except in so far as the same relate to the tax upon said lands.

Sec. 2. Such portion or portions of any acts or acts, general or special, of the state or territory of Minnesota heretofore enacted, which provides or attempts to provide for any exemption of lands hereby declared taxable, from taxation, or for any other method of taxing said last mentioned lands different from the method of taxing other lands in this state, or which are in any manner inconsistent with the provisions of this act,
are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. If this act shall be held to be void so far as it applies to the lands of any particular railroad company in this state, it shall not be ground for declaring it void or inapplicable to any other company not similarly situated.

Sec. 4. This act shall be submitted to the people of this state for their approval or rejection at the next general election for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four (1894).

Section 5 provides the form of ballot.

The Fidelity and Casualty Company
of New York (assets $1,812,054.42) furnishes bonds of surety for persons in positions of trust, to banks, treasurers of corporations, insurance agents, and employees of private firms, employers liability, steam boiler, plate glass, elevator and accident insurance. D. H. Costello, district manager, 11 Phoenix block.

A Bank Suspended.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 8.—The individual banking house of F. V. Rockewell & Co. closed its doors this morning. It was one of the oldest banking institutions in this section. No official statement has as yet been made, and whether it is a bad failure or not is not yet known.

IN A STATE OF SIEGE.

The Capital of the Argentine Republic is the Center of a Probable Revolutionary Movement.

Three Thousand Members of the Humboldt Colony Under Arms and Threaten to Declare War.

The Ministerial Crisis Continues and Buenos Ayres May be Declared Under a State of Siege.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The Herald correspondent at Valparaiso cables that paper that he has no doubt that it may again become necessary to place Buenos Ayres under a state of siege, while at Santa Fe 3,000 members of the Humboldt colony are under arms and threaten an open declaration of war against the operation of the wheat tax. Nearly all of them are armed with rifles. The authorities have sent a battalion of soldiers and police to quell the disturbance. It is difficult to get full information, as the Santa Fe authorities have established a censorship upon the telegraph wires.

The latest troubles at Buenos Ayres began on Saturday, when rumors that a revolution was about to begin were circulated. President Saenz Pena called out the militia and police to suppress the threatened outbreak. Although the establishment of a militia guard has restored quiet, the ministerial crisis has not yet been passed, and there are prospects that the city will be declared under a state of siege.

FIGHTING IS EXPECTED.

Trouble Along the Rio Grande Has Broken Out Again.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The Herald's correspondent at Artesas telegraphs that trouble along the Rio Grande has broken out again. The government police have disarmed 100 federalists who were about to make a raid along the Rio Grande near Santa Ana. The Castillistas fortified the town.

The federal general, Tavares, and Banos Casul are trying to reconcile and unite the different factions in opposition to the Castillistas. A guard is still maintained along the Rio Grande. Caudilla, a federal chief noted for his cruelty, has arrived at Tigre with arms, and fighting with the Castillistas is expected along the Uruguayan frontier.

TOLD BY A DYING INDIAN.

The Murder of the Cowboys Near the Pine Ridge Agency.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Feb. 8.—Policeman Bear-that-Runs-in-the-Woods brought in yesterday one of Two-Sticks' sons who is one of the murderers of the Humphrey camp cowboys. He is slowly dying of his wounds.

He confessed that it was agreed among the Indians to go to the camp and kill the cowboys. They slipped into the dug-out while the men were asleep and each selected a victim. At a given signal, a cough, each Indian emptied his revolver into the body of his victim.

The cook was not killed at the first fire, and upon his attempting to crawl under the bed was shot again in the head. So close was the range that each victim was terribly powder burned. The dying Indian says the men were killed because they were white. The bodies of the victims were brought here yesterday.

WILL PRESS IT TO A VOTE.

The Advocates in the House of a Repeal of the Sherman Law.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The advocates in the house of a repeal of the Sherman law held a conference yesterday. A resolution was adopted, declaring that it having been discovered that a majority of the house is in favor of a repeal of the Sherman silver bullion purchase act, it had therefore been decided to abandon the attempt to get a majority of the Democrats to sign a cloture petition, and the fight will be made on the floor of the house, where all friends of honest money, whether Democrats or Republicans, might join in the attempt to secure a repeal of the law.

BILLY HAWKINS MATCHED.

He Will Fight Austin Gibbons for $1000 a Side.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—W. W. Lewis, of Mahoning City, Pa., has posted $250 to cover Austin Gibbons' deposit and accepts the latter's challenge in behalf of Billy Hawkins, formerly of Superior, to fight at 140 pounds for $1000 a side and the best purse offered by any responsible club.

Hawkins will be ready to fight in eight weeks from the signing of articles and weigh in twelve hours before fighting.

The Monterey Accepted.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Secretary Tracey has officially accepted the coast defense ship Monterey. Her builders, the Union Iron works, of San Francisco, lose $32,000 from the contract price, $1,028,050, because she failed to develop the maximum horse power of 5,000. Her horse power in the trial was shown to be only 5,077.

After the Book Trust.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 8.—In the senate yesterday Senator Arnold's resolution for an investigation by a senate committee of the school book trust and the United States School Furniture company was adopted unanimously.

A GREAT DISASTER.

Brisbane Under Water Thirty to Sixty Feet Deep—Much Suffering.

BRISBANE, Australia, Feb. 8.—Water is thirty feet deep in the principal streets of the city and in the suburbs has covered buildings sixty feet high. Five hundred houses have been demolished. Hundreds of families have lost their homes and have left in boats to seek the shelter on higher grounds. All gas and water pipes have been destroyed and the city is in darkness.

The governor came to the city in a boat. He says that all towns between Brisbane and Ipswich are submerged. This is the greatest disaster in the history of the colony.

THE RUMOR STRENGTHENED.

More Proof of the Story of a General Railroad Strike.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 8.—The rumors based on the claim that a great strike is soon to be inaugurated on the whole railroad system of the United States finds additional strength in a statement made last night that the firemen and engineers on the Louisville & Nashville railroad will within a few days make a demand for more wages.

The engineers want 1/2 cent a mile more. The demands of the firemen are not yet known, but a prominent brotherhood man says no compromise will be accepted or delay tolerated, and that if the men strike they will be followed by the brakemen, conductors, switchmen and even section hands.

THE SENATOR FROM KANSAS.

Judge Martin's Appearance in Washington Causes Gossip About His Election.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Judge John Martin, the senator-elect from Kansas to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Plumb, now being filled by Mr. Perkins under appointment by the governor, was on the floor in the senate yesterday.

His advent in Washington opens anew gossip concerning the legality of his election and the probability of his being permitted to take his seat. If Mr. Martin follows the advice of his colleagues, as he probably will, no new issue in Kansas will be raised until the closing of the session.

SENSATION IN ST. LOUIS.

Typhus Fever in a Medical College Has Caused Alarm.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8.—A sensation was created yesterday by the announcement that eighty students attending the college of physicians and surgeons, at the corner of Jefferson avenue and Gamble street, had left for home on account of sudden death of three students. The excitement was intensified by the report that the deaths were caused by typhus fever.

In the case of Student White, the commissioner issued a certificate of scarlet fever. It was believed the disease was contracted in the dissection room.

THE SHERMAN SILVER LAW.

The Baltimore Board of Trade Resolves Against Senator Teller's Threat.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 8.—The board of trade, by resolution, protests against the utterances of Senator Teller in threatening to block legislation in case the Sherman silver bill is repealed. The resolution says:

"It is a public outrage that the fourteen senators, or any one of them from Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, representing a total population of but little more than twice that of Baltimore city, or one fifth that of New York state, should thus imperil the commercial interests of the country."

The resolution reiterates its demand for repeal stating that the Sherman silver bill is a wrong to the masses and will fail to create a market for a metal no longer standard among intelligent and progressive nations.

FOUND A SERIOUS DEFECT.

The South Dakota Apportionment Law is Invalid.

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 8.—It was discovered today that the law which was passed by the last legislature, reapportioning the legislative districts, two years ago, passed the senate by less than a constitutional majority. This discovery was made by the lieutenant governor, while searching for precedents to sustain a ruling of his last Saturday.

The constitution is positive in its requirement that no measure shall pass and become a law without the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members elect to both houses of the legislature. In the case in point there were forty-five members-elect, but one had died and one had been elected to the United States senate, leaving but forty-three active members.

There being forty-five members-elect it required twenty-three votes to pass a bill, but the apportionment bill only received twenty-two, a majority of the active members, but not a majority of those elect, so that the apportionment bill cut down the legislature to forty-two members.

THE ARMY BILL DISCUSSED.

The House and Senate Conference Has Not Reached a Decision.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The conference on the army bill discussed the measure for upwards of two hours yesterday without coming to a final decision. A number of important matters were, however, agreed upon. The $100,000 asked by the senate for transportation of troops was stricken out and the increase of pay of sergeants from $25 to $30, as provided by the senate, was reduced to the first named figure, as stipulated in the house bill. The appropriation of $17,000 for the construction of a military telegraph line along the Texas and Mexican border was permitted to stand.

SHOT IN SELF-DEFENSE.

A Hungarian Instantly Killed by a Bohemian Near Idemping.

ISHPEMING, Mich., Feb. 8.—Frank Novak, a Bohemian, shot and instantly killed Stephen Gabriel, a Hungarian, at the Winthrop mine, three miles from here Monday night, and surrendered himself to the chief of police of this city yesterday.

Both men worked at the mine and had had trouble. Gabriel was in this city drinking heavily throughout the day and shortly before midnight entered the house of Novak and attacked the latter while in bed. Novak, knowing the disposition of Gabriel, had a loaded shot gun with him in the bed, and when Gabriel approached him with a knife in his hand he gave his assailant the contents of his gun, which literally disemboweled him.

Memorial to Blaine.

AUGUSTA, Me., Feb. 8.—Several prominent people at the state house are in a movement to have the legislature give a lot on the state grounds as a burial place for the late ex-Secretary Blaine and perhaps erect a memorial stone. Mr. Blaine's will will be filed at the meeting of the probate court next Tuesday.

Grave Mistakes.

Physicians frequently make mistakes in treatment of heart disease. The rate of sudden deaths is daily increasing. Hundreds become victims of the ignorance of physicians in the treatment of this disease. One in four persons has a diseased heart. Shortness of breath, palpitation and fluttering, irregular pulse, choking sensation, asthmatic breathing, pain or tenderness in side, shoulder or arm, weak or hungry spells, are symptoms of heart disease. ## Why He Is Happy?

Mr. E. J. Moyland, 295 Second Street, is well and favorably known to the citizens of Superior.

READ WHAT HE SAYS:

"For five years I suffered from mental depression and general weakness, could get no rest at night and felt tired and exhausted during the day. I had pain in my back, bad taste in my mouth, dizzy spells and shortness of breath on the least exertion. Physicians and patent medicines did me no good. I had heard considerable about the success of Dr. Speer & Co., and I called at their office in the New York block, corner of Tower avenue and Fourteenth street, West Superior. The doctor seemed to have no difficulty in locating my trouble and described my condition in detail. I was particularly pleased with the interest he took in my case and am more than pleased with the result of the treatment. My disagreeable symptoms have rapidly disappeared and I feel that I have a new lease on life. I am not anxious to rush into print and would be very slow in making this statement if I did not consider Dr. Speer & Company worthy the confidence of the public. Should any one feel interested and wish further information, they will find me at my place of business, 295 Second street, East Superior."

ABOUT AS EXPECTED.

Yesterday's Result of Election Brought no Surprises Except as to the Sizes of Majorities.

Alderman Cox Came Out of the Fifth Ward Contest With a Large Majority.

Sorenson in the First and Howard in the Second Were Elected—Other Winners.

The city election is a thing of the past and the only surprises are as to the size of the pluralities in some cases. The total vote of the city was only about half of what it was at the November election, and there seemed to be an unusual apathy on the part of citizens in general. The total vote on aldermanic candidates was 4,311. The total votes of Fred Voss and W. G. Ten Brook ran considerably short of this.

In the First ward Martin Sorenson pulled through so easily that his most sanguine friends were surprised. Matt Carroll had strong support, but his opponent led him by 87 votes.

In the Second ward Ben Howard had matters pretty easy, contrary to general expectations, it being supposed that the result would be close. Howard had 123 to spare, however.

In the Third ward no one doubted that William Getty would be elected, but no one believed that he would have things so entirely his own way. The Sullivan men made quite a stir during the day, but showed up very little when it came to counting the votes. Getty had a plurality of 335 votes and a clear majority of 211.

In the Fourth ward Fred Quinby made a fine run and E. R. Jefferson did not show up much better than he did at the November election against C. G. Miller. Quinby had 201 plurality. Harquell, as expected, developed no strength whatever.

The Fifth ward was the battle ground of the city, and Alderman Cox came out with flying colors. Peterson was badly left behind, 170 votes to the rest of the field.

N. N. Oie had an easy thing to do in the Sixth ward, getting three votes to Dunphy's two. His majority was 123.

H. M. Myers and H. R. Spencer will represent the Seventh ward and the vote indicates that there was a pretty general demand among the Lakesiders for their reelection. Myers received 164 votes, Spencer, 154, Butchart, 65 and Coventry 40.

The returns were received at the city hall and were all in by 9:30 o'clock. Martin Sorenson came in about a week and was loudly applauded. A speech was called for by the modestly declined. Alderman Cox came in a little later and was not so backward. He mounted a table and crowded a little declaring that he had been vindicated and that the Fifth ward is much richer than before as money was sent down there and spent like water to do good.

A REMARKABLE ANIMAL.

A Dog Which is Not a Dog in the Full Sense of the Word.

Joseph B. Beariault, of 215 West Superior street, has a remarkable natural curiosity in the shape of an animal. Although its mother is a full blooded water spaniel, the progeny certainly is not. Some time ago the mother wandered away and nothing was heard from her for several weeks until a party of hunters came in town and told Mr. Beariault that they had seen a dog answering the description of his spaniel in a ravine some distance away from the city. After some search Mr. Beariault found the place and the dog, the latter manifesting most extravagant joy at seeing her master, but refusing to leave the place. Mr. Beariault finally carried the dog home and locked her up. Some six weeks ago the mother littered and all of the litter died except one. They were all of a nondescript class of animal, and the survivor is a curiosity worth examining, and evidences the cross breeding with some wild animal, probably a beaver. Except on its ears, which are of the water spaniel shape and covered with navy silken hair, the rest of the animal is clothed in a heavy fine fur, in look and feeling exactly like a beaver. Its head is abnormally large and its mouth and tongue are very wide. Its legs are short and thick and covered with heavy fur down to the paws, which are unlike those of a dog. Its tail is flat near the body, something like a beaver's, but it is covered with the same silky fur. The mother is very much attached to it, and Mr. Beariault has not a natural curiosity, the like of which was never seen before.

HAS A CURIOSITY.

Commissioner Moore Has Found One Bearing the Date of 1497.

H. B. Moore has secured for exhibition at the World's fair a peculiar relic of great antiquity. It is evidently an old iron steel and tinder box and it was picked up on the north shore of Lake Superior over fifty years ago. Its shape is somewhat like a spectacle case, but it has a brass top and bottom and copper sides and is lead lined. It bears the date of 1497 and is much worn by water and use. It bears inscriptions in Dutch and Latin and has a calendar engraved on it. An imperfect translation of one of the inscriptions is "He who has this box has no need of any other almanac." On a panel at each end of the cover is a bust figure of some Roman Catholic dignitary, one of them a priest and the other a cardinal, judging from the hat. On one end of the bottom plate is what is intended to be a representation of a man steering a vessel, and there are a number of other marks of interest to antiquarians. The box is owned at Two Harbors.

NAUTICAL MUNDIBS.

Some Preparations Which Are Being Made for the Coming Season.

Tugs have released the old steamer Roanoke from the beach at Grand Haven.

The Nyack will run between Buffalo and Chicago, on World's fair trip, this year, on an arrangement similar to that adopted by the Osage river owners.

The handsome new steamer of the Lake Michigan and Lake Superior Transportation company, which was fully described in The Herald last week, will be called the Manitou. She will run between Chicago and Duluth.

A CHARMING PARTY.

J. F. Merriam Entertained at the West Superior Hotel Last Evening.

J. F. Merriam gave a jolly sleigh-ride party last evening, chaperoned by Mrs. Cuyler Adams, of Duluth, says the Superior Leader. The party was formed in Duluth and driven across the bay to the West Superior hotel, where dinner was served. At the hotel the decorations were tasteful and in a style unusual and unsurpassed. Violets were the predominant flowers. Violet ribbons festooned the snowy linen, violet candles shed light from silver candelabra, violet fairy lamps glowed, odors of violet, faint and sweet, filled the air. In the center of a mirrored surface, rose a graceful statuette, and about it lay in careless beauty a wealth of ferns and maiden hair.

The guest cards were elaborate. They were shaped like bells and made of white kid and exquisitely painted, each with a different design of violets and butterflies and tied with full bows of violet ribbon. The tongue of the bell was a real little bell and violet and gold bells were tied in with the bows, so each souvenir can always ring a merry chime in remembrance of the festive night. The outer cover bore on the guest's name and on the back was inscribed "The West Superior and the date."

Within was a card with appropriate quotations from Shakespeare, a different one for each guest, and on the reverse "Compliments of J. F. Merriam." The lettering is in fancy pen work, done by executed and the whole most artistic and appropriate.

And the dinner. Each course would have seemed a climax, had not the first been succeeded it. It was a dinner that could not have been planned and executed except by genius and perfect taste set free by generous carte-blanc and was enhanced by such wit and brilliancy as only youth, gaiety and culture can bestow when at the height of enjoyment.

Music vocal and instrumental, in the parlors and dancing, in the large dining room to the delightful strains of Muller's orchestra, made a fitting culmination of the festivities. At a late hour the sleigh took the happy party across the lake and home again.

A BRILLIANT ENTERTAINMENT.

The Inaugural Organ Recital a Great Musical Success.

The inaugural organ recital given at the First Methodist Episcopal church last evening deserves to be classed among the best musical entertainments that the Duluth people have enjoyed this winter. The program was choice and well selected and the large audience were eager to enjoy and quick in expressing their appreciation. J. Warren Andrews, organist of the Plymouth Congregational church, Minneapolis, under whose direction the recital was given, is a musician of more than ordinary ability. His performances were all finished and elegant and invariably brought great applause. Mr. Andrews' first number, the gem of the evening, was Bistaf's "Communion in G." This was "so soft, so sweet, so delicately clear, finer or sweeter music never was heard." The vocal numbers were all good. Miss Mary Kelly, the talented soprano of Minneapolis, appeared in lieu of Miss Clara Williams, of the same city who, because of illness, was unable to be present. Mrs. Kelly has a clear, strong voice of good range and the audience were delighted with her work. The pleasing voice and charming personality of Miss Mary Lillian Merrill quite captured the audience. Her voice is sympathetic and pure and her manner sweet, modest and womanly. Her most pleasing number was a "Lullaby of the West Mothers," with violin obligato by Sydney Brown. Mr. Brown was at his best and his interpretation of Leonard's "Fantasia," which was one of the delights of the evening, was heartily received. The church choir rendered the diffi-

THE RIGHT OF ASYLUM.

Senator Turpie Opposed to Extradition For Political Offenses.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The resolution relative to the right of asylum in the program closed with a duel by Miss Ottalie Massuger and Mr. Andrews.

The question whether or not these so-called political offenses should be made extraditable was the only point of contention in this treaty which has been held in abeyance for some months, and the settlement of the disputed point occasioned the only roll call of the session. The necessary two-thirds with some votes to the contrary were secured, and the amendment was carried.

The committee on foreign relations has been considering this treaty for a long time and when they reported it to the senate it was with an amendment to the effect that attempts to murder the car or any member of the royal family should be considered as political offenses, regardless of what the motive of the criminal might be, and that they should be extraditable.

This clause was productive of a deal of debate, and the senate was compelled to spend a part of a number of executive sessions in its consideration. The opposition was led by Mr. Turpie who has along been a champion of the doctrine of the right of asylum. The amendment was supported by the committee, the members of which at some length explained the reasons that induced them to arrive at the determination set forth in their report to the senate.

The senators evidently inclined to the opinion that the committee understood the case and were willing that their recommendation should prevail, for after a somewhat spirited argument on the part of Mr. Turpie the roll call showed more than the necessary two-thirds in favor of the amendment.

Mr. Turpie was not satisfied with this action of the senate, and his resolution is intended as an offset to this action of the treaty. This action he seeks to annul by the passage of this resolution, which declares it to be the sense of the senate that jurisdiction in what are known as political offenses ought not to be extra-territorial, and that no treaty should be approved or proposed which takes from the courts of the United States the right to determine whether or not an offense is political under the law of nations.

This resolution was ordered to lie on the table, and it is not unlikely that Mr. Turpie will call it up and make a speech reflecting on the action of the senate so strongly advocated in the secret session in which he was overpowered.

Eventually the resolution will be referred to the committee on foreign relations and will be disposed of to the satisfaction of that mentor to the foreign affairs of the nation. It is probable, however, that Mr. Turpie will put himself on record in favor of the right of asylum if, indeed, it does open the door to the jurisdiction of the executive secrets relative to this treaty.

INDICTMENTS DISMISSED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Upon recommendation of District Attorney Nicoll, Judge Gowing in general sessions yesterday dismissed the indictment against Ferdinand Ward. In his recommendation Mr. Nicoll said it was understood at the time that sentence upon one indictment would nullify the other, and from further prosecution and that none of the other indictments would be moved against him.

Did Not Endorse Clarkson. DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 8.—The Young Men's Republican club, of this city, after a heated discussion, tabled a resolution condemning the appointment of Jackson to the supreme court bench.

A SOLDIER'S SUFFERING. A Thrilling Story of the War, from the Pen of a Veteran.

The Geological Survey.
There is before the legislature a bill to provide funds for the state geological survey, so that the investigation of the mineral resources of Northern Minnesota may be completed and a report with full data and maps be prepared for publication. This is a measure in which Duluth has an especial interest, as all the rich
mineral districts in close proximity to this city. It is desirable that a complete survey of this region should be made, so that all its varied resources of mineral wealth may be made known.

In advocating the passage of this bill,
the Minneapolis Tribune points out that the progress of the state geological survey during the past twenty years has been necessarily slow, inasmuch as the survey has depended for maintenance
upon the revenue from the state salt lands, which aggregated only a little over $4000 per year. From this small sum has been drawn both the salary of the state geologist and the expenditures for assistance and for the expenses of the survey.

The geological survey of Iowa receives three or four times this sum. In Missouri the annual sum for maintaining the geological survey is $20,000 and in Pennsylvania about $75,000. Wisconsin appropriated a sufficient sum to complete
its survey with dispatch in a few years,
and few states in the Union have delayed and prolonged their surveys on such meager support and equipment as Minnesota.

Were the state's resources solely agricultural, as was at first supposed, it would not so greatly matter as to the time required in completing the survey,
as the state's interests would not be seriously endangered by delay. But with valuable and perhaps extensive mineral lands whose value and boundaries are undetermined, except perhaps by interested parties, it is important that the state ascertain its resources promptly.

"It would be well," urges the Minneapolis paper, "if the field work could be done this coming season, so that the maps and complete data could be submitted to the next legislature. These maps and data would be essential for the use of the state officials who have the charge of the survey, and would be indispensable for the use of the commission of mines which it is estimated that a sum equal to about one-third the annual appropriation to the Pennsylvania
survey would be sufficient to complete the Minnesota survey during the present state administration. Inasmuch as it will cost no more to complete the survey promptly than to prolong it indefinitely, the urgent requirements of the state should in all reason be met and a sum sufficient for the prompt and economical completion of the work should be appropriated."

The Herald trusts that the senator and representatives from St. Louis county will do all in their power to secure the passage of this important measure. The results must prove beneficial to the state from a financial standpoint,
because a complete survey will prevent the disposal of mineral land to private interests on the supposition that it is swamp, pine or agricultural land, and on this account the bill should receive very general support from the members of both branches of the legislature.

The Attitude Towards Canada.
A dispatch from Ottawa, the Canadian capital, says "the announcement from Washington that Canadian cattle are to be scheduled by the United States caused no little excitement among the government's followers, who now begin to realize that President Harrison's threats against Canada are not all assertions
and that the outgoing president is determined to retaliate upon the Dominion government for its unfriendly policy.
The majority of the politicians agree that the blow which has now fallen upon Canada is second only in its disastrous effects to the McKinley bill, for the Washington government has by this step absolutely placed the Canadian farmer in a position of most serious disadvantage."

And why should such a step be taken?
The people of this country generally have no hatred of their Canadian neighbors. They would be friendly with them and cultivate closer trade relations, were
it not for the barriers set up and the bad
feeling engendered by scheming politicians on both sides of the boundary line. There is a disposition among a majority of the members of congress, it is said, in favor of annexing Canada,
should our northern neighbors desire it.
President-elect Cleveland is reported to entertain a strong desire to have his coming administration marked by the establishment of continental union, so that the American flag may wave over a united and prosperous
country stretching from Hudson's Bay to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. There is also an increased feeling in the Dominion in favor of annexation to this country.

But what result can be expected if these retaliatory measures are adopted
by the governments of both countries?
Certainly not hasten of political or commercial union, but assuredly the creation of embittered feelings that should not exist. President Harrison has in his respected in a manner that does not do credit to the brilliant record of his administration in other directions. He has shown a littleness and narrow-mindedness in dealing with Canada that is almost inexplicable. The attempt to schedule the privileges of the bonding system is an instance, and the present proposal to schedule Canadian cattle is only another exhibition of the spite which he has constantly manifested
toward the Dominion.

Is it not time to cease this system of retaliation and spite work, lay aside all petty animosities and cultivate a friendly
feeling that, if continued for a few years,
must result in both countries uniting
under one government at Washington?

The people of Texas are holding indignation meetings condemning the brutal torture of the negro Smith at Paris as a disgrace to the state. Indignation in this case is a good indication,
and The Herald is pleased that Texas
people realize the disgraceful character of this outrage. But more than indignation is necessary. Steps should be taken at once to punish severely those who participated in the outrage.

On January 1, the News Tribune declared that the Duluth & Winnipeg road had been sold to C. P. Huntington,
the Southern Pacific manager. Yesterday The Herald announced exclusively and definitely that President Van Horn
of the Canadian Pacific, has secured control of the road, and now the News Tribune has the audacity to say "I told you so." The morning kindergarten has plenty of nerve.

"Bill" Erwin has scored another victory in the Homestead cases. Jack Clifford was acquitted last night at Pittsburg of the charge of murder. It was claimed that he was present during the riot at Homestead and directed the shooting at the barges, but with Mr. Erwin's able assistance he was able to prove an alibi to the jury's satisfaction.

The Illinois legislature has decided to investigate the book trust. This is a combine that needs investigation, but it is to be feared that even if the Illinois
legislators do make a searching inquiry
no good results will attend it. After the investigation is finished, there will be no
one with the courage to put an end to it by the law's aid.

The lower branch of the Pennsylvania legislature has passed a bill prohibiting the manufacture and sale of cigarettes
within that commonwealth. If Representative Bleeker, who is opposed to hoopskirts, will now start a war on cigarettes he will earn the undying gratitude of all Minnesota—except the dudes.

The advocates in the house of a repeal of the Sherman law have decided to make a fight on the floor of the house
in behalf of honest money.

WHO ARE OBSTRUCTED?
A Few Plain Truths About the Building of Bridges.

Superior Leader: A bridge is paid for by the people on land. It is for their accommodation. If the people on land can not be accommodated so that they may thrive and grow, expand and make business, there will be no need for navigation—for ships. The greater the community the more business there will be for ships, for navigation. The more bridges there are the greater the community will be.

The real truth is that a bridge is practically no obstruction to water navigation. When boats reach a harbor they slow down anyway, even where there are no bridges. They whistle for the draw to open when they come near a bridge
and it opens in spite of funerals, wedding parties, street cars, railroad trains,
pleasure drivers or pedestrians.

Therefore, the people who pay for a bridge and who use it and by the use of which business is made for steamboats,
the ones who are obstructed and not the boats.

The navigation of the people on land is
the navigation that is obstructed.
In bridge matters and especially in reference to navigation it is noticed that those who know the least talk the most and send the most emphatic and dictatorial telegrams and letters to Washington.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Glee and Banjo Clubs.
The University of Minnesota, Banjo
and Glee clubs give a concert at the Lyceum tomorrow evening and will undoubtedly meet with a cordial reception.
They gave a concert at Superior last evening, assisted by the Choral union.
The leader says of them:

"The Glee and Banjo clubs are composed of a set of rolicking rascals from the university of Minnesota, who are out to entertain themselves as well as their audiences. They were recalled after every number and every time gave an encore quite unexpected in style and quality. From the character of the songs and the manner of their delivery,
and the like in everything, 'My Mine',
and 'Life Is But a Dream' were really beautiful. The rattling, zipping music of the Banjo club was very received—it sent a broad smile over the house and set hundreds of feet to patting."

A SUCCESSFUL TEST.

The New Prescott Steam Pump Works Satisfactorily.
The first of the new steam pumps invented by D. C. Prescott and named after the patentee was tested with good success at the Marinette shops yesterday. This machine is for the Imperial mine at Ironwood, Mich., and has a capacity for throwing 60 gallons a minute. Its steam cylinders are sixteen inches and its stroke is twelve inches.
It is claimed that these machines are the best mining pumps now being made, and the company expects a large demand for the manufacture of such pumps. An order has been received from the Norris mine
of one of eighteen tons weight, compound condensing, with steam cylinders
sixteen and thirty inches and twenty-four inch stroke, and also for a smaller one to be used at the York steel plant at Iron-
ton.

Quito a Difference.

You can never tell which will win at the beginning of the fight, and it is bad
form to be vindictive in your opinion
as you may be forced to swallow them.
An illustration of this has just been concluded between Messrs. J. E. Haynie & Co. and the lessee of the building at
No. 1 East Superior street. As we all know, they moved or commenced to move from this building that bitter cold night at 12 o'clock, having been threatened and menaced with all forms and kinds of damage suits if such were not the case, but after having begun moving
a consultation with the firm's lawyers resulted in a determination to test the justice of this eviction, which has resulted in a compromise in which Haynie &
Co. for a consideration, retain possession of the Superior street floor for forty days, in which time they will remodel
the Kahn store in the most modern manner, thereby avoiding the great inconvenience they anticipated.

FIVE YEARS.

A LONG PERIOD OF DISTRESS.

The Story Related for the Benefit of Those Who Are Afflicted With Stomach Troubles.

Mr. M. N. McDonald, of 202 West
Second street, was a sufferer from stomach trouble for five years. During that time he had been treated by a great many physicians and had taken enough medicine to stock a first-class drug store.
After one month's treatment at the Copeland
Medical Institute he feels so jubilant over the results obtained that he gives his story below, hoping that some fellow sufferer may be benefited likewise.

"I had taken a great deal of nauseating medicine," said Mr. McDonald, "but nothing seemed to suit my case. At times I was so weak, depressed and miserable that I could not stand up or lay down, but would shift restlessly from one position to another. I was subject to dizzy fainting spells and could not have catch on to something to keep from falling to the ground. Dull heavy pains would pass through my bowels and chest.
There was no more sleep, no appetite,
in my stomach, accompanied by bloating and tenderness. My food did not seem to digest and I had terrible diarrhoea days. This machine is for the Imperial mine at Ironwood, Mich., and has a
capacity for throwing 60 gallons a
minute. Its steam cylinders are sixteen

Do These Questions Apply to You?

Whoever reads this will be able to determine if they have catarrh, for these are some of the most prominent symptoms of that distressing disease, which,
mean, if neglected, consumption and the grave. Here are the questions:

"Is your nose stopped up?"
"Do you hawk and spit?"
"Are you sleepless and restless?"
"Do you have unpleasant dreams?"
"Do you wake in the night and find
"Do you have pain in your back?"
"Are you dull and stupid?"
"Are you nervous?"
"Do you get confused in your ideas?"
"Is your hearing affected?"
"Do you have tingling in your ears?"
"Do you have roaring in your head?"
"Is your memory poor?"
"Are you cranky and irritable?"
"Is your appetite poor?"
"Is your breath offensive?"
"Are your bowels constipated?"
"Do you take cold easily?"
"Is your eyesight poor?"
"Do you see spots floating before your eyes?"
"Are your eyes watery?"
"Do you find your mouth dry upon arising?"
"Do you feel a great deal of slimy upon arising?"

Is there a sense of fullness in the throat?

"Have you a cough?"
"Have you ever had night sweats?"
"Have you hot and cold flashes over the body?"
"Do you feel oppressed after eating?"
"Have you a bloated-up feeling in the stomach?"
"Do you belch up a sour taste in the mouth?"
"Do you feel sick at your stomach?"
"Do you have heartburn?"
"Do you have smothering attacks?"
"Do you have giddy spells?"
"Do you have headaches?"
"Do you have shooting pains?"
"Do you have tongue frequently coated?"
"Do you have palpitation of the heart?"
"Is your throat sore?"
"Is your throat easily irritated?"
"Do you lose your voice?"
"Are you dejected?"
"Is your stomach weak?"
"Do you get that all-gone feeling?"
"Does life seem a big burden?"

What is catarrh? Why, simply, it is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the head, throat, and stomach.
That's what makes all the mischief. We have thousands of people to come here and ask if they have catarrh or what causes them to feel as they do.

Doctors Copeland, Hunt & Drenning
make a specialty of the treatment of all chronic diseases, including catarrh.
They furnish all medicines, free of charge,
and their charges for treatment are so moderate that they are within the reach of all.

AND NOW we commence
to hear the wail of the Hungarians. In shooting into a bunch of "Jack Daws" the hunters can always tell where his shots are deadly by the flying of feath-

that one shopkeeper actually suffers pain in buying his goods, as he says "they are painfully selected." What an excruciating torture it must be to sell such painful stuff.

Our Hungarian constituents have yet to learn that the majority of the American race
are blessed with intelligence and usually find out, and censure the tricks of mongers, in a very effective manner.

These are the reasons people prefer patronizing The Ameri-

such a world of merchandise
sold here and now selling here.
It is merely the recognition of the existence of merit.

IS NEARING THE END.

The Hearing in the Case of the Fire Commissioners Was Taken Up Again This Morning.

The Commissioners' Attorneys Again Objected Because Several Aldermen Were Not Present.

Ex-Policeman Lynott Was Called for the Defense, But Got Considerably Mixed in His Testimony.

The continuation of the impeachment proceedings against Fire Commissioners Hart and Helinski was taken up this morning at 10:15 o'clock, all the aldermen being present except Alderman Thomas. The roll was called, after which the defense entered exceptions against proceeding in the absence of an alderman. Alderman Long then said that he would part with Alderman Thomas, whereupon, according to request, he was excused by President Hugo. The defense then excepted to proceedings in the absence of Alderman Long.

Attorney Rude then arose and explained the reasons for asking certain questions of The Herald reporter at Monday's session of the council. He alleged that he did not ask those questions to attempt to show that Alderman Weiss had directed the reporter to attend and write a garbled report but to show that Mr. Weiss had not done that thing, and that the reporter distorted the report of the proceedings on his own responsibility.

Little was recalled and testified as to Twaddle's efficiency, and on cross-examination by the defense denied that he had told Policeman Lynott that his (Little's) place was worth $50 per month and that he would be fired if his connection with the conference upon and settlement of Lynott's and Twaddle's differences should be learned by his superiors.

John L. Eddy, a reporter, testified as to his recollections of what took place at the meeting when the commissioners discharged Little and City Clerk Durand also took the stand and stated that he had served on the commissioners' copies of the resolutions passed by the council. He was asked by the prosecution if the commissioners had filed with him the monthly reports required by the charter, but the defense, strictly on technical grounds, objected to an inquiry into his admission as testimony. Attorney Holmes wished then to amend the specifications of the charge, but on both points the president ruled in favor of the defense.

Twaddle was the next witness. He testified that the commissioners had read to him a resolution to the effect that he could satisfy the commissioners that the charges of conspiracy against Mr. Hart had been influenced and instigated by others, he should be reinstated, and that he told them that he made the charges on his own responsibility.

Commissioner McGreggor was then called to the witness stand. He told about the meetings of the commissioners and the action on the case of Twaddle and Little as he remembered them. He said that he had opposed the dismissal of both Twaddle and Little, that either Hart or Helinski asked Twaddle to meet on Jan. 4 if Cox or Kennedy instigated the charges against Mr. Hart; that he considered the arrest and conviction of a fireman for disorderly conduct and the concealment of that fact by an assistant chief not conducive to good discipline, and that had he known at that time he favored Little's suspension, that he had attempted and intended and afterwards succeeded in reporting the matter to Chief Smith, who would never have expressed himself in favor of Little's suspension.

F. E. Crawford, a reporter, was called to give his recollections of the meeting at which the commissioners discharged Little. No new points were brought out but the witness agreed with the statement of Mr. McGreggor that the commissioners had asked Twaddle if Kennedy or Cox had induced him to prefer charges of conspiracy.

At that stage of the proceedings, Alderman Weiss was excused which served to bring Mr. Rude to his feet and exclaim that in his opinion there seemed to be the singular state of affairs; that only eight aldermen were present, at other times only nine had been on hand, that in cases of impeachment a two-thirds vote—ten members—was required to convict and that it was a well settled fact that no member of a tribunal is competent to vote on the result of the proceedings who has not heard all the testimony. The chair held if any members who are absent at any time read all the evidence after it has been properly transcribed, they would be competent to judge. Mr. Rude entered his exceptions to that ruling and sat down.

Ex-Policeman Lynott was introduced as a witness by the defense. He started off promptly in a recitative manner but soon he was thrown off the track and badly mixed up by a few supplementary interrogations from the counsel for the defendants. When Attorney Holmes started in on the examination he soon was completely at sea and could not tell within a month of when an event happened. He stated, for example, that his trouble with Twaddle occurred December 15. At the close of his testimony, after a whispered consultation with Mr. Rude, he was placed on the stand to correct that date, making it November 15.

The chief points in Lynott's vague testimony was that by Little's request he did not mention his name at the investigation and that Little stated to him that for three days he had been denying all knowledge of the matter and that being brought into the Twaddle-Lynott rum-pus would bring about his discharge. The record and fact of Twaddle's conviction upon the charge of disorderly conduct, as shown by the police court records, was placed in evidence by the defense, after which, on motion of Alderman Kennedy, adjournment was taken until 2 p. m.

FORGED SEVERAL CHECKS.

Some West End Merchants Victimized by a Young Man.

A young man, giving the name of Harry Clawson, has been victimizing a number of merchants at the West End by means of forged checks, purporting to have been drawn in his favor by Crane, Ordway & Co. In the first place there is no such firm in Duluth, the proper name being the Crane & Ordway company of West Michigan. Checks drawn in the next place the checks which have turned up so far all bear the number 841, and all are for $18. They are all dated February 4, but they were not uttered until Saturday evening.

The form of the checks is precisely similar and all are drawn on the Iron Exchange bank. The People's bank, the St. Louis County bank and the American Exchange bank each received one of the checks and then the Iron Exchange bank for collection. The forged went to Krupp & Rink's meat market and ordered an eight-pound roast of beef sent up to No. 31 Twenty-fifth avenue west and gave one of the checks in payment. A. N. Hopkins, the meat weighmaster, received the check and knew nothing of the meat deal.

The forged then went over to C. S. Pierce's hardware store and selected a No. 10 wash boiler worth $17.50 and offered another check, receiving the balance in cash. He then went to another hardware store and ordered another wash boiler similar in price receiving the balance in cash. Both the wash boilers were ordered sent to No. 27 Twenty-fifth avenue west, and were to be delivered early Monday morning "in time for the folks to commence washing." The two hardware delivery men went to the designated house at the same time, but found it vacant, and they each have an expensive wash boiler on hand. It is supposed that a number of other checks have been issued, but none have been reported.

The utterer of the checks is reported as a young man whose face seemed familiar to all of the victims. Another check turned up this morning. It was for $18 and was of the same number as the others. Tubbs & Wood got this one.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

The Work of the Term is Well Under Way and Progressing Rapidly.

The district court convened this morning in room 1, with Judge Ensign presiding. The following special venire for grand jurors was returned and the gentlemen named were sworn in: H. R. Fish, G. A. Gray, L. K. Dougherty, Charles Boyle, E. C. Little, O. C. Reitan and A. Overton. The roll of the petit jurors was called.

The case of J. J. & R. A. Costello vs. W. C. Doherty et al. was stricken from the calendar. Charles Bergquist vs. Joshua Helmer was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff. The report of the commissioners in condemnation proceedings, in which the city is interested, was confirmed. The action of Louis McGreggor & Co., cement dealers, vs. Paul Sharpy, as sheriff, is on trial.

Judge Ensign has made the following set of cases for the balance of the week: Wednesday—$84, 49. Thursday—66, 68, 71, 74, 80, 83, 84, 85. Friday—86, 88, 89, 93, 94, 95, 101.

In room 4, before Judge D. B. Searle, the case of John W. Stoddard vs. F. W. Fitzpatrick was the first one to come up. The two were waived and judgment was rendered for the plaintiff for the amount asked in the complaint. The next case was that of J. A. Bowman vs. B. B. Richards Lumber & Atlantic railway, in which a jury was drawn and part of the testimony is in, and the case is still on trial.

The grand jury has made no report as yet but it is in session this afternoon. About forty subpoenas for witnesses have been issued at the county attorney's request.

Extended to Duluth.

On the 27th of the present month the Marquette and Bessemer railway postal service route will be extended to Duluth, and the name of the route will probably be changed to the Marquette and Duluth route. The service will be over the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway, and will give this city another batch of railway postal clerks. The road has been carrying locked through pouches heretofore.

COFFEE AND TEA AT MEALS.

Effect Upon the System of Their Constant Use.

Action on the Nerves, Brain and Feelings.

Need Not Be Stopped, But Their Influence Must Be Counteracted.

"Do you drink tea and coffee?"

"Certainly, everyone does."

The speakers were a prominent Fifth avenue physician and a Wall street financier, says the New York Tribune.

Continuing, the physician said:

"It is true that nearly every one does drink tea and coffee. Why? To make blood, to make brain, to make muscle, to make nerve? Not a bit of it. There is no nourishment in these articles; they simply keep the feelings."

"But doctor," said the business man anxiously, "must I stop their use?"

"Not necessarily," was the physician's reply. "It is true that they do not nourish, but they can be taken in moderation without any special injury, providing a good nerve food is used at the same time."

"What do you mean by a good nerve food?"

"I mean," said the physician, "something which provides a food for the nerves; a nerve builder. It is difficult to find just the ingredients for this purpose, but it seems to have been found in the discovery made by Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth college, known as Phelps's celery compound. The way in which the ingredients of this compound are combined, make it an actual nerve food. It contains just the properties which the nerves require for growth, development, and strength."

The physician expressed a great truth in a few words. The nerves do require a special food, and there are a wonderful number of people throughout the land who have found this compound to meet their wants. A recent letter from Gen. Alexander T. Milne, who now resides at Tarrytown, N. Y., bears strongly on this point. He writes:

"Phelps's celery compound has been a blessing to my family. I relieved Mrs. Hamilton, who, after suffering from a severe attack of the grip, suffered from excessive nervousness and great prostration. And our daughter of 16, who also suffered from the grip and measles, was cured by this remedy in the same manner."

"I have, for many years, suffered from wounds received during the late war, there being one over my left lung and head, and another over my right shoulder, and for twenty years, but after using Phelps's celery compound for the past year or two, I am vigorous and well, and free from the great nervousness and hemorrhage from which I suffered as the effect of the ball over my heart."

"My only child would not be without Phelps's celery compound in the house. It builds up the system, and is the best medicine that we ever used."

CHOSE GRESHAM

The Great Jurist Has Been Selected by Mr. Cleveland to be the Secretary of State.

In Two Weeks Judge Gresham Will Resign the Judgeship and Prepare to Go to Washington.

Was Persuaded to Accept Only When the Country's Great Need for His Services Was Shown.

Don Dickinson Regards Him as Good a Democrat Now as Anyone in the Country.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—The Herald this morning prints the following, dated New York, Feb. 8: Judge Walter Q. Gresham, of Chicago, is to be secretary of state in the Cleveland administration. This fact became known here today to a few persons. The offer of the post has been made to Judge Gresham and he has accepted it. Mr. Cleveland himself will make the fact known in a day or two.

The rumor that Gresham was offered the place was circulated here some time ago and was received with incredulity by many Democrats. They did not believe it possible that Mr. Cleveland would go outside the ranks of his own party for a secretary of state and did not think Judge Gresham would accept even if the tender were made him. But the unexpected has happened, and Judge Gresham will in two weeks resign his seat on the bench and prepare to move to Washington to take up his duties as secretary of state.

JUDGE GRESHAM.

Thus a man who four years ago was a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination is to be premier under the incoming Democratic administration. Mr. Cleveland's position from the first has been that in the selection of a secretary of state he did not propose to stand strictly by party lines. He has all along said that he wanted the best man that could be found in the country. He wanted a man strong and learned, of perfect personal and public integrity and one who held to an unusual degree the confidence of the people.

This ideal was more closely filled by Judge Gresham than by any other man Mr. Cleveland could think of. While Mr. Cleveland was in the line of office of mind, Judge Gresham happened to come to the city. It is not known whether he came by invitation of Mr. Cleveland or not, but it is known that he was called upon by Mr. Whitney at his hotel and Mr. Whitney informed Judge Gresham that his name had been under consideration for secretary of state. Judge Gresham was surprised at this and said to Mr. Whitney that he could not think it possible that he was in earnest. But Mr. Whitney urged the judge to call on Mr. Cleveland, and within an hour or so an invitation from Mr. Cleveland to the judge to call at his home was held by a messenger.

The call was of two hours' duration, but it is not known that the matter of the cabinet was mentioned at that time. Shortly after Mr. Dickinson made a trip to Chicago and carried Mr. Cleveland's offer. Judge Gresham was not surprised at it, for as already said he had had intimations that Mr. Cleveland might tender him the post. But he had thought the matter over and had concluded to decline. He did decline in most positive terms. It is reported here that his words were: "Mr. Cleveland cannot afford to offer me this place, and I cannot afford to take it."

Mr. Cleveland then asked Senator Gray, of Delaware, to take the secretaryship of state, but Senator Gray, who had just been re-elected by his legislature, declined. Mr. Cleveland then turned again to Judge Gresham, and the astute and secretive Don M. Dickinson was once more sent on a mission to Chicago. Finally Judge Gresham was persuaded to accept. He did so only when Mr. Cleveland's great need and the country's great need of his services was pointed out to him. The argument which had most effect with Judge Gresham was that the new administration would be brought face to face with some of the most important questions of the age, questions of a delicate and possibly dangerous nature, involving the peace and welfare of the country, and that the new administration almost at a right to command the services of any distinguished citizen whom he might think most available for the duty of the hour. With much reluctance Judge Gresham gave his consent, and Mr. Dickinson carried the news back to this city, greatly to his own and Mr. Cleveland's delight.

WHAT DICKINSON SAYS.

Claims Gresham is as Good a Democrat as Anybody.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Great interest

was manifested here in a rumor which came from New York to the effect that Judge Gresham was to be secretary of state under President Cleveland. Don M. Dickinson, when asked about the rumor, replied: "You will have to ask Mr. Cleveland about that. It is his business and not mine. But I feel sure of one thing, and that is if Judge Gresham should go into the cabinet he would make a strong minister and help to give the people confidence in the administration. I know Judge Gresham very well and I look upon him as being now as good a Democrat as there is in the country. If Mr. Cleveland has succeeded in inducing Judge Gresham to be his secretary of state it is a fortunate thing for the party and the country. But you will have to see Mr. Cleveland as to the truth of the rumor."

GRESHAM REMAINS SILENT.

He Cannot Talk Until Mr. Cleveland Has First Spoke.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—The Herald this morning has the following: Judge Gresham refused last night to discuss the dispatch from New York relative to his acceptance of a cabinet portfolio. This action on the part of the eminent jurist, when taken in conjunction with the questions put to him by the Herald reporter, is equivalent to an acknowledgment that he has accepted the premiership. It will be readily understood that Judge Gresham could not talk on the subject until Mr. Cleveland had announced his selections.

REACHED A COMPROMISE

A New Bill for Bridging the River at Grassy Point, All Others Being Withdrawn.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—[Special to The Herald.]—Congressman Haugen, of Wisconsin, today presented a bill to take the place of all other bills providing for the construction of a bridge over the St. Louis river at Grassy Point. It gives municipalities directly interested control of the bridge instead of placing it in the hands of private corporations, as provided in the other bills. It is reduced. G. G. Hartley and L. E. Mendenhall, of Duluth, are in Washington trying to revive the Duluth-Superior Bridge company's bill. The secretary of war has decided against a bridge being erected at that point under their bill.

The judgment finds the defendants guilty of swindling and breach of trust.

OVER THIRTY DROWNED.

Wreck of an Anchor Line Steamer on the Spanish Coast.

MADRID, Feb. 9.—Dispatches have just been received from Corunna announcing the wreck of the Anchor line steamer Trinacra on the Pormollas rocks at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning. The steamer carried a crew of thirty-seven men and a few passengers, including several women, who were drowned. Seven of the crew succeeded in reaching shore. The terrible breakers swept over them.

The passengers were of the mission at Gibraltar and soldiers belonging to the garrison at that place. Among the women were Mrs. Bell, who was on her way to rejoin her husband; Miss Scoville, belonging to the mission, who was returning from a fortnight's stay in a novitiate; and Kitty Smith, a child. All were drowned.

THE FLAG WAVES

The Stars and Stripes Now Proudly Float Over the Seat of the Government in Hawaii.

United States Minister Stevens Has Created a Protectorate at the Request of Hawaiian Leaders.

It is Subject to the Result of the Negotiations Now Pending at Washington.

The Provisional Government at Honolulu Has Been Recognized by the Consuls of Foreign Nations.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The most important news brought by the steamship Australia which arrived from Honolulu last night is that United States Minister Stevens has established a protectorate over the islands. The act was acknowledged at 9 o'clock in the morning of Feb. 1, when the stars and stripes were raised over Aliolani hall and Minister Stevens issued the following proclamation: To the Hawaiian people: At the request of the provisional government of the Hawaiian Islands, I hereby, in the name of the United States of America, assume protection of the Hawaiian islands for the protection of life and property and occupation of public buildings on Hawaiian soil, as far as may be necessary for the purpose specified, but not interfering with the administration of public affairs by the provisional government. This action is taken pending and subject to negotiations at Washington.

(Signed) JOHN L. STEVENS, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Hawaii, Feb. 1, 1893.

The Advertiser says regarding the Stevens proclamation that the action was principally due to the incessant agitation on the part of certain whites who have always been the curse of the country, coupled with English and native newspaper efforts to discredit and block the new government. These agencies spread through the town a feeling of uneasiness and distrust. The provisional government concluded that some positive step was necessary and it would be wisest to call on the United States for direct assistance.

The Advertiser, continuing, says: At 5:30 a. m. on the first the Boston's battalion was landed under Lieut. Compton and sent up to the government building where detachments from the volunteer companies' provisional government were drawn up. Lieut. Compton read Mr. Stevens' proclamation and on the stroke of the star-spangled banner fluttered up the staff on the tower. The flag was saluted by the troops and marines and the heavier guns of the Boston, and Hawaii was under Uncle Sam's wing for the time being at least.

The Hawaiian flag still flies on the palace court yard. The palace, barracks, police station, custom house, etc., remain in possession of the provisional government, which will administer public business as usual. The arms and ammunition will be withdrawn from Aliolani hall which, until definite intelligence arrives from the United States, will be guarded by a detachment from the Boston. The event of this morning is hailed with joy throughout the community. It will bring about peace and prosperity and will please all, except those who do not want Hawaii to enjoy these or any other blessings. It is not the act of aggression but of friendliness, done at the instance of the Hawaiian government. May this friendliness result in union which shall endure for ever.

CONFIDENCE IS MANIFEST.

The Ability of the Provisional Government to Preserve Order.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The Oceanic steamship Australia brings the following advices: Public confidence in the ability of the provisional government to preserve order and quiet is manifest everywhere, as well as a disposition on the part of the citizens to co-operate in every possible way to assist it. President Sanford B. Dole on Jan. 22 issued a proclamation announcing that all powers, duties, etc., required of the sovereignty of the Hawaiian kingdom, should be hereafter vested in and performed by the president of the provisional government and that the executive council would perform the duties of the cabinet.

Another proclamation announces that if any person recruits soldiers or sailors within the Hawaiian islands to engage in armed hostility against the government, or acts in any other treasonable manner, he shall be punished by fine and imprisonment, not less than six months nor more than six years. The proclamation also demanded that all persons in the employ of the government take the oath of allegiance within twenty days.

At a meeting of the executive and advisory councils on Jan. 25, it was decided to send a notification of appointment of Sanford B. Dole as president of the provisional government, to the rulers of all foreign powers, and to organize a national guard of four companies. W. G. Ashley was appointed marshal and J. H. Soper commander of the forces, with the rank of colonel. Martial law still continues at Honolulu, but the hours have been lessened. This proclamation resulted in the maintenance of complete order and diffused a feeling of security throughout the community.

Among the passengers on the steamer were Paul Neuman, the deposed queen's attorney, and Judge H. A. Wademan, who are on their way to Washington to present the queen's case. News from other islands of the group outside of Hawaii indicates that the natives await in patience the outcome, apparently

READING AND DREXEL

The Relations Between the Railroad Management and the Great Banking House Have Become Strained.

The Breach Dates From President McLeod's Entry Into New England Fighting the Vanderbilt Interest.

A Battle Royal Being Fought There Between the Vanderbilt People and the Reading Combination.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—The Evening Telegraph says: For some weeks an impression has existed in financial circles that the relations between the management of the Reading and the banking house of Drexel have become somewhat strained, and that hereafter the Reading will have to look elsewhere for the financial backing which in the past it has been wont to receive from the Drexels. Recent events have tended to strengthen this belief.

ARCHIBALD A. McLEOD.

It is some years now since the firm of Drexel at first became associated in the public mind with the interests of the Reading company. Since A. A. McLeod succeeded Austin Corbin, as president of Reading, in the summer of 1889 and until a comparatively recent date, the relations between the banking house and the railroad company have been of the most intimate nature.

When temporary advances were needed, the funds were forthcoming from that source; when the new terminal in this city was to be built, the Drexels organized a syndicate to furnish the money and for all the terminal bonds; and when former issues of bonds matured, Drexel has negotiated their extension. But the intimacy of their relations with the Reading was not fully disclosed until one year ago, when it became known that the Reading had leased both the Jersey Central and Lehigh Valley and that a great antirust combination had been formed.

With whom that idea originated has never been discovered. By some it has been attributed to Pierpont Morgan, of the New York house of Drexel, Morgan & Co., and others have credited President McLeod with evolving the scheme, while there are not a few well informed people who believe that John Lowe Welsh, a close friend and business attorney of the Drexels, was responsible for its creation.

But the fact seems to be that the house of Drexel took an active part in the plans and negotiations which preceded the accomplishment of the deal, and that without their aid and advice the coal combination would never have been organized. The first intimation that these friendly relations had become strained was the outcome of President McLeod's now well known policy of seeking for new worlds to conquer. His capture of the Boston & Maine was regarded as a move threatening to the extensive interests of the Vanderbilts in the New England states, and as the Vanderbilts' financial support is none other than Pierpont Morgan, it began to be noised about that Drexel & Co. had not been consulted upon the subject.

This impression was confirmed when, by a sensational coup, Mr. McLeod and his new associates secured the Connecticut river line, just as it was about to be turned over to the New York, New Haven & Bedford, a Vanderbilt line, in which Mr. Morgan is heavily interested. It is now no longer a secret that the Reading and the Vanderbilts are fighting a battle royal in the New England states, and it is not doubted that Mr. Morgan, of the firm of Drexel & Co., is an active participant upon the Vanderbilt side.

But these are not the only indications of a breach between the Reading and the Drexels. When money was needed to pay the interest on bonds it was forthcoming in this city, and Messrs. Spier & Co., of Philadelphia responded with the necessary funds. Next to this comes the announcement that Drexel & Co. have resumed their old relations with the Pennsylvania railroad. For a long time the financing of the line controlled by this company has been conducted through other responsible firms, but the Drexels had no share in the business as they formerly did. This fact gave rise to a belief that the relations between the Drexels and the Pennsylvania were somewhat strained, but if that were ever true it is not so now.

As evidence of this, it is announced that Drexel & Co. have offered to exchange for the $750,000 six per cent bonds of the Western Pennsylvania railroad, new mortgage bonds of the same road, and charge not and accrued interest for the four. The Western Pennsylvania is a leased line of the Pennsylvania system.

Ministers' Sons Gambling.
ALLIANCE, O., Feb. 9.—Mount Union college has been badly torn up lately over the conduct of a number of students. Gambling has been indulged in by some of them and so notorious did the matter become that vigorous action became necessary by the faculty. Thorough investigations have been made, resulting in the suspension of seven of the students. The majority of them are ministers' sons.

THE RECORD OF EVIDENCE.

It Will be Given to the Chamber of Deputies on the Panama Frauds.

PARIS, Feb. 9.—M. Bourgeois, minister of justice, has given authority for the commission of inquiry of the chamber of deputies to receive from the chamber of indictments the record of evidence, showing the grounds on which the chamber of indictments arrived at their decision in the case of the members and ex-members of the chamber accused of accepting bribes from the Panama Canal company. The commission, after receiving the evidence, will proceed to consider the question whether any further action is necessary on the part of the chamber in regard to those of its members who have been relieved of criminal accusation by the chamber of indictments. The newspapers generally express discontent at the action of the chamber, although all the charges are substantially the same and apparently based on substantially identical evidence, yet no reasons are given for the difference in the decisions arrived at in regard to the persons accused.

The opposition press protests strongly against the acquittal of Rouvier, and suggests that it is due to state reasons and that the authorities were afraid to put him on trial, for fear he would reveal secrets that would weaken the government in the public estimation.

THE PANAMA EXTENSION.

Little Prospect of the French Company Securing More Privileges.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Herald's special cable from Panama says: The French and American ministers have arrived at Bogota, having traveled together from Curacao.

M. Mange held a conference lasting several hours with the French minister yesterday. It is said he intends to file a formal application at once for an extension of time on the canal contract, notwithstanding the fact that Colombia declines to act on such an application until the railway question has been satisfactorily arranged. The Colombian government regards the recent transfer of railroad stock as a direct violation of the terms of the Wyse contract.

United States Minister Abbott yesterday filed with the Colombian state department a copy of the complaint of the attorney general of New York against the Panama Railway company and a copy of the motion for the appointment of an American receiver for the road. The opinion here is that these papers will play an important part in the settlement of the question at issue. While it increases the complication, it is generally believed that it leaves little hope for the French securing the desired extension of time.

A FEUD IN TENNESSEE.

Two Men Shot Down and a Woman Almost Decapitated.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A special to the World from Knoxville, Tenn., says: Two factions in Green county, Tenn., and Madison county, N. C., led on the one hand by E. K. Johnson and on the other by the notorious mountaineer Jim Cole, have for months been fighting each other through the courts.

Yesterday Jim Cole and a friend, Tom Hixon, visited Johnson's house, claiming to have a warrant for Mrs. Johnson's arrest. She called her husband to come to her assistance. His feet were frozen but he managed to crawl out and open fire on Hixon and Cole. They returned the fire and Johnson was killed.

Mrs. Johnson ran into the house and returned with a shotgun, the contents of which she emptied into Hixon's breast, killing him. She was about to open fire upon Cole but he got ahead of her and with a load of buckshot at a close range almost decapitated the woman. She fell helpless across the body of her husband.

The Jacksons have six grown children who say they will avenge the killing of their parents.

THE BOTTOM IS VISIBLE.

The Gold Resources of the Government Have Been Exhausted.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Herald this morning says: The drain of American gold coin to Europe has at last exhausted the resources of the government, and the private stores in the various vaults of the banks have been drawn upon to tide over the emergency. The secret has been well kept, but of the $3,500,000 in American gold that was shipped to Europe last Saturday $2,000,000 was loaned to the sub-treasury by banks of this city.

The entire supply of gold in the vaults of the United States treasury today has been reduced to $108,176,358. Of this only $8,176,938 is free gold; the remainder, $100,000,000, must be by law held in the treasury for the redemption of a like amount of legal tender which has been issued against it. The bottom of Uncle Sam's gold box is visible.

ON CAPT. TAYLOR'S CASE.

Papers Regarding His Mental Condition Go to the War Department.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 9.—The court martial at Fort Wayne has received no further instructions from Gen. Miles and it stands adjourned subject to the call of the president judge.

Papers setting forth the facts in Capt. Taylor's case regarding his mental condition have been forwarded to the war department at Washington. If the secretary of war considers that the facts sustain the charge of mental incompetency, he will appoint a retiring board to take charge of the case.

If the retiring board finds that the captain is of sound mind, the case will be referred back to the court martial.

Evidently Approve Lynching.

GUTHRIE, Okla., Feb. 9.—A resolution was introduced in the house yesterday by J. A. Wallace, the negro Democratic member, condemning lynching. The intention of the resolution was to censure recent lynchings in the South and more particularly the lynchings in Texas. The resolution was voted down by a large majority.

The Irrigation Bill.

WITHOUT THE
Nox-pull-out
BOW (RING)

It is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leaving the victim only the chain.

This idea stopped that little game: The bow has a groove on each end, a collar runs down inside the pendant stem and fits into the grooves, firmly locking the bow to the pendant, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

THE FLAG WAVES

having the idea that Honolulu is the place where the whole matter must be solved. Fortunately there are none of them who might be called leaders or who are of an inflammatory nature, and as long as those that are considered leaders are kept in Honolulu there is very little danger of any trouble arising, as it is not likely that a change will bring with it anything of a radical nature. The natives will drift into an altered state, as if nothing had happened.

In a communication to the executive council of the provisional government dated Jan. 10, British Minister Woodhouse recognized the provisional government pending instructions from the home office. The provisional government's volunteer army is increasing. Legislative hall and other rooms at the government building have been converted into barracks for the men.

James B. Castle has been appointed secretary of the executive and advisory councils of the new regime. The government has repealed the lottery act and it is reported that the holders of the franchise will bring a suit for damages, claiming that a franchise for twenty-five years is a vested right which cannot be withdrawn. A law has been passed forbidding importation of arms and ammunition by anyone except the government.

The eldest daughter of United States Minister Stevens was drowned at Kilauea recently.

THEY PREFER AMERICANS.

The People of Hawaii Consider Annexation Advisable.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The brig Consuello, A. Jacobson, master, arrived from Kahlui, Hawaiian islands, last evening. A United Press reporter boarded her from the customs house boat and learned from Capt. Jacobson that he had sailed two days after the Claudine which brought up the news of the revolution.

Capt. Jacobson, in speaking of affairs on the island, said from what he saw at Kahlui and from what he had heard of the happenings at Honolulu, the political status had remained unchanged since the advent of the provisional government with Judge Dole at its head. There were no discussions to be observed anywhere and peace and tranquility prevailed under the maintenance of provisional government.

The excitement with which it had been heralded abated rapidly, and in a day or two it had entirely subsided and business at all points where the Consuello left was proceeding quietly. At Kahlui the natives, or such of them who took an interest in the matter, considered annexation to the United States most advisable. Their preference for foreigners was manifestly in favor of Americans, or as Capt. Jacobson said, "There is nobody for them like Americans."

The marines who had been landed from the cruiser Boston were still on shore and there were absolutely no signs of trouble. Capt. Jacobson gave it as his opinion that the provisional government would stand and his belief, he concluded, was generally entertained on the islands.

RECOGNIZED BY CONSULS.

Even the British Representatives Recognize the New Powers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The schooner Robert Lewis arrived from Honolulu last night bringing latest news of Hawaiian revolution. The latest feature is the receipt by the provisional government of certificates of recognition from the consular and diplomatic corps, consisting of the representatives of Japan, France, Great Britain, Chile, Denmark, Germany, Austro-Hungary, Spain, Portugal, Peru, Netherlands, recognizing the provisional government as the de facto government.

The answer of the British consul says he recognizes it as the de facto government pending instructions from his government. A number of laws have been passed by the provisional government. Among others is an act relating to the powers and duties of the president and executive council and conferring on the president of the provisional government all the duties heretofore performed by the sovereign. An act was also passed making it treason to bear arms against the provisional government.

THE NEWS AT WASHINGTON.

The Hawaiian Delegates Discuss the New State of Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The press dispatches from San Francisco this morning were the first received by the Hawaiian commissioners. Secretary Foster, in pursuance to the policy that he has adopted in dealing with this whole matter, declined to discuss Minister Stevens' action.

Mr. Thurston, the head of the annexation commission, was in consultation with the secretary at the time the news was received, with reference to the next conference between the commissioners and the secretary which was fixed for this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

When the Hawaiian visitors were informed of the existence of the protectorate, which was before the arrival of the dispatch giving the details of the establishment, they all agreed in the opinion that there had been no outbreak requiring the action of the United States minister but that it was due to threats of trouble.

Mr. Carter said that among some members of the rotation committee the sentiment had prevailed before the departure of the commissioners for the United States that a protectorate should be sought. But this feeling had been discouraged by himself and Mr. Thurston, they believing that the government should stand upon its own bottom pending the negotiations with this country.

When the details arrived and were communicated to them, Mr. Thurston and his associates at the time the whites who had made the trouble to which the Honolulu Advertiser referred comprised what was known as the opium gang politicians and the associates, and would be known in this country as ward strikers or "heelers."

Mr. Kinney, of Salt Lake, who accompanies the commission in the capacity of counsel, said that the most significant item of news in the dispatches from Honolulu was: "There have been indications of dissensions existing among the members of the executive council."

"This," he said, "betrays the greatest danger which now threatens the government. The members of the council are men who have been clothed with authority without any previous experience in the exercise of it, and without the restraining force of a protectorate they would inevitably have divided into factions and worked at cross purposes. A protectorate confirming the government in its control of affairs was absolutely necessary. The Hawaiians are the most perfect example of a people unable to manage their own affairs that I know."

Mr. Kinney said that the drowning of Miss Stevens, daughter of the American minister, had probably occurred at Hahaione while she was in bathing. Hawaii is the largest island of the group and some distance from Honolulu. Of the two gentlemen who were named as having arrived at San Francisco on the Australia, Mr. Kennedy said that Paul Newman was, as had been stated, the former attorney general in the cabinet of the deposed queen and came to this country as her personal representative, his errand being to present to the government of the United States her side of the controversy.

Prince Davis is a nephew of the queen, and was an inferior chief previous to the bestowal upon her of the crown. The Hawaiian and the officials of the state and navy departments expect advice from their representatives later in the day.

STATE MINING INSPECTOR.

Horace V. Winchell Thinks That One Should be Appointed.

Horace V. Winchell thinks that a crying need of the state, on the eve of the greatest era of the mining industry, is a state inspector or commissioner of mines. In an interview he said:

"In the first place, such an official is needed to avoid the needless and appalling list of fatal accidents that are happening constantly in the new mining regions. The superintendent of the mines are now selected too much in a hurry, and the result is many a man is killed by ignorance. Men are kept at work near tanks which, any competent superintendent could recognize as sure to cave in, men are mangled by dynamite explosions conducted in ignorance, and mines are dug and conducted in a most dangerous manner."

"A competent state commission of mines would prevent all this avoidable danger and fatality. The corporations claim that a mining inspector is unnecessary, because they are now liable for damages for their killed and wounded employees, but as long as the value of a human life is $50,000, according to state law, only that amount can be collected."

"Another function of a mining inspector or commissioner, which is equally important, is the collection and publication of reliable statistics as to the profit and improvement and operation of mines, quality of ore and method of mining. These statistics would afford most reliable and efficient advertisements of the state's mineral resources."

"The state has already received nearly $500,000 from the leasing of state land and incorporation of mining companies, royalties on ore mined in the state and taxes for railroads constructed solely for the purpose of conveying the ore. In 1892 the state will receive more than $100,000,000. An industry of so much importance can be guarded by an inspector at a salary of $5000 a year. The present legislature should appoint such an officer, instead of the proposed commission, with two years to investigate and report. This would delay the appointment of an inspector and continue an unnecessary loss of life for about three years. In all other states having developed mineral resources there is an inspector of mines, and in Pennsylvania there is an inspector for every county."

THE MUNICIPAL COURT.

A Finnish Girl Arrested for Stealing a Silk Handkerchief.

Minnie Albergina is a Finnish girl who does not speak the Yankee tongue. Detective Benson yesterday arrested Minnie for stealing from John Dickson one gentleman's silk cloth neckerchief valued at $1. In municipal court this morning the girl maintained her innocence and the hour for trial was set at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

H. C. Tuckett, charged with drunkenness and disorder, denied his guilt, and his trial was set for 2:30 p. m. P. J. Sylvester, in duress vile for using obscene language, insisted that he is innocent. The judge announced that he would decide that at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Thos. Dailey, Frank King, A. Johns and Wm. Ryan were adjudged guilty of imbibing fire water even unto inebriation and given ten days each in the county jail.

Three Thieving Toughs. About 11:30 o'clock last evening City Detectives Kenna and Hayden went down to Eleventh avenue west and arrested three toughs who have had a rendezvous in the basement of an old building up on the bluff side off from Superior street. The fellows have been thieving and some of the plunder was found at the time of their arrest. Among other things was a case of condensed milk which was stolen from a store the other day. The trio are a bad and desperate outfit and are resting behind the bars until enough evidence is collected to warrant a complaint upon which they can be convicted and put away awhile for safety.

Supposed to be Insane. Michael Brennan, better known here as "New Orleans Murphy," who was sent to the state's prison here for life for murder, stabbed a fellow prisoner quite dangerously a few days ago and Doctors Caine and Merrill have been appointed as a commission to examine into his sanity. He is undoubtedly insane and will go to one of the state hospitals.

THE DEATH OF A HERO

Albert Grau Perished in a Fire at Cincinnati Today, After Saving the Lives of Others.

After the Flames Were Subdued the Firemen Found That Four People Were Burned to Death.

No Fires in the Building at Night and Incendiarism is Said to be the Cause.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 9.—At 3:35 a. m. smoke was seen issuing from a third story window of John Heider's restaurant at 205 and 207 West Fifth street. The blaze raged furiously, having gained a firm and at the same time a mysterious hold in the rear of the buildings, which are frame kitchen sheds. The third floor was soon in full flame. The fire spread to the upper floors of the vacant building adjoining at the east, No. 203 West Fifth street, and then to the top of the structure adjoining at the west, No. 205 West Fifth street, occupied by G. A. Vehr as a shoe store.

Vehr and his daughter Annie, occupants of the living rooms above, escaped without much difficulty. The ghastly discovery that four human beings had perished in the flames was made until about 6 o'clock. The fire was practically subdued and several of the engines had been sent back to their houses. Others remained pouring water into the smoking and dripping structures. When the smoke had sufficiently subsided to permit the firemen to venture into the upper floors of the Heider building, a crew of men ascended and forced the windows.

The first room entered was the bedroom of Fred Detzler, aged 22, a young waiter employed in Heider's restaurant. There was no evidence of life or fire. A peculiar, pungent odor which has to firemen an awful and certain meaning caused one of them to look under the bed. There lay the remains of Detzler, but a charred black flesh heap.

The firemen proceeded to the next room. Here was found the body of a man. His last name was Gottlieb. He was employed by John Heider. He was 30 years of age. The corpse of the man was found in a sickening state by that of young Detzler, who was another flesh heap, the remnant of old John Masnar, a helper about the place. He was 30 years of age.

Most pitiable of all was the finding of the burned and blistered corpse of Albert Grau, who died the death of the hero. He was 30 years of age, a fireman in the restaurant. His character was such as to evoke the esteem of all who knew him, and his death while performing a perilous task is touching to tell. Being a strong and vigorous young man he might have saved himself.

The firemen roused him, and he rushed to the doors of the apartments occupied by the Heiders and kicked resoundingly at them. He cried lustily "The state will receive more than $100,000,000. An industry of so much importance can be guarded by an inspector at a salary of $5000 a year. The present legislature should appoint such an officer, instead of the proposed commission, with two years to investigate and report. An Indian Trader tells his story of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa.

Cured of a Distressing Stomach Difficulty.

Rushville, Neb., June 5. Some time ago after suffering severely with stomach trouble and dyspepsia, which had been greatly aggravated by the alkali water of the western country, and when I had reached that stage where I could eat nothing at all, I learned from a Sioux Indian, who had been on a visit to the Kickapoo tribe, of a wonderful remedy called "Sagwa."

I got a bottle of "Sagwa," and found it to be remarkable. I tried to get more from the Indian, but he would not let me have more of his. He prized it so much he would not give it up. I then learned that Healy & Bigelow, of New Haven, Conn., had an arrangement with the Kickapoo tribe, and was putting their remedies on the market. I sent and got a bottle of the Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, and found it to be the same as that I had procured from the Sioux Indian. I got more, and after the use of a few bottles, I was not only relieved but entirely cured, and have stayed cured ever since.

I can eat anything set before me. Salt bacon, which used to have a most distressing effect, I can now eat and relish like an Indian. I have also used the Kickapoo Indian Sagwa for my horses, when they have been cut severely on barbed wire fences, and it heals them right up.

I cannot speak too highly of the Kickapoo remedies, and cheerfully recommend them to anyone.

I have used it in my family for the past two years and have found it the best I ever used for these purposes for which it is intended. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by druggists."

Mr. Kinney, of Salt Lake, who accompanies the commission in the capacity of counsel, said that the most significant item of news in the dispatches from Honolulu was: "There have been indications of dissensions existing among the members of the executive council."

"This," he said, "betrays the greatest danger which now threatens the government. The members of the council are men who have been clothed with authority without any previous experience in the exercise of it, and without the restraining force of a protectorate they would inevitably have divided into factions and worked at cross purposes. A protectorate confirming the government in its control of affairs was absolutely necessary. The Hawaiians are the most perfect example of a people unable to manage their own affairs that I know."

Mr. Kinney said that the drowning of Miss Stevens, daughter of the American minister, had probably occurred at Hahaione while she was in bathing. Hawaii is the largest island of the group and some distance from Honolulu. Of the two gentlemen who were named as having arrived at San Francisco on the Australia, Mr. Kennedy said that Paul Newman was, as had been stated, the former attorney general in the cabinet of the deposed queen and came to this country as her personal representative, his errand being to present to the government of the United States her side of the controversy.

Prince Davis is a nephew of the queen, and was an inferior chief previous to the bestowal upon her of the crown. The Hawaiian and the officials of the state and navy departments expect advice from their representatives later in the day.

STATE MINING INSPECTOR. Horace V. Winchell Thinks That One Should be Appointed.

Horace V. Winchell thinks that a crying need of the state, on the eve of the greatest era of the mining industry, is a state inspector or commissioner of mines. In an interview he said:

"In the first place, such an official is needed to avoid the needless and appalling list of fatal accidents that are happening constantly in the new mining regions. The superintendent of the mines are now selected too much in a hurry, and the result is many a man is killed by ignorance. Men are kept at work near tanks which, any competent superintendent could recognize as sure to cave in, men are mangled by dynamite explosions conducted in ignorance, and mines are dug and conducted in a most dangerous manner."

"A competent state commission of mines would prevent all this avoidable danger and fatality. The corporations claim that a mining inspector is unnecessary, because they are now liable for damages for their killed and wounded employees, but as long as the value of a human life is $50,000, according to state law, only that amount can be collected."

"Another function of a mining inspector or commissioner, which is equally important, is the collection and publication of reliable statistics as to the profit and improvement and operation of mines, quality of ore and method of mining. These statistics would afford most reliable and efficient advertisements of the state's mineral resources."

"The state has already received nearly $500,000 from the leasing of state land and incorporation of mining companies, royalties on ore mined in the state and taxes for railroads constructed solely for the purpose of conveying the ore. In 1892 the state will receive more than $100,000,000. An industry of so much importance can be guarded by an inspector at a salary of $5000 a year. The present legislature should appoint such an officer, instead of the proposed commission, with two years to investigate and report. This would delay the appointment of an inspector and continue an unnecessary loss of life for about three years. In all other states having developed mineral resources there is an inspector of mines, and in Pennsylvania there is an inspector for every county."

The firemen roused him, and he rushed to the doors of the apartments occupied by the Heiders and kicked resoundingly at them. He cried lustily "The state will receive more than $100,000,000. An industry of so much importance can be guarded by an inspector at a salary of $5000 a year. The Weather.

D. S. WATKINS, Bureau, Duluth, Minn., Feb. 9. There has been a general rise in temperature over the entire country, amounting to from 10 to 20 degrees. The weather is now generally clear, with a few light clouds. The wind is from the west, and the temperature is in the 40s.

A slight depression that was noticed as being over Colorado and Wyoming yesterday morning has developed into a cyclone, which is now moving eastward. It is expected to reach the Great Lakes by Saturday morning, and will then move on to the east. The weather will be stormy, with heavy rain and high winds.

The highest point reached by the temperature here yesterday was 17, but it continued to rise during the night and reached 17 at 10 o'clock this morning. The snow that fell during the night amounted to 35 inch when melted.

DULUTH, Feb. 9.—Snow and slightly warmer today, followed by fair and colder Friday; wind shifting to southeast and west.

Local Forecast: Clear.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—President will 8 p. m. tomorrow. The President will leave for his home at 8 p. m. tomorrow. The President will be accompanied by Mrs. McKinley and their children.

The political sensation of the day is the announcement, which seems to be based on good authority, that Judge Gresham has been offered and has accepted the portfolio of secretary of state in Mr. Cleveland's cabinet. Since the time when Abraham Lincoln formed his first cabinet, there has not been another instance where a president has gone outside the ranks of his own party to select a member of his cabinet, and therefore this move on the part of President-elect Cleveland has created great surprise among the politicians. And yet, it can hardly be said that Judge Gresham is not a member of the Democratic party, because he voted for its candidates at the election last November and is thoroughly in line with the tariff views entertained by Mr. Cleveland.

In making this selection, Mr. Cleveland has again shown his purpose to give the country an administration that will be particularly free from partisanship. That he should have passed many old and tried Democrats and selected a recent convert, when picking out the premier of his administration, shows that he values ability more than partisanship in the selection of his cabinet. Judge Gresham will be a tower of strength to the administration, and will undoubtedly rank with the great men who have filled that high office.

Walter Quinton Gresham was born near Lanesville, Ind., on March 17, 1832. He was educated in country schools and spent one year in the state university at Bloomington, Ind., but was not graduated. He then studied law in Corydon, Ind., was admitted to the bar in 1853 and became a successful lawyer. He was elected to the legislature in 1856, but resigned in August, 1857, to become lieutenant-colonel of the Thirty-eighth Indiana regiment. He was promoted to colonel of the Fifty-third Indiana in December, and on August 11, 1862, after the fall of Vicksburg, was made brigadier-general of volunteers. He commanded the fourth division of Blair's corps in the fighting before Atlanta and received a severe wound that disabled him for a year and prevented him from seeing further service. On March 13, 1865, he was brevetted major-general of volunteers for his gallantry at Atlanta.

After the war he resumed practice at New Albany, Ind. He was an unsuccessful Republican candidate for congress in 1866, and in 1867 was presidential agent of his state in New York. President Grant, who held him in great esteem, made him United States judge for the district of Indiana in 1869, and in 1870 he was an unsuccessful candidate for United States senator. He resigned his judgeship in April, 1882, to accept the place of postmaster general in President Arthur's cabinet, and in July, 1884, on the death of Secretary Folger, was transferred to the treasury portfolio. In October of that year he was appointed United States judge for the Seventh judicial circuit, which office he still holds. Judge Gresham was a strong supporter of Gen. Grant for a third term in the Chicago convention of 1880, but never took a very conspicuous part personally in politics, although his name has always been kept prominently before the public by many admiring friends. He was several times pushed forward as a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, and last year great pressure was brought to bear upon him to accept the People's party nomination for president, it being known that he had repudiated the Republican tariff doctrines as enunciated by Harrison, McKinley and other leaders. He could not subscribe to many of the Populists' visionary and impractical ideas, and being a strong believer in tariff reform he announced his purpose to vote for Mr. Cleveland. This resolve he carried out, and Don Dickinson is probably correct when he says that Judge Gresham is now as good a Democrat as there is in the country.

Another Judge Needed.

The Herald publishes in this issue some statistics regarding the heavy amount of business which is now transacted in the courts of the Eleventh judicial district, with a comparison showing the heavy increase which has taken place in the last few years, thus emphasizing the necessity of an additional judgeship being created by the legislature, according to the terms of a measure which is now before that body.

A reading of these statistics will show that the present judges are much overworked, with the result that the senior judge has been compelled to seek a temporary rest, owing to his health becoming impaired by the exacting and onerous duties of the office. It is manifestly impossible for two judges, no matter how diligently they may labor, to keep up with the great and constantly increasing amount of business that comes before them. They have done well in the past to keep nearly even with the cases, but the point has been reached where that is an impossibility, and the only solution of the question is the speedy appointment of a third judge.

Should the present legislature decline to grant the request for another judge, business will be so hopelessly in arrears two years hence that even three judges will be unable to clear up the calendar. The table of cases commenced shows an increase of 50 per cent in the last three years, and there is no reason to doubt that there will be a still greater increase in the coming two years. As Judge Ensign points out, the cases in this district are dissimilar from those in most counties of the state, growing out of commercial and manufacturing business and mineral contracts and involving titles to lands that are of great and increasing value. These cases demand from a court more time and research than ordinary litigation.

Carlton county will soon need longer terms of court, and Lake county will probably have one this year for the first time. It is suggested that when another judge is appointed, Itasca county might be added to the district, as the business had not reached very large proportions as yet. The Herald trusts that the representatives from this district will spare no effort to secure the creation of a third judgeship.

A Chimerical Idea.

The Superior Court refuses to believe that the report of the West End chamber of commerce appointed to get at the feelings of the people regarding a high or low bridge from Rice's to Connor's Point correctly represents the popular sentiment. While not charging that an impartial canvass was not made, it points out that the number of men who did sign is small and hardly enough of a verdict upon which to make up judgment. "The only excuse," says the Call, "that can be made for anyone who wants to see a bridge one hundred feet higher than a bay with five foot banks is that he has not given the subject any thought, has never lived where such a structure was in existence or has no practical knowledge of the subject one way or the other."

The legislature has passed a measure to prohibit pool selling at race tracks in this state. If the bill receives the governor's assent it will effectively kill horse racing in Minnesota, and the Twin City club and the Duluth Jockey club and other racing associations must quit business. How the horsemen wish that Dave Clough were in the governor's chair now to put a veto on such legislation.

The Canadian cabinet, it is reported, has decided to dismiss all government employees, who are in favor of the annexation of the Dominion to the United States. The Tory premier and his colleagues have adopted a course that will serve to increase the annexation sentiment and force the question as an issue in Canadian politics. The discontent with the existing form of government is very great.

United States Minister Stevens is a man who acts without much hesitation, and that he does not lack backbone is evident from the news received today from Honolulu. He has established a temporary protectorate over the islands and the stars and stripes now float over the seat of government. This may force President Harrison to take some decisive action.

The need of a state mining inspector is well pointed out in an interview with Horace V. Winchell, which is given in this issue. Mr. Winchell points out very properly that mining superintendents are frequently careless and expose the miners to needless dangers, which would not exist if a state mining inspector or was in the field.

The war between the great Reading combine, under the direction of President McLeod, and the Vanderbilt lines in the New England states, has been marked by some sensational moves, to which reference is made in today's dispatches. President McLeod appears to be in the lead at present.

The drain of American gold coin to Europe has now exhausted the government's resources according to a dispatch today. Why not send them a little silver for a change?

The coffin trust has dissolved, but even a marked reduction in prices will not cause people to increase the demand for these articles.

AMUSEMENTS.

The University Boys.

Tonight the Glee and Banjo clubs of the University of Minnesota will entertain at the Lyceum and the university yell will be heard in the land. The boys arrived yesterday, having appeared at Superior Tuesday evening. This afternoon a reception is being given for them at the residence of Judge and Mrs. Ensign on West Second street, and after the concert tonight the Duluth alumni will entertain the boys at a banquet. The concert will be an unusually fine one, the Minnesota boys being conceded to have one of the best college glee clubs in the country.

Hermann, the Magician.

The attraction at the Temple Opera house next Saturday evening will be the famous Hermann, the eminent prestidigitator, aided by Miss Hermann, in his marvelous entertainment of magic, mystic and mystery. THE SECOND CONCERT.

The Second of the Organ Recitals Also a Brilliant Success.

The second organ recital given at the First M. E. church last evening was another brilliant musical success. The program opened with a chorus "O'er Moss and Fell" by Mrs. M. C. Burnside and the M. E. choir. It was finely sung, and the organ accompaniment was by Sydney Brown then played the "Imperial March" and in this as in all of his numbers brought out in an excellent manner the full strength and variations of which the magnificent instrument is capable.

Miss Eva M. Alcott sang Sullivan's "Lost Chord" and received a hearty encore. Her voice is strong and pure and filled the vast auditorium. The organ quartet sang "Annie Laurie" and met with a reception more cordial even than usual, being obliged to respond twice to encores. J. Warren Andrews, by request, repeated an organ solo given the evening before. "Continuum in G," a most beautiful selection.

Miss Maud Kelly, of Minneapolis, an unusually sweet soprano singer, followed with a brilliant solo and responded to an encore. The young lady has a voice of great promise. Miss Alcott's "Easter Eve" was another fine number. The Mandolin club played a selection and was greatly applauded but would not respond to an encore.

Tonight the last and perhaps the best of the recitals will be given. By request seats will be sold in the Sunday school room at half price.

The Cecilia Program.

The Cecilia society will meet tomorrow at 3 o'clock at the Saturday club rooms. The subject for study will be Berlioz's "Instrumentation." Mrs. Stecker will conduct the lesson and the program will be as follows:

IN THE LEGISLATURE

Resolutions Passed by the Senate Regarding Erection of Grain Warehouses by the Various Counties.

Steps Taken to Have State Elevators Erected at Duluth by Duluth and the Dakotas.

Boggs' Bill for Change of Venue in Municipal Courts Passed by the House Today.

St. Paul, Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the senate this morning the following resolutions, introduced by Donnelly, were passed:

Resolved, that the committee on grain and warehouse is hereby directed to inquire into the expediency of legislation to authorize the several counties of this state, in their judgment, ascertained by the vote of the people thereof, they see fit to do so, to issue bonds for the construction of one or more public warehouses in said county for handling and storage of grain, and to charge such moderate fee for same as will pay expenses of conducting said warehouses, and also pay interest on said bonds and establish a sinking fund for the redemption of the principal sum of same; and said committee shall report by bill or otherwise in their discretion.

The following bills were introduced: Authorizing counties, towns, villages, city or school districts to bond themselves to refund indebtedness; bill to better provide for the safety of life and limb by providing a board of seven boiler inspectors to inspect steam boiler makers in marine craft; making it a misdemeanor to entice a child from the state public schools; two bills providing that county commissioners in counties having over 150,000 shall fix the salary of county treasurer not above $2,000 and of the county auditor not above $1,000.

Senator Lienau had a concurrent resolution calling upon the governor to offer a reward of $500 for the recovery of Mamie Schwartz, a 5-year-old girl, stolen from St. Paul last June.

At a meeting of the joint committee on grain and warehouses a resolution was passed to arrange with North and South Dakota for erection of state elevators at Duluth contiguous to one to be erected by Minnesota. It was resolved that the amount to be expended in the construction of the grain house at Duluth shall not be less than $100,000, and provided that the bill shall be so drawn that all the said sum shall be made up out of the inspection fees levied upon the cars of wheat, not to exceed 50 cents a carload.

The following bills were introduced in the house this morning: By Olecker, to allow five-sixths of a year to return a verdict in civil cases; by Wagoner, to appropriate money for seed grain loans to farmers in this state whose crops were destroyed by hail or storms last year, the amount asked being $75,000.

By Boggs, a bill providing for refunding taxes, assessments, penalties and interest in certain cases. The bill provides when anyone pays taxes, etc., on lands exempt from taxing he may recover his interest in a certain time.

It also provides that when taxes or assessments are paid on land to which the title is only held through a final land grant, which is afterwards cancelled, the title may be recovered.

The bill of Mr. Boggs, providing for a change of venue in the municipal courts, having been passed, the one municipal court, was passed this morning, under suspension of the rules in the house.

DROWN INJUNCTION CASE.

A Motion to Dismiss Being Argued This Afternoon.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 9.—The Brown injunction case against the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway, was called in the United States circuit court this morning. Counsel for the railroad company moved to dismiss the case on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction. Arguments in favor of and against the motion to dismiss are being made this afternoon.

Lake Superior Fuel Gas Company to Be Organized by Duluthians.

Dr. Pay Walker, of Oxford, O., who it will be remembered was in Duluth last December as the projector of the Lake Superior Fuel Gas company, has been again in the city for the past two days. As a result of his labors the company will be organized at Chicago tomorrow, it having been found advisable to organize under the laws of the state of Illinois. The business of the company will be transacted in Duluth, however, and Duluth citizens will be the principal stockholders, among them being R. H. Harris, John H. Harris, George A. Elder, A. W. Bradley and several of the Merritts. Thomas Lowry, of Minneapolis, is also a stockholder.

The company will control the right for Minnesota and Wisconsin for the American fuel gas, which is manufactured and furnishing fuel gas cheaper than coal. In Duluth it will cost about 7 cents including the royalty, per cubic foot, to make the gas if sold at 25 cents, a splendid margin, it will be twice as cheap as coal. It is a fixed gas, perfectly dry, and does not condense or freeze like natural gas. The pipes could be laid above ground and be unaffected by the cold. Theoretically, the gas shows from 30 to 600 heat units but, practically, it shows much more. It is also not odorless and is therefore less dangerous than natural gas.

The main company expects to sell rights to local companies, which will be organized in the different cities of the state. A company is already being contemplated in Duluth and will soon be organized. The gas can be used for manufacturing institutions as well as for heating homes and business places. Dr. Walker left for Chicago this afternoon, accompanied by R. H. Harris, to organize the company.

ITINERANT VENDORS.
City Attorney Smith Will Write a Bill Aimed at Them.

In times past, the reliable and legitimate merchants of Duluth who pay both the freight and liberal taxes, have been much annoyed and injured by itinerant vendors coming into the city just in time to escape taxation, and opening up bogus fire or bankrupt stocks and rousing in numerous victims, especially the lumbermen and woodmen, with their impossible bargains.

A SUPERIOR BRANCH

The Duluth Transfer Railway People Incorporate the Superior-Duluth Terminal and Transfer Company.

Its Organization Was Made Necessary to Carry Out the Plans of the Duluth Company.

The Tracks on the Opposite Side of the Bay Will be Built by the New Company.

Articles of incorporation of the Superior-Duluth Terminal & Transfer Railway company were drawn in Superior yesterday and will be filed at once. The incorporators of the company are Day K. Smith and A. Harrington, of the Duluth Transfer railway, and H. H. McIntire, of the South Superior Improvement company. Nearly all of the stock except a little held by Superior people is in the hands of stockholders of the Duluth Transfer railway.

The new company is in fact a Superior branch of the Duluth Transfer railway, and its organization was made necessary because under the organization of the Transfer railway the tracks on the other side could not be built. The ultimate plans of the company provide for a complete terminal system at the head of the lakes, and this organization is made to carry out that plan.

The Duluth Transfer railway now has a bill before congress providing for a railroad bridge from Grassy Point over to Superior. If this is built, the tracks of this company will end at the Wisconsin end of the bridge and from there on will be known as the Superior-Duluth Terminal and Transfer railway tracks. The Superior route has been surveyed by E. B. Banks, formerly city engineer of Superior.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Some Verdicts Returned—Grand Jury Finds Several Indictments.

Before Judge Ensign, in room 1, last evening, the court directed that a verdict for the plaintiff for $943.75, in Louis Morio vs. Paul Sharpy as sheriff, be returned. The case of J. A. Taylor vs. the Lackawanna Iron company was referred to Judge Morris to hear and report judgment.

This morning the jury was waived in the National Bank of commerce vs. H. E. Long et al, and the action was placed on the court list. The plaintiffs in William Bergenthal company vs. A. M. Gilbertson et al, asked for a dismissal which was granted. The case of the Duluth Transfer company, as petitioner and appellee, vs. the Grassy Point Land company and Paul C. Liden as appellants is now on trial.

A special venire for fifteen jurors was issued and the following citizens were brought into court in response to their names: W. S. Albertson, F. A. Lewis, M. J. Davis, Thomas A. Sheridan, C. O. Nelson and F. E. Fleischman. The remaining nine will be returned this afternoon.

Before Judge Seale in room 2 yesterday afternoon in J. A. Bowman vs. the B. B. Richards Lumber company judgment was ordered for the plaintiff for $25. The case of M. W. Bates vs. the B. B. Richards Lumber company was next taken up and is yet before the court. This morning the court reassembled and took up the same case. Only one witness, M. W. Bates, was placed on the stand when Judge Seale announced that he was feeling too poorly to further hear the case today, and he adjourned the court until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The grand jury is in session this afternoon and will probably return nine indictments before adjournment this evening. Seven indictments were returned yesterday against the following people: Selk Nelson, Fred Brander and Ole Engen, for forgery; James Miller, for malicious destruction of property; James Parks, for assault; and Volanti Tuboli, two indictments for rape and incest.

Religious Insanity.

Mrs. Helena Hoffmann will be taken to St. Peter today by Sheriff and Mrs. Sharpy. She is the wife of Henry J. Hoffmann, a baker on West Fourth street, and the family is said to have been a very happy one. She went crazy on the subject of religion and her affliction is said to date from her attendance at one of the spiritualist meetings held here. She is not dangerous but is considered hopelessly insane.

An Afternoon Reception.
Mrs. Fred Reynolds, Mrs. W. J. Sufell and Mrs. W. J. Johnston gave an afternoon reception yesterday at the home of Mrs. Reynolds, 235 Second avenue east. Smilax and yellow roses adorned the parlors and dining rooms and the refreshment tables as well. About fifty ladies were present.

A demand for relief has been heard from some of the best merchants in the city and today, City Attorney S. L. Smith wrote to Representative Duggan with reference to the matter, requesting him to see that a general bill permitting the imposition of licenses be passed. Mr. Smith sent a copy of a similar bill passed in Massachusetts and further stated to Mr. Duggan that if no bill of the kind has been introduced, he will prepare one and submit it to him.

To Bank Officers and Employees.
The Fidelity and Casualty company, of New York, (assets $1,312,055.42) offers you the advantage of purchasing your bonds, rather than placing yourselves under obligation to friends or relatives, who have heretofore been your only resource. It is a large part of the business of this company to issue such bonds at fixed and moderate premiums; thus enabling you to become, as it were, your own sureties—a system which possesses great advantages (both to employer and employee) over the old plan of individual bondsmen, who may, or may not, be found responsible when called on to make good the bond—whereas the soundness of this company, subject as it is to the investigation and control of the insurance department, is at all times beyond question. River Passed the Senate.

The Anti-Pool Room Bill Defeated in the House in the Interest of County Fairs.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—The senate committee on drainage reported this morning and recommended to pass the bill for an appropriation of $100,000 for opening of water courses leading into the Red River.
Senator Leavitt's bill to prevent champerty, which was referred to that committee as he was its chairman, was also recommended to pass.

The joint committee on itasca state park reported today and recommended to pass Senator Sanborn's bill appropriating $12,000 to purchase land owned by the Northern Pacific within the limits of the park, which is offered at 50 cents an acre. The park, provided for by act of legislature two years ago, includes 10,000 acres. Of this 11,000 acres, including government lands, state swamp and school lands has been secured. The Northern Pacific offers its land at fifty cents an acre and the bill
before the committee providing for condemnation procedure which will be soon reported back.

The following bills were introduced in the senate this morning: By Mr. Keller, to appropriate $50,000 for a state reformatory at St. Cloud; to extend during a period of two years; by J. D. Smith, providing that the attorney general should insert in the annual report of his office
a list of the names of the persons who relieve treasurers of townships and school districts who deposit money in banks which fail; by Grafe, a bill to detach Pope county from the Seventh judicial district and add it to the Seventh; by Sanborn, to authorize secretaries for orphan homes, and provide for regulations of same; by Crover, bill to transfer the grain inspection fund to the internal improvement fund.

Following is a grain bill of great importance to Duluth. It was introduced by Senator Probstfield and is entitled, a bill for an act providing for public market places at Duluth and near the head of Lake Superior and near the head of navigation on the Mississippi river and acquiring title thereto; to create a grain
board and prescribe its duties; to regulate the manner of transporting grain and levying grain freight rates; requiring the warehousing of grain as to prevent conversion; to provide for the shipment of grain; to fix charges for weighing and inspecting grain; to devise means to carry out this purpose; to amend an act to appropriate money therefor; to create a board of seven citizens as a grain board,
appointed by the governor for six years.
The bill provides for 200,000 bushels of storage at Duluth and 500,000 at St.
Paul. It appropriates $100,000 at once and the same amount each half year out of the tax on the gross earnings of railroad companies until the purposes of the act are carried out.

The following bills were introduced in the house this morning: By Greer, a bill to prevent destruction and waste of timber upon lands of the state on which mineral leases have been given or may hereafter be given; The bill provides that the state land commissioner shall make an estimate of the timber on all mineral leased lands within the state, and within thirty days after the owner of the lease on the land has been notified of the estimate, he shall pay into the treasury
the value of the timber, or, failing therein, he shall be sold to the highest bidder
after it is advertised.

defeated in the house yesterday
afternoon by vote of 45 to 30, it requir-

At a meeting of the senate grain and commerce committee yesterday the subcommittee's bill for a farmer's elevator
at Duluth of 2,500,000 bushels capacity was recommended to pass. The appropriation is to be $250,000, of which $70, 000 is to be set aside at once from the accumulated grain inspection fund and the rest to be paid back to the state out of the accumulation of that fund.

REPORT ON THE COTTON CROP.

The Returns Made to the Agricultural Department Are Summarized.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The February returns to the department of agriculture, which relate to cotton, give county estimates of the crop compared with that of last year, the proportion that has left the plantation, average date
of close of picking, insect losses, etc.

The consolidation of returns of comparative crops make the following statement: Virginia, 55 per cent; North Carolina, 73; South Carolina, 75; Georgia,
74; Florida, 63; Alabama, 15; Mississippi,
10; Louisiana, 55; Texas, 84; Arkansas,
88; Tennessee, 64; general average, 68.2.
No allowance is made for underestimates
of the crop or overestimates of the distribution.

The proportion of the crop received at the parts of stocks of interior towns, in hands of merchants unreported and enroute from plantations, is thus stated, as reported by county correspondents: Virginia, 86; North Carolina, 85; South Carolina, 87; Georgia, 89; Florida, 89; Alabama, 89; Mississippi, 88; Louisiana, 89;
Texas, 87; Arkansas, 87; Tennessee, 86.
General average, 87.9.

Alabama quality is fairly good as a rule, though better on the Atlantic coast
and in Texas, and in the interior areas.
The latter picked cotton is much discolored by frost. In most of the states the average yield of lint is reported at 32 per cent. The average dates of close of picking are as follows: Virginia, Nov.
30; North Carolina, Dec. 1; South Carolina, Dec. 1; Georgia, Nov. 27; Florida,
Nov. 15; Alabama, Nov. 15; Mississippi,
Dec. 1; Louisiana, Dec. 1; Texas, Dec. 5;
Arkansas, Dec. 16; Tennessee, Dec. 5.

Losses from insect depredation were relatively small. No losses are reported in Georgia and the Gulf states, except in Arkansas. The boll worm did more damage than the caterpillar, mainly in Mississippi and in the states west of the river. The caterpillar was especially injurious in Alabama.

A relatively large proportion of the cotton has been sold to oil mills on account of the crop estimate and high price of oil in sympathy with the advance of land. The reported price varies according to the accessibility of mills from 15 to 25 cents per bushel. In some sections planters have been induced to sell
by liberal payment in fertilizers.

WAS ARGUED AT LENGTH.

The Brown Injunction Case Heard by Judge Nelson.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 10.—The injunction case of W. L. Brown vs. the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road was argued at length before Judge Nelson yesterday.

Judge Shaw, of Minneapolis, supported by Messrs. Clark, and a number of attorneys for the road, argued for dismissal on the ground that Brown did not appear as a stockholder on the books of the company; also that the bill
did not make sufficient cause of action. Attorneys Dunn, of St. Paul,
and J. C. Spooner, of Wisconsin, presented the arguments for the injunction.

The plaintiffs, according to Spooner,
will file an amended bill of complaint,
and the road now proposes to sell $500, 000 stock and $500,000 in bonds at 80
cents on the dollar have changed this proposal and now propose to sell $500, 000 in stock and about $200,000 in bonds.
The stock in the last deal is to be par,
but the whole will go at $1,000,000 as before. This has been done to avoid injunction proceedings.

The arguments have all been heard and the case submitted by Judge Nelson of the United States circuit court. Judge Shaw in his address today, confined himself wholly to the jurisdiction of the court. He cited that although
Mr. Brown is a resident of the state of Illinois he is only entitled to the rights of the assignor of the stock he now owns,
and that committee reported practically
in opposition to the scheme.

The following is the conclusion of the committee. Your committee,
therefore, respectfully suggest that you
decide to take action on the plan of reorganization that the holders in convention should adopt the following as it is written, or in substance, so as to give full protection to all:

Whereas, the plan of organization of the Central Railroad and Banking company, promulgated Jan. 19, 1893,
through the public printers, states that it is the purpose of the committee to form an understanding to carry out
and make effective this plan and secure the conversion of tri-parity bonds and the securing floating debt into the securities of the new company.

Resolved, that this convention approve the plans and agreement to carry out. Provided that when such underwriting syndicate is formed, its responsibility shall be certified to by resolution of the board of directors, and this syndicate shall guarantee not only the carrying out and making effective of the plan, but also the payment to each and every stockholder of this company who shall elect to receive the same, upon the deposit of his certificates with the trustee in lieu of the securities coming to him under the plan and agreement of $144 per share to be made within thirty days from the date of such deposit of the scrip return to such depositor, and that until said sum is paid said depositor's shares and rights shall be unaffected and unimpaired thereby.

It is possible that the stockholders may determine to decline to enter into the plan and will give the Central until next July to pay the defaulted dividend or the committee on reorganization, an opportunity to underwrite it. It is said that the Louisville & Nashville railroad is ready to take the Southwestern on a guarantee should they withdraw.

United States marshal. These with the two who were killed, and with Two Sticks, who was wounded, are all who

IT BELIES ITS NAME.

The Long Looked for Battle in the Harmony Society in Pennsylvania Has Been Commenced.

Bill in Equity Filed Asking for a Receiver and Charging Fraud by the Trustees.

President Duss is Charged With Having Cast Discredit Upon the Principles of the Society.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 10.—The long looked for battle is on in the Harmony society.
A bill in equity was filed at Beaver today in behalf of Benjamin Feucht and others, against President John Duss and the members of the society praying for the appointment of a receiver to wind up the affairs of the community; second, for an injunction to restrain Trustees Duss and Sieber from encumbering, selling or assigning the property and assets of the society; third, that these trustees be ordered to account in full for the assets
since their management; fourth, that Duss and Sieber be ordered to pay over to the receiver the amount of losses sustained under their management; fifth,
that an order be made for the dissolution of the Harmony society and a division of the assets.

Feucht and all the other petitioners are members of the society. In these petitions, gross mismanagement on the part of the trustees is alleged. It sets forth that recently the society had property valued at $1,000,000, but that a great deal of this has been lost and he petitioners now believe that the society is insolvent. That within six years Duss has sold $2,000,000 worth of valuable stocks, ostensibly for the payment of debts, which debts were contracted through the fraud, neglect and mismanagement of Duss.

It is also alleged that the principles of the society have become obsolete, that Duss and Sieber are living in luxury
with their wives, whereas the main principle of the organization is abas-
ty; that the other members of the society
are compelled to eke out precarious existence; also that the board of elders
are continued and common drunkards,
instead of spiritual leaders.

Duss, it is alleged, has sought to cast discredit upon the teachings of the founder of said society, has declared that it is a question whether the historical Christ or the Christ of the Christians was the one Christ, and has preached the doctrines of one Cyrus Teed, a pretended divine being, living in Chicago,
in the state of Illinois, and has courted a scandal by his association with Michael commonly known as Prince Michael, of Detroit, another pretender of divine attributes, who is now serving a term
in imprisonment for the commission of a crime.

TO PUT IT ON ITS FEET.

A Scheme to Reorganize the Southwestern Road of Georgia.

MACON, Ga., Feb. 10.—The stockholders of the Southwestern railroad of Georgia met here yesterday. Forty-one thousand shares were represented out of 50,000. The main question before the meeting was the acceptance of the reorganization scheme for the Central railroad, which has a controlling interest.
Some time ago the directors appointed a committee to investigate the plan, and that committee reported practically in opposition to the scheme.

The following is the conclusion of the
committee. Your committee,
therefore, respectfully suggest that you

THE WORST BLIZZARD.

Iowa Visited by a Big Storm That is Pronounced the Most Severe for Many Years.

Several Trains Are in the Snow at Sioux City and a General Blockade Prevails.

Snow Plows Are Unable to Make Any Progress and all the Roads Are Tied Up.

SIoux City, Ia., Feb. 10.—The worst blizzard in years raged here last night and reports are that it is general throughout the Northwest. Several trains are in the snow, and both the local and Chicago express trains are abandoned here, while not a train is moving on the line. A general blockade prevails over the Milwaukee company's system, in South Dakota and the Northwest. Both the Maple River and Lake City divisions are blocked.

The Union Pacific has two trains in the snow between this city and Columbus Junction. Both the Omaha and St. Paul divisions of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha road are blocked and trains abandoned. The Sioux City & Pacific is still open from here to Omaha. Snow plows are unable to make any progress.

HE MAY BE LYNCHED.

The Brutal Crime of a Bastard Father in Missouri.

GALLATIN, Mo., Feb. 10.—There was great excitement here yesterday over the arrest and prospective lynching of William Turner, who is charged with assaulting his 7-year-old daughter. The terrible crime was committed Wednesday at the home of Turner's parents, fifteen miles from this place, where he has been living since his separation from his wife a short time ago.

The last reports were that the injuries to the child were such that it could not recover, and that in case of its death the mob would visit punishment on the brutal father. The prisoner is of a repulsive appearance, and when questioned said that he was told that his child was hurt and that he became afraid of a mob and surrendered to the sheriff.

The officers are here to take him back to the scene of his crime, but there is no doubt whether they will be permitted to do so until the excitement is allayed.

THE JUDGES STILL IN JAIL.

The Daughter of One of Them Has Been Driven Insane.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 10.—County Judges B. F. Copen and Thomas, Nivill, of St. Clair county, who are under sentence of confinement in Jackson county jail for contempt of the United States court in refusing to pay a tax levy to pay outstanding bonds of the county, returned to their quarters in the jail last night.

They had been home on a furlough with the consent of Judge Phillips. It was a sad mission that took Judge Copen temporarily from the jail to his home. His daughter Caroline, aged 22, had become a raving maniac and it was to send her to an insane asylum.

The young woman's reason failed two years ago when her father was in Jefferson City, imprisoned by order of the late Judge Kregel for exactly the same thing which Judge Phillips sentenced him.

THEY COULD NOT AGREE.

And Minneapolis Still Anxiously Awaits Reduced Grain Rates.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 10.—The railroad meeting to adjust grain rates reached no agreement. The "Soo" road wanted a differential of 4 cents in favor of Minneapolis, which the other roads would not accept, because they fear that the Duluth & Winnipeg and the Great Northern roads will soon have direct lines through to the Red River valley from Duluth and then they would beat the mercy of the Duluth roads.

Chairman Midgley had the meeting adjourned until he could go to Washington and find out just what the commission meant, as the terms of their decision are obscure in some points.

SHOT IN A SALOON.

A Husband Killed by His Wife's Supposed Partner.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 10.—Frank Drost, of No. 1022 Allen avenue, was shot and instantly killed at 9 o'clock last night by George Doetzel, a young man who, he claimed, had supplanted him in the affections of his wife. The saloon of Jacob Gent at No. 1021 Lynch street was the scene of the murder.

Drost and his wife had separated under a mutual agreement two months ago, and she had instituted a suit for divorce. Doetzel had been living at the saloon with Mrs. Doetzel, and Drost had become suspicious that he was intimate with his wife.

Robbing the Mails.

GRIFFIN, Ga., Feb. 10.—Postmaster Inspector Baird last night placed under arrest Assistant Postmaster T. B. Thurman, who is charged with extracting money from registered packages. For some time money has been missing from packages passing through the office. The special act charged against Thurman was stealing five $20 bills.

Rufus Hatch Hit.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Rufus Hatch, the veteran banker and Wall street operator, is lying seriously ill at his home at Spuyten Duyvil. He has been suffering from a complication of diseases which has induced heart failure.

Heavy Wind Storm.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Feb. 10.—The severest wind storm ever known in this part of the territory began at 11 o'clock Wednesday night and continued until yesterday morning. A great deal of damage was done to outbuildings and fences. A number of houses were unroofed.

A DIVERSITY OF OPINIONS.

Talks With the Passengers on the Steamer From Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—An English passenger on the Australia, long a resident of Hawaii and occupying a prominent position in the Hawaiian trade, consented to an interview with a United Press representative who boarded the steamer as she was proceeding down the bay, on condition that his name be withheld from publication. Said the passenger: "I am personally acquainted with the ex-queen and regard her with the highest esteem. During a recent conversation with her, she asked me what I thought of the political situation. She admitted having made a mistake, but excused it on the ground that she had been prompted by the widespread public subjects. She disclaimed any motive of self aggrandizement, or of endeavoring to add to the prerogatives of the throne."

"Now, as to annexation, I cannot see how the United States can have the effrontery and audacity to annex the kingdom. The provisional government, even judged by its own claims, has only captured the island of Oahu, which by no means represents even a fair division of the people. Kauai, Hawaii, Maui and Molokai, with a much greater population, have also to be considered. Half of the population of the islands consists of Chinese and Japanese, who are the very essence of contract labor. This class the United States proposes to claim as her citizens. Annexation is unsought, unnecessary and unwise."

E. J. Bush, a native Hawaiian of great prominence in the influential circles of the kingdom and until recently publisher of two newspapers, spoke decidedly and at length upon the matter. He stated that the revolution was not the natural outcome of events, but was precipitated in such an unseemly manner that it succeeded in chilling those who might have had some feeling for annexation. The natives took it as a high-handed proceeding which nipped in the bud the hopes that under other circumstances, would have brought about the object of the revolution.

Applying the words to himself, Mr. Bush said that owing to representative and restrictive measures on the part of the provisional government directed against the freedom of the press, he had been obliged during the first week of the new year of things to suspend publication of his two papers. He said he had been called on to retract a report of the provisional government, when such report was clearly within the limits of honest and honorable journalism.

Asked what, in the event of annexation of the islands by the United States would be the effect, "the natives," he promptly replied, "would be the least hurt and most benefited." Asked if the natives would be hurt in any manner he answered: "The only damage they would sustain would be their wounded feelings, which loyalty to their native government, their home and their natural love for their ancestors would prompt them to consider it an invasion of their country."

"I am an American," concluded Mr. Bush, "as well as anybody else, and in fact I have heretofore agitated just such annexation, unfortunately too prematurely, but I believe in the traditions of my people and the institutions of my country, my race and my home."

C. M. Cook, a large lumber and grain merchant of Honolulu, who it was noticed was in close intimacy with Hawaiian passengers, said emphatically that the more intelligent classes of Hawaii desired annexation. The only opposition seemed to be on the side of the native population, and his objection was wholly due to sentimental reasons and to the fear that they are to be robbed of their country.

KILLED IN A PANIC.

A Cry of "Fire" Caused a Panic in a Berlin Restaurant.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—An alarm of fire attended with tragic results occurred in Leipzig last night in one of the principal restaurants of the city. Some one cried "Fire." A wild panic prevailed, and everybody made a rush to get through the only place of egress, a narrow passageway.

This was soon blocked by a struggling mass of people who prevented each other from escaping. Those who fell were immediately closed upon and had the life crushed out of them, and others were fatally injured, and against the walls. It was found that six persons had been killed in the panic, and three others seriously and perhaps fatally injured. The fire which had caused a panic was a comparatively slight affair.

A Strike in Mexico.

PIEDRAS NEGRAS, Mex., Feb. 10.—The hollers in the shops of the Mexican International railroad here and the switchmen of the same line, employed in the yards at this terminal point, recently made a demand for an increase of wages. Their demands were not acceded to by the railway company and a walk-out of all the men concerned has occurred. The trouble threatens to spread to other branches of the road's service.

To Insure Columbian Visitors. PARIS, Feb. 10.—Sixty leading French, Belgian and Germans have formed a syndicate to insure European visitors to the Chicago World's fair against death or disability on the journey or during the sojourn at Chicago. The maximum limit for this class of insurance is three months. The syndicate has a guarantee fund of 500,000,000 francs.

An Order to telegraphers. KNOXVILLE, Feb. 10.—A sensation was created in the ranks of the O. R. T., of the East Tennessee system by an order from the general manager's office that all members of that organization must resign membership or lose their positions.

A Warehouse Burned. BOSTON, Feb. 10.—Fire yesterday destroyed the three-story warehouse, Nos. 361 and 363 Atlantic avenue, occupied by L. Remier for the storage of cotton. Loss, $80,000.

ONLY FOUR ESCAPED.

Forty-four Lives Lost by an Insane Asylum Being Burned.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 10.—The county insane asylum, four miles from here, was burned last night and forty-four lives were lost.

Of the forty-eight inmates, only four inmates escaped. They were William Twombly, Rose Sanderson, Wm. Davey and Frank Donahoe. The latter walked two miles in a blinding snow storm, with only his shirt on, to Wm. Horne's house, where he was taken care of.

The building was of wood, 135 by 36 feet, two stories high, with a big yard on each side. It was built twenty years ago and had fifty cells. The building cost $15,000. The main building, in which was over two of the county poor, caught fire, but was saved by the efforts of the inmates, who carried pails of water and extinguished the flames, although many were burnt in so doing.

CARRIED OFF THE FUNDS.

A Railroad and Express Agent Has Suddenly Disappeared.

QUINCY, Ill., Feb. 10.—Geo. Austin, agent for the Quincy, Omaha & Kansas City railroad and the Pacific Express company at Humphreys, has disappeared. With him went a considerable sum of money belonging to the railroad and express companies.

Has Probably Foundered.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 10.—The ship Cornelius, which left Cadboro bay early in December with forty-five Chinamen on board, destined for California, has not been heard of since. Shortly after the Cornelius left Cadboro bay there was a succession of severe gales, one of which it is feared, sealed the fate of the cargo and crew. The ship was but thirty feet long.

Why He Is Happy?

Mr. E. J. Moyland, 295 Second Street, is well and favorably known to the citizens of Superior.

READ WHAT HE SAYS:

"For five years I suffered from mental depression and general weakness, could get no rest at night and felt tired and exhausted during the day. I had pains in my back and legs in my mouth, dizzy spells and shortness of breath on the least exertion. Physicians and patent medicines did me no good. I had heard considerable about the success of Dr. Schaefer & Co. and I called at their office in the New York block, corner of Fourth and Superior streets, West Superior. The doctor seemed to have no difficulty in locating my trouble and described my condition in detail. I was particularly pleased with the interest he took in my case and am more than pleased with the result of the treatment. My disagreeable symptoms have rapidly disappeared and I feel that I have a new lease on life. I am not anxious to rush into print and would be very slow in making this statement if I did not consider Dr. Schaefer & Co. worthy the confidence of the public. Should any one feel interested and wish further information, they will find me at my place of business, 295 Second Street, East Superior."

HOCKEY AND CURLING.

These Two Sports Have More Devotees in the United States Now Than Ever Before.

The Fair English and Canadian Majors Will Handle Their Hockey Sticks With Great Skill.

Some Points About the Ancient Scotch Game of Curling and How it is Played.

The English game of hockey and the Scotch sport, curling, have more devotees in the United States than ever before, and just now the admirers of both games are particularly active in all parts of the country where there is firm glassy ice. Hockey as played in England and Canada differs very little from the shinty and risk polo played on ice and roller skates in the United States and especially in New England.

ENGLISH GAMES PLAYING HOCKEY.

Hockey proper is an ice skating game. There are seven players on a side, and the object which is knocked along the ice by the curved hockey sticks is a round bit of vulcanized rubber shaped like a silver dollar and called the puck. The goals are posts driven into the ice six feet apart at each end of the rink, and when the puck is in play each team endeavors to knock it between the goalposts of its opponent and score a goal. When the puck is in play, the puck is placed on the ice midway between the goals; the center forward of each team faces each other with the puck between them, strike the ice once and each other's sticks three times, and the puck is in play. At this time each player is "on side"—that is, the puck is between him and the opposing goal, and one of the most important rules of the game provides that the players must always be in this position when they strike the puck.

If a player is offside, however, he is on side again the instant an opponent touches the puck. The game is so exciting when well played that the spectators can be seen sitting on the benches, and the players are so quick of foot that they can strike the puck with the stick and send it flying into the air over the heads of opponents and toward the goal of the enemy, stopping the puck with their sticks, giving it a "kick" through the air just above the ice by a well directed blow or taking a run down the rink with the puck skidding along the ice in front of the stick and dodging every opponent in the way with a skill that elicits the applause of thousands.

Play continues as long as the puck is divided into two halves, with 10 minutes' intermission between them, and the side scoring the most goals wins. In shinty and risk polo a small hard rubber ball is used instead of the puck, and in many games the players can strike the ball whether they are on side or not, but they must always be in the position proper for right-handed striking, or they may feel the weight of an opponent's stick across their skulls as he strikes at the ball from the regulation attitude.

Pretty girls play hockey very well in Canada and England, and one of the illustrations in this article represents a spirited game between two checked English maidens on the ice at Wimbledon park lake, London.

For many centuries Scotch athletes have joyfully battled the approach of winter by means of the game of curling. The game is a simple one, and all sandy needs in a diagram called a "rink" extend in the smooth ice, a pair of big stones with handles and a good broom, and he is ready. There are four players on a side, and each player has two of the curling stones, which weigh from 25 to 40 pounds apiece and are smooth on the bottom. Each team has a captain, who is called the "skip," and who advises the men what to do and then plays himself. The rink is a rectangular marked on the ice and is 40 yards long and 7 or 8 in width.

Near each end of the rink is a big circle 7 feet in diameter called the "house," or house when the Scotch patois is dropped, in the center of each circle is a small round hole called the "tee," and the object of each player, who stands at the end of the rink and throws the stones, is to get them into the hole as near the tee as possible. Each stone must pass beyond the "hog score" a line just in front of the ring, and must be in with ring, or it is out of the game. The points each side makes are based on the proximity of the stones to the tee. One of the most exciting features of the game is the sweeping, when the players make a smooth path for their comrades' incoming stone by a vigorous use of the broom, so the ice if the stone's momentum indicates that it will not reach a point near the tee.

Planquette's New Opera. Planquette's new opera, "La Talisman," has been well received at the Gaitey in Paris, notwithstanding the criticism which shows Louis XV in a sentimental role.

YALE VERSUS HARVARD.

College Teams to Compete in a Relay Running Race.

Yale and Harvard will be pitted against each other in an athletic contest that will be something of a novelty in intercollegiate games, when teams representing the two great universities meet for the first time in a mile relay running race at Boston. The race is to be one of the special events at the indoor meeting of the Boston Athletic association on Feb. 11, and it is hoped that the contest will successfully open up another field in which the blue and crimson can annually compete.

A team of six runners will be sent from each college, only four of whom, however, will take part in the race. Each man will carry a quarter mile, when he will be replaced by a fresh runner. Owing to the absence from college, because of illness, of Captain Jones of the track athletic team, the Yale runners have had but little work this term, but for the past two weeks they have been training under the careful eye of Trainer Murphy and have made good progress.

The six athletes who will go to Boston prepared to uphold the honor of the Ivy League will probably be Frank S. Butterworth, James Frank, Jr., George F. Sanford, George M. Laughlin, Jr., Samuel Seville, Jr., and Richard C. Anderson, all swift and able runners.

The English game of hockey and the Scotch sport, curling, have more devotees in the United States than ever before, and just now the admirers of both games are particularly active in all parts of the country where there is firm glassy ice. Hockey as played in England and Canada differs very little from the shinty and risk polo played on ice and roller skates in the United States and especially in New England.

Butterworth and Frank. Butterworth, the skillful fullback of last year's football team, has an established reputation as a runner, which he was showing his two years at Yale. He is a native of Washington, 20 years of age, weighs 155 pounds and is about 5 feet 10 1/2 inches tall. He has won prizes in the 100, 200 and 400 yard races and made an excellent record in the intercollegiate games last year.

James Frank, Jr., was something of a surprise party to the Yale runners when he entered in the fall games in 1897. It was not known that he was a runner, but he easily took first place in the 1/2-mile handicap, covering the distance in 25 seconds. He is a member of the class of '98 and is at home in Brooklyn, where he was born 19 years ago. His weight is 171 pounds, and his height 5 feet 11 inches. He is a graduate of St. Paul's school at Convent City, L. I., where he won numerous prizes in 100, 200 and 400 yard races. Sanford, one of Yale's champion football players, enjoys the distinction of being the largest and heaviest runner in the country. He is 6 feet 3 inches in height and weighs 190. He has a record of 10:45 seconds for 100 yards, and has won many 220 and 400 yard races. Sanford is 21 years old, a resident of New Haven and a law student.

George M. Laughlin is a fast runner from Pittsfield, where he has won numerous prizes as a member of the Allegheny Athletic association and gained a reputation as one of the fastest amateur runners in the country. He is 20 years of age, weighs 145 pounds and stands 5 feet 7 inches high. At St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H., where he attended for Yale, he captured numerous cups and trophies and for some time held the championship. He has a record of 10:25 seconds for 100 yards, 22 seconds for 200 yards and 32 1/2 seconds for 400 yards. Samuel Seville, Jr., is a native of Stamford, Conn., who can set a pretty hot pace for the front of the fastest amateur runners in the American colleges. He is 20 years of age and a member of the senior class of Yale, weighs 133 pounds and is 5 feet 10 inches in height. In 1897 he won the 1/2-mile championship at Yale and in 1898 captured the mile cup, which he has secured twice and which will become his property if he wins

LAUGHLIN AND SANFORD.

It again this spring. In the Yale-Harvard races of 1897 he took third prize. He is a member of the New York Athletic club, and has won prizes in the 1/2-mile, 1/4-mile, 1/2-mile, 100 yards, 200 yards, 400 yards, 800 yards, 1,000 yards, 1,200 yards, 1,400 yards, 1,600 yards, 1,800 yards, 2,000 yards, 2,200 yards, 2,400 yards, 2,600 yards, 2,800 yards, 3,000 yards, 3,200 yards, 3,400 yards, 3,600 yards, 3,800 yards, 4,000 yards, 4,200 yards, 4,400 yards, 4,600 yards, 4,800 yards, 5,000 yards, 5,200 yards, 5,400 yards, 5,600 yards, 5,800 yards, 6,000 yards, 6,200 yards, 6,400 yards, 6,600 yards, 6,800 yards, 7,000 yards, 7,200 yards, 7,400 yards, 7,600 yards, 7,800 yards, 8,000 yards, 8,200 yards, 8,400 yards, 8,600 yards, 8,800 yards, 9,000 yards, 9,200 yards, 9,400 yards, 9,600 yards, 9,800 yards, 10,000 yards.

Richard C. Anderson is rather a novice on the track, but is nevertheless a very young and spry athlete. He made his first appearance in the Yale races in the fall games last year and at once attracted attention as a fast and speedy runner. He also took part in the contest of the Manhattan Athletic club at Madison Square garden last fall and won first prize in the 60-yard run. At Yale he is rated high for 100, 200 and 400 yards. Anderson resides at Cincinnati, and is a member of '94. He is 20 years of age, weighs 154 pounds and is 5 feet 10 1/2 inches in height.

The prizes which will crown the victory of the winning team in the coming race are large silver shields, with the colors of Yale and Harvard in enamel surrounding the inscription describing the event and the winners.

OUR COUNTRY'S PRIDE

The World's Fair at Chicago Will be Unsurpassed by Any Similar Event in History.

There Have Been Great Pageants Both in Peace and War, But This is the Greatest.

Various States of the Union Are Vying With Foreign Countries in Beauties of Buildings.

This exposition is a thing of modern progress. Ancient days had triumphs and spectacles as the outcome of fierce war and ferocious joy of the conquering over the conquered, but the great displays of today are the splendid examples of man's progress in peaceful pursuits. Of course the times are not such as to have such wars and conquests, but there are occasional events of high importance, as military pageants, such as the review of the northern armies at Washington at the close of the civil war and the return of the victorious Germans from Paris to Berlin.

But this year's great show at Chicago bids fair to excel any demonstration in honor of either triumphant war or prosperous peace that the world has ever seen. Strange to say, that most intelligent of modern nations, the French, are responsible for launching the idea of industrial exhibitions. Fourteen have been held at Paris, the first during the civil turmoil of 1793. The custom spread among civilized peoples. Nearly every great city has engineered one or more of these affairs, and now Chicago is trying to outdo all predecessors.

It is gratifying to note that the various states of the Union are vying with foreign countries in the beauty of the buildings that are to adorn the grounds. Illinois, for example, has a fine collection of buildings, 100 by 400 feet and its floor area 3.2 acres. The summit of its flagpole is the highest point on the exposition grounds. It stretches fifty feet above a dome which itself reaches a height of 230 feet 6 inches.

THE ILLINOIS BUILDING.

The building has cost nearly $300,000. In design it is a French adaptation of the Italian Renaissance. Its principal features are the dome, which rises from the intersection of the arms of a Greek cross in long and graceful lines. There is nothing squat or diminutive about it. It rises to the greatest height of any of the industrial exhibitions in the world. North and south of the dome are the arms of the cross. The southern arm extends seventy-five feet beyond the walls of the main building, and the northern arm, reached by an ornamental stairway. The rooms in this wing will be used by the board of commissioners and the government of the state as reception and council chambers. From their windows a series of beautiful views of the lake, the fair and the Midway pleasure land can be obtained. There is an air of hospitality about these large and open windows, as there is about the whole building. There is not a dark spot in the structure. The light comes from the roof and the walls and down through the dome. Exhibitors will have all the light and air they can desire in the Illinois state building.

The interior presents many details of interest, but the chief thing to be noted is that fair play, so far as employment is concerned, has been given to the fair sex. In the decoration of the reception room and library all the artistic tasks have been assigned to ladies.

Miss Ida J. Burgess has undertaken the construction of a frieze four feet in depth for the reception room. It will be painted in oil colors on canvas and can be removed after the fair. Miss Burgess herself will illustrate in this frieze "Progress" and "Youth." Mrs. Marie Lauck will design wood transoms for the three doors, Miss Alice Muzz will decorate the library, and Mrs. N. F. Miles will design the frieze for the reception room. The light comes from the roof and the walls and down through the dome. Exhibitors will have all the light and air they can desire in the Illinois state building.

The location of the South Dakota building at the fair is one of the very best and most prominent state sites on the grounds, the building being the first to attract attention on the south side of the Fifty-seventh street entrance. The building is 70 by 130 feet, two stories high, and is a four-story structure. It will be painted in oil colors on canvas and can be removed after the fair. Miss Burgess herself will illustrate in this frieze "Progress" and "Youth." Mrs. Marie Lauck will design wood transoms for the three doors, Miss Alice Muzz will decorate the library, and Mrs. N. F. Miles will design the frieze for the reception room. The light comes from the roof and the walls and down through the dome. ## THE SOUTH DAKOTA BUILDING.

The exhibit to be made will represent the physical divisions of the state—the agricultural country and arctic lands, the grazing fields, fossil beds and mines. There is collected and stored at Sioux Falls a great variety of grasses, grains, etc., which are now being carefully sorted and repacked.

In this collection there are 130 different kinds of wheat, 125 of oats, 25 of barley, 2 of rye, 2 of corn, 2 of buckwheat, 2 of clover seed, 4 of millet, 4 of peas, 6 of beans and 125 of native grasses.

In hermain there will be 120 varieties of apples, 20 of pears, 10 of peaches, 10 of crab apples, 15 of grapes, 12 of plums, 10 of cherries, 8 of currants, 4 of gooseberries, 6 of raspberries, 4 of blackberries and 20 of strawberries.

Among the minerals to be placed on view are gold, silver, tin and copper. There will also be a big collection of picturesque sketches of farm progress, from the old cabin of twenty-five years ago to the large, comfortable home of the present. The sublime scenery of the Black Hills will also be shown. Views have been procured showing arctic creeks and lakes and a few of the most wonderful artesian wells known, some having a flow of over 150 gallons per minute and a pressure of 150

The institution of learning, under the management of Professor A. G. Mauch, will give ample evidence of the high educational standing of the state.

SLAUGHTERING THE BIRDS.

Uncounted Numbers Killed by California Hunters.

The wild pigeon is not yet extinct in America, but a few days since they were And, though the days of their plenitude have long since passed in all the states east of the Mississippi, they occasionally amaze the people of the remote section of the west by coming in millions from no one knows where. Such a case was that of the recent invasion of the San Joaquin valley in California, which excited all the sportsmen and would be sportsmen of the state.

THE HAWK TAILED PIGEON.

told how at various times the birds would come in clouds that literally shut out the sun, how they covered the Ohio in certain stated places and roosted on certain forest trees in such masses that the soil and timber showed the effect for years after. More than one such disaster is still known as Pigeon Roost. In southern Indiana one such tract extended for six miles, and old hunters told that every tree on the tract was loaded with pigeons as long as the limbs would hold them.

Why the birds came in this way no one knows, but a few days since they were And, though the days of their plenitude have long since passed in all the states east of the Mississippi, they occasionally amaze the people of the remote section of the west by coming in millions from no one knows where. Such a case was that of the recent invasion of the San Joaquin valley in California, which excited all the sportsmen and would be sportsmen of the state.

California scientists believe that they have breeding grounds in the far north of British Columbia, the Northwest Territory and Alaska. The region of the wool buffalo would apparently suit them well. They were driven south by the storm. That is agreed upon, and as they fly with as much regularity as the wind, they have reached California even though coming from the remote regions of Hudson's bay.

The fabled tales were ashy in color and have a fine bluish cast on the rump. Their primary feathers and the basal portion of the tail are dusky, and the larger wing coverts are edged with white. The bill and legs are yellow. There is a sharp whirring sound when they fly. At last accounts they were being slaughtered wantonly by the thousands, and still there were millions more.

The Fighting of Ducks.

The world has had its laugh about the Cincinnatus battle in Paris, and the members once more remind us how much more deadly Irish, English and American ducks are than any other birds. The duck is the palmy days of American ducking, which may be said to have ended with Jackson's administration. It was almost a disgrace for the parties to leave the ground without one or the other being disabled, and the ferocity of Irish ducks a century ago has been many times celebrated. Yet singular as it may seem for such a practical people, the English have the record for the most senseless and careless ducks.

In 1777 Lieutenant Featherstonhouse and Captain McPherson, of the British army in New York, fought over the proper manner of eating green corn, one insisting that it should be peeled, the other that it should be boiled. The lieutenant lost his right arm. One officer was challenged for merely asking his opponent to pass him a goblet; another was compelled to fight about a pinch of snuff. General Barry was challenged by Captain Smith for declining wine at a dinner on a boat, although the general pleaded as an excuse that wine invariably made him sick, and Lieutenant Cowther lost his life in a duel because he was refused admittance to a club of pigeon shooters. Major Natch was killed in a duel about the trump in a gulch of carle, and others in duels about game, dogs, birds and scores of other trifling matters.

Tough on the Animals.

Of all the extraordinary scientific experiments lately the most extraordinary is that reported as having been made at St. Petersburg. Some trials of armor plates were going on, and this trial was made for the purpose of testing the armor plates to decide the effects of heavy gun firing upon the nervous system of animals.

A number of rabbits were slung up in bags on frames close to the line of fire, and dogs and cats were also tied up under cover beneath the muzzle of the gun. The result is not given.

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

TENTH YEAR.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1893.

FIVE O'CLOCK EDITION.

THREE CENTS

LONG ON WHEAT

The Chicago Herald Tells a Story
Issuing of the "Hold Your Wheat" Circular.

Asserts It Was the Production of Hugo Mat-tullah, at the Instance of Charles A. Pillsbury.

Pillsbury Was Long on Speculative Wheat
at Chicago and Had Four Million Bushels Stored.

Circular Was Connected to Give the Minneapolis Miller a Chance to Undodge
It at a Profit.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The Herald this morning prints a three column article dated Minneapolis, charging in substance that the "hold your wheat" circular issued in July, 1891, which purported to emanate from the Farmers' Alliance headquarters was in fact the production of Hugo Mattullah, who got it up at the instance of Chas. A. Pillsbury. The Herald article asserts that Pillsbury was "long" a big line of wheat on speculative account in Chicago, in addition to which he had 4,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat stored in the Pillsbury-Washburn elevators. The article then continues:

"Along in May Pillsbury suggested that it might be a good idea for Mattullah to help him carry some of the old wheat, which was sure to prove a good investment. This did not appeal to the shrewd German, but later on he in turn suggested a scheme to the wily miller who eventually agreed to give it a certain amount of financial backing. This deep-laid plot was nothing less than a bold project to retard the deliveries of wheat by the farmers on the new crop, thus enhancing the value of the 4,000,000 bushels of wheat lying in the Pillsbury elevators, by securing shorts into bidding up prices, at which advance Pillsbury would unload his speculative holdings and quietly ship cash wheat to Duluth. In the profits of this cunningly devised deal Mattullah was to receive a certain dividend and a stipulated amount of cash for working expenses."

The story goes on to state that the "hold your wheat" circular was then devised, and that in order to give it a wide circulation Mattullah secured a controlling interest in the St. Paul State. The next thing was to get the endorsement of the officers of the Farmers' Alliance, and this was accomplished by sufficient funds, the article continues. Mattullah, with a copy of the circular in his pocket and the State at St. Paul ready to boom him up, went to Washington to see the national officers of the Alliance. There he met with delays and disappointments, but finally secured the approval of H. W. Ayer, private secretary of President Polk, of the Alliance, and manager of the Alliance press bureau of information. Ayer gave a letter which he was to use in securing the acceptance of the circulars, as of official character.

At this period the Chicago Herald came very near ruining the whole project. In order to more readily place the importance of the scheme before those whose backing was desired, several pro of copies of the circulars were struck off which were carefully guarded by those in the inside. But the Herald obtained possession of one, and while Mattullah was rushing around the country trying to get things fixed, it printed the entire circular verbatim.

This brought Mattullah back to Minneapolis in a rage. The mine had been sprung prematurely and it was necessary to rush the scheme to immediate execution. The circulars were at once sent out, several millions in all, and the most vehement efforts made to render them effective. Prices took a little spurt upward, and as soon as the market began to climb, Pillsbury dumped his holdings in Chicago, while upward of 1,000,000 bushels of wheat were taken from the Minneapolis elevators and shipped to Duluth at an advance. While the Pillsbury-Mattullah circulars were frantically admonishing the farmers to "hold your wheat, don't sell under $1.50," Farmer Pillsbury was hurrying his line to market via Chicago and Duluth as fast as he knew how.

But the subsequent repudiation of the circular by President Polk had a quieting effect, and prices reacted so that Farmer Pillsbury was forced to discontinue his operations and was obliged to carry his wheat until fall, when he managed to dispose of it on a rising market, due to the bullish manipulations of the traders at Chicago, whom the circular had denounced to the farmers as their worst enemies, a pet phrase of Pillsbury's, which later on he inserted in his anti-option bill.

During the entire time pending the issuance of the circular Mattullah plunged heavily in grain speculation. Eventually he went flat "broke" on the Minneapolis chamber of commerce trying to build wheat and was forced to pawn his watch in order to leave town, his quasi-partner refusing at that time to furnish him with more funds. The State, the Alliance paper which had sent out the circular as a supplement and had taken charge of the work of general distribution, was bankrupt.

As his share toward the printing and dissemination of this swindling circular, Charles A. Pillsbury, the friend of the farmer, paid Hugo Mattullah $200 in cash and perhaps more, but this much is certain. Whether the German made Pillsbury actually believe that the Alliance as an organization had agreed to endorse the circular is not quite clear.

To the correspondent of the Herald who saw the suave miller in his office, Pillsbury denied all knowledge of the existence of the circular until after it appeared. He confessed that he had helped to distribute some of the circulars, believing they were the official mouthpiece of the Alliance, and admitted that he contributed funds to help defray the cost of printing, postage and for clerical hire.

CHARGED WITH CORRUPTION.

More Indictments Against Charles De Lesseps and Other Frenchmen.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—Ex-Minister Bihut, Senator Delaut, ex-Minister and Deputy Antoine Froust, Deputy Dugue De Lal Faucocherie, ex-Deputy Gobron, Charles De Lesseps, M. Marions Fontane, Henry Costu and M. Mondin were arraigned in the Palais de Justice yesterday on charges of corruption in connection with the Panama lottery bonds bill.

The indictment on which they were arraigned sets forth that a note has been found among the papers of Charles De Lesseps, showing that M. Bihut asked for 1,000,000 francs for introducing the Panama bill in the chambers. M. Bihut, after at first denying the facts, finally ended, the indictment concludes, by detailing the various charges against M. Fontane and Charles De Lesseps, who are accused of bribing Bihut and also of having induced M. Arton and the late Baron Reinach to corrupt senators and deputies.

M. Mondin is charged with being a party to the corruption of Bihut. Arton, who is not under arrest, is included in the indictment on the charge of corrupting the legislators and Deputy Sans-Leroy is charged, like Bihut, with having received money to influence his action as a public official.

The Figaro expresses the belief that the trial will take place in the assize court of the Seine in the early part of March.

SILVER FIND IN INDIANA.

An Immense Vein of Silver and Zinc Ore Has Been Discovered.

BRAZIL, Ind., Feb. 11.—For the past month experts of Chicago and Cincinnati have been in the country looking over some hilly land south of this city, which some time ago was viewed by men who claimed to find small quantities of silver ore.

The affair, however, was abandoned until recently, when the present experts began digging in the soil in search of precious metal. They were also about to give up the search when they were surprised by striking an immense vein of silver and zinc ore yesterday morning. They claim the indications are favorable for an almost inexhaustible product of rich ore as is found in Colorado.

The city is greatly stirred up over the affair, and Mr. Carpenter, who owns the land where the mine was found, has been offered a big price for his ground by the prospectors. A portion of the ore has been sent to Chicago for examination.

TREASURY AGENT WITHDRAWN.

The First Serious Blow Aimed at the Canadian Pacific Road.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 11.—The United States treasury agent at Smith Falls, Ontario, was withdrawn yesterday and ordered to report at Washington. This is the first serious blow aimed at the privileges enjoyed by the Canadian Pacific railway. Hitherto the treasury agent broke sealed cars in transshipment across Canada from one point in the United States to another point in the United States and transferred goods to other cars.

For instance cars reaching Smith's Falls from Boston were opened and goods destined for Chicago or Minneapolis were transhipped to other cars and despatched by the Canadian Pacific main line, or via Sault Ste. Marie.

CLAIMS SHE IS INNOCENT.

The Wife of the Minneapolis Man Under Arrest in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 11.—Mrs. Robt. Knox, the wife of the Minneapolis man who was arrested here several months ago upon the charge of obtaining $10,000 worth of jewelry from a jeweler of this city by means of a forged check, has been removed from Delano prison, where both of the accused have been in solitary confinement, to the American hospital, in order that she may receive treatment for a serious attack of sickness.

Mrs. Knox protests that she is innocent of the crime of which she and her husband are jointly charged.

THE NEGRO DISAPPEARED.

That Was the Report of a Lynching Party in Tennessee.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 11.—Mrs. White, residing at Forrest Hill, twenty miles east of this city, was assaulted by a negro Thursday afternoon. She was at a spring getting water when attacked. She attempted to run away but was overtaken by the negro, who at the point of a pistol accomplished his purpose.

A searching party got on the negro's trail and captured him yesterday afternoon. He was identified by his victim and was then taken to the woods by his captors. They returned last evening and said the negro "had disappeared."

Playwright De Mille Dead.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—H. C. De Mille, the well-known playwright, died in Pompton, N. J., yesterday. He was the author of "Charity Ball," "The Wife," "Lord Chumley," "The Lost Paradise" and other successful plays of recent production.

World's Fair Exhibits.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 11.—M. P. Morris, Chilean consul here, has received word that the Chilean warship Imperial leaves Valparaiso shortly for San Francisco with exhibits for the World's fair. She will come to Vancouver after discharging her exhibits at San Francisco.

SWEEP BY A HEAVY SEA

The Allan Steamer Pomeranian Encountered Weather of Unusual Severity While on the Atlantic Ocean.

She Was Struck By a Heavy Sea That Carried All Before It Like an Avalanche.

A Number of Her Crew and Passengers Were Swept Overboard and Perished in the Waves.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The Allan steamer Pomeranian from Glasgow Jan. 27, via Moville, for New York, has returned to Greenock after losing a number of her crew and passengers in a heavy storm. The Pomeranian was about 1150 miles westward from Glasgow, when she encountered heavy weather of unusual severity. The gales had increased with great suddenness, until a heavy sea swept over the deck, carrying everything before it like an avalanche.

The deck saloon, the chart house, the bridge and the boats were smashed and swept away by the tremendous force of the waves, and when the sea had passed over the decks were a scene of ruin, and the shrieks of perishing sailors and passengers could be heard in the waves that surged about the dismantled steamer.

Capt. Dabiel had been on the bridge when the avalanche struck the vessel. He was swept from his post and dashed against the bulkheads, where he lay stunned and helpless. The mates, John Cook and John Hamilton, who were on the bridge with the captain, were swept out to sea and drowned.

Besides the first and second officers named, two quartermasters stewards, four first cabin passengers and one second cabin passenger perished by drowning. James and Lilian Gibson of Dalkeith, Jane Caffrey of Londonderry, and John Stewart of Glasgow, were the first cabin passengers lost.

GUILTY AS INDICTED.
Held and Baur, the two Pittsburgh anarchists, were convicted.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 11.—When criminal court was opened this morning the sealed verdict of the jury in the case of Baur and Nold, the anarchists charged with being accessories of Herkman before the fact in the shooting of H. C. Fryck, was read as follows: "We find Carl Nold and Henry Baur guilty as indicted."

The jury agreed upon their verdict at 5:30 o'clock last evening. Court had adjourned and the verdict was sealed. Judges Stagle and Stowe were on the bench this morning, and after the verdict was read by the clerk the jury was dismissed. The result had no perceptible effect upon the convicted men. After sentence had been passed upon several prisoners, Nold and Baur were called before the bar. Col. Moore stepped forward and filed by motion for a new trial, and moved for an arrest of judgment on the ground of errors in receiving evidence and the charge of the judge.

"We contemplate building a terminal belt line and switching road that shall accommodate and connect with not only all the different railroads and industries now at the head of the lake, but all those that may hereafter be built or located here. We will afford equal facilities to all concerned—railroads and shippers—on a perfectly fair, reasonable and impartial basis, treating all alike. We claim that we shall do more to bring about a common interest at the head of the lake than any other thing that can be done. We are ready and expect to begin work as soon as the weather will permit in the spring, and in fact to let all our contracts in thirty days, and the work will be completed as fast as money and men can do it. Unless we secure our bridge across from Grassy point, we shall be obliged to reach your city by the way of New Duluth and the bridge now there and this will not only be a great disadvantage but will put us back one year. The full development of your industries require it, and we therefore respectfully ask your approval and sanction of the bridge bill."

J. L. Washburn, attorney for the company, was called upon and said: "The company was organized in 1890 but on account of financial difficulties nothing was done until this spring when the road was enabled to secure abundant capital, mostly from New York and Kansas City. The company has purchased considerable stock property in Duluth and now own the dock property between the Omaha and Northern Pacific roads."

"We do not seek the charter for the purpose of selling out. Within the last ten days the men who furnish the capital have been in the city and are ready to commence work as soon as the charter is procured. This company has spent $500,000 in Duluth this summer. There is one thing I wish to impress upon the aldermen, and that is that this road is not controlled by any railroad and not a single share of stock is owned by a road. There is no danger of the road falling into the hands of Jim Hill or any other railroad magnate as soon as it becomes a paying investment. Even should they buy our bonds the charter is so drawn up that they would have a transfer on their hands."

C. E. Lovett also addressed the council, presenting the important project. The aldermen found in reading the bill that the building of a wagon bridge was left optional with the company. This called forth some objection. They then went into executive session, and after a prolonged talk a dispatch signed by them was sent to Congressmen Haugen asking him to push the bill and try to provide for a wagon bridge in connection with it, but if this would delay the bill until the next session of congress, to push it as it is.

The Commor's Point to Rice's Point bridge was also taken up in executive session and a telegram sent to Congressman Haugen saying: "We are in favor of a wagon bridge from Rice's to Commor's Points."

WAR IS IMMINENT

The Relations Between Honduras, Nicaragua and Salvador Are Strained and War Is Not Improbable.

All Three Countries Still Under Martial Law and Dangerous For Strangers to Travel There.

More Outbreaks Are Expected In Colombia Owing to the Arbitrary Acts of the Government.

Chile Has Refused to Consider Immediate Appointment of Arbitrators on the United States' Claims.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Daniel Sweeney, an American merchant, who returned yesterday on the steamer City of Peking from a six months' trip through Central America, reports that Honduras, Nicaragua, and Salvador are still under martial law and that it is dangerous for a stranger to travel there, even when provided with a pass issued by the military authorities. Anyone caught without a pass and unknown to the officials is thrown into prison.

President Llorente, of Honduras, is having a hard time to maintain himself. Gen. Vasquez, commander of the army, is at the Honduras capital. Llorente was expected there January 16 to attend the meeting. He is now in hiding and a change in government will probably result. Many of Llorente's friends fled to Nicaragua and the latter refused to yield up to them.

It is only the poverty of Honduras which prevents it from declaring war on Nicaragua. Salvador is equally angry, but it is poor and also fearful. Guatemala would invade it the moment it engaged in trouble with Nicaragua.

THE RIOTS IN COLOMBIA.
Discontent Spreading Throughout the South American Republic.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The Herald's correspondent at Curacao, W. L. cables his paper that news has been received from Curacao, in the Colombian province of Venezuela, that a serious outbreak against the government in the southern provinces of United States of Colombia may be expected at any time.

The riots in Bogota, the capital, are spreading to other parts of the republic. The government is expected to place under military law.

An outbreak is daily expected in the state of Santander, near the Venezuelan frontier, where the citizens are better prepared for revolt than in any other part of the republic, being well armed.

In the departments of Bolivar and Cauca, there is also considerable discontent and close observers believe riots will occur in all parts of the republic.

The Herald's cable dispatch from Valparaiso says the Chilean minister of foreign affairs has informed United States Minister Egan that the question of the immediate appointment of arbitrators to pass upon the claims which the United States hold against Chile would not be considered.

Yellow fever is on the increase at Santos, twenty-six deaths being reported yesterday.

The only explanation given by the little fellow was, "The gun went off."

MURDER IN INDIANA.
Pat Ryan Shot the Wrong Girl and May Now Be Lynched.

ANDERSON, Ind., Feb. 11.—Pat Ryan shot and fatally wounded Maggie Donovan at the Hahaven hotel this morning.

Ryan was employed at the hotel and last night had a quarrel with Jennie Ryan, the second cook, who is his sweetheart.

He tried to shoot her but failed. He was discharged. At 2 a. m. he came in to the office and was ejected by the clerk. Later when the clerk was out of the office he secreted himself in the closet of the dining room. Miss Donovan was the first to come in, and thinking it was Jennie, he sprang out and shot her near the heart.

After she fell he struck her twice with the revolver and then fled. If caught he will be lynched.

MURDER IN SOUTH CAROLINA.
A Constable Killed by a Well-Known Negro Desperado.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 11.—Another brutal murder was reported yesterday from the phosphate works of Charleston. It occurred at the Magnolia mines, about fifteen miles from the city. Henry Horlock, a well-known negro desperado, shot and killed Robert H. J. J. constable, who attempted to arrest him on a warrant charging him with trespass.

Horlock was armed with a shot gun and blew out the brains of the constable as he entered the door of the shanty in which he was hiding. After killing Horlock, Horlock armed himself with a Winchester rifle and attempted to murder another constable. He also fired at a white man who accompanied the officer.

The latter fled for assistance, and in the meantime Horlock robbed the murdered man of his money. A posse from the mines is after him, but with little hopes of catching him.

ATTACKED NON-UNION MEN.
Strikers at Joliet Who Have Become Desperate.

JOLIET, Ill., Feb. 11.—The strikers of the Consolidated Steel Works company who have been out of work since New Year's, have become desperate. Their places at the mills were filled by non-union men, who are glad to get employment anywhere, regardless of wages paid. The men have been hired every day and the mills have got a good force now without the old men.

For several days the strikers have way laid the non-union men as they returned from their work. Last night about twenty strikers attacked the non-union men with rocks and several were badly hurt.

CONVINCING ARGUMENTS MADE BY DULUTH MEN AGAINST THE BILL TO INCREASE THE IRON ORE TAX.

Len Merritt Tells of His Great Struggle to Secure Development of the Mesaba Range.

If This Increased Tax Were Imposed It Would Cause the Ruination of His Hopes.

million range, 1,167,650 tons; total in 1892, 9,083,292 tons. Some of the Marquette mines closed down in August and September because they could not sell, and today there is 6,000,000 tons of unsold ore on the docks at Lake Erie.

Attorney J. G. Williams presented the facts concerning the scope and the regulations of the state leases in a convincing way. Judge J. C. Hale spoke in a general way, regarding the development of the range and Gen. Clapp rounded up the arguments with a graceful and forceful argument on the inevitable results of such a tax. Senator Tawney asked if it would not be satisfactory to amend the bill, so as to make the tax 1 1/2 cents per ton for the first five years and 3 cents thereafter. The object of this proposition was to submit it to the people and when it became a part of the constitution there would be no more objections to the constitutionality of the measure taxing the output of iron mines rather than the property of the mining companies in the regular manner.

This was not satisfactory because the 5 cents tax at the end of five years would hold a continual menace over prospective investment of capital in the Mesaba range.

Mr. Kellogg's argument in favor of the Marquette railroad land taxation bill was an exhaustive one, supporting one taxation in the case of the Marquette and the Northern Pacific railways, he found that the legislature of 1885 by special act gave the former the privilege of paying taxes on gross earnings in lieu of other taxes, and that the legislature of 1890 enacted a similar law for the Northern Pacific.

Do these acts create a contract with the St. Paul & Duluth and Northern Pacific companies not to increase or in any manner change this mode of taxation or the amount thereof? Should the property increase or decrease in value, or the tax become inadequate and unfair as compared with that of other property of the same kind?

First—All property, whether owned by corporations or individuals, owes to the state its proportion of taxes, the act of the legislature referred to providing for payment of 5 per cent upon the gross earnings is a voluntary enactment by the legislature of a mode of taxation which may be amended or changed in the manner provided by the constitution. In support of these propositions nine distinguished gentlemen presented.

The St. Paul & Duluth road and the Northern Pacific road were subject to taxation in fact in the Northern Pacific act the right to tax the property of the Northern Pacific company was specially reserved to the state in the act consented to by its representatives. The act of 1895 creating the mode of taxation so far as the Duluth road is concerned did not contract that the state could not change this mode of increasing or decreasing it as the value of the property or the varying circumstances or needs of the state should demand.

Definite time is contracted for. To constitute a contract would be to spell out from this act by inference some language which the legislature will not ever do. Indeed, this latter case goes farther. It holds that the express exemption of the lands for three years was made in consideration and did not bind the state.

Mr. Kellogg then showed that section of articles of the constitution expressly provided for a repeal or amendment of the gross earnings tax laws by submission to the people, and therefore the constitution itself consented to the gross earnings tax laws were not only constitutionally subject to amendment, but that they were not inviolable contracts, which would annul any amendment and render them void. Several decisions of the state supreme court were read bearing out the same construction.

The Horton pool bill came up in the house on a motion of Mr. Horton to reconsider this morning, in order to kill, and the mails were clinched in its coffin by a vote of 10 to 1 on the table.

The following bills were introduced in the house: By Booren, appropriating $500 to build a bridge across Lake Superior, by Greer, providing that persons guilty of notices must be made before the right to redeem the lands or real property from a tax sale can be extinguished; by Booren, a bill and to tax inheritance, gifts and legacies at 5 per cent; by McGrath, to transfer the grain inspection fund to the internal improvement fund; by Greer, providing that personal service of notices must be made before the right to redeem lands or real property from sales for local improvements or other assessments can be extinguished; by Turrell, fixing the legal rate of interest at 6 per cent, and by Fletcher, amending the law relating to injunctions.

Mr. Walsh's bill passed prohibiting employers from asking the surrender of any rights of citizenship by employees.

In the senate this morning J. D. Smith introduced a bill for an act amending the constitution to give citizens the right to vote in all municipal elections both of villages and cities and to hold any municipal office.

Mr. Donnelly had two other bills which did not get before the senate, one being a farmers' insurance company under the supervision of the state insurance commissioner, and one amending the usury laws.

Mr. Sanborn's joint memorial to congress in favor of free silver was lost in the senate this morning, but will be reconsidered at some future time.

RACING AND LOTTERY.
A Gambling Combination Devised by a New York Congressman.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—There is a great deal behind the announcement made by Congressman Tim Campbell to the effect that racing will begin at the 1st City track near Washington on the 23d day of next month.

It was learned yesterday that the syndicate in charge of the old course intended making a bold bid for the popular support of those who are always willing to take a chance, whether on the result of a horse race or the turn of the wheel.

The new departure, unless plans are changed materially, is nothing more or less than a combination between racing and lottery, and while it seems that the scheme proposed will not stand the scrutiny of the United States district attorney, Tim Campbell, who claims to have prominent men at the capital and in this city and Philadelphia interested with him, says that it will be within the pale of the law.

He claims to have the most eminent counsel upon the subject and declares that the scheme is not an infringement of the lottery law and will stand the closest scrutiny. Prizes aggregating probably $2000 will be offered daily in addition to the purses for which the horses will strive, and each entry in the races shall bear a separate and distinct number.

IRON ORE TAXES

CONVINCING ARGUMENTS MADE BY DULUTH MEN AGAINST THE BILL TO INCREASE THE IRON ORE TAX.

Len Merritt Tells of His Great Struggle to Secure Development of the Mesaba Range.

If This Increased Tax Were Imposed It Would Cause the Ruination of His Hopes.

million range, 1,167,650 tons; total in 1892, 9,083,292 tons. Some of the Marquette mines closed down in August and September because they could not sell, and today there is 6,000,000 tons of unsold ore on the docks at Lake Erie.

Attorney J. G. Williams presented the facts concerning the scope and the regulations of the state leases in a convincing way. Judge J. C. Hale spoke in a general way, regarding the development of the range and Gen. Clapp rounded up the arguments with a graceful and forceful argument on the inevitable results of such a tax. Senator Tawney asked if it would not be satisfactory to amend the bill, so as to make the tax 1 1/2 cents per ton for the first five years and 3 cents thereafter. The object of this proposition was to submit it to the people and when it became a part of the constitution there would be no more objections to the constitutionality of the measure taxing the output of iron mines rather than the property of the mining companies in the regular manner.

This was not satisfactory because the 5 cents tax at the end of five years would hold a continual menace over prospective investment of capital in the Mesaba range.

Mr. Kellogg's argument in favor of the Marquette railroad land taxation bill was an exhaustive one, supporting one taxation in the case of the Marquette and the Northern Pacific railways, he found that the legislature of 1885 by special act gave the former the privilege of paying taxes on gross earnings in lieu of other taxes, and that the legislature of 1890 enacted a similar law for the Northern Pacific.

Do these acts create a contract with the St. Paul & Duluth and Northern Pacific companies not to increase or in any manner change this mode of taxation or the amount thereof? Should the property increase or decrease in value, or the tax become inadequate and unfair as compared with that of other property of the same kind?

First—All property, whether owned by corporations or individuals, owes to the state its proportion of taxes, the act of the legislature referred to providing for payment of 5 per cent upon the gross earnings is a voluntary enactment by the legislature of a mode of taxation which may be amended or changed in the manner provided by the constitution. In support of these propositions nine distinguished gentlemen presented.

The St. Paul & Duluth road and the Northern Pacific road were subject to taxation in fact in the Northern Pacific act the right to tax the property of the Northern Pacific company was specially reserved to the state in the act consented to by its representatives. The act of 1895 creating the mode of taxation so far as the Duluth road is concerned did not contract that the state could not change this mode of increasing or decreasing it as the value of the property or the varying circumstances or needs of the state should demand.

Definite time is contracted for. To constitute a contract would be to spell out from this act by inference some language which the legislature will not ever do. Indeed, this latter case goes farther. It holds that the express exemption of the lands for three years was made in consideration and did not bind the state.

Mr. Kellogg then showed that section of articles of the constitution expressly provided for a repeal or amendment of the gross earnings tax laws by submission to the people, and therefore the constitution itself consented to the gross earnings tax laws were not only constitutionally subject to amendment, but that they were not inviolable contracts, which would annul any amendment and render them void. Several decisions of the state supreme court were read bearing out the same construction.

The Horton pool bill came up in the house on a motion of Mr. Horton to reconsider this morning, in order to kill, and the mails were clinched in its coffin by a vote of 10 to 1 on the table.

The following bills were introduced in the house: By Booren, appropriating $500 to build a bridge across Lake Superior, by Greer, providing that persons guilty of notices must be made before the right to redeem the lands or real property from a tax sale can be extinguished; by Booren, a bill and to tax inheritance, gifts and legacies at 5 per cent; by McGrath, to transfer the grain inspection fund to the internal improvement fund; by Greer, providing that personal service of notices must be made before the right to redeem lands or real property from sales for local improvements or other assessments can be extinguished; by Turrell, fixing the legal rate of interest at 6 per cent, and by Fletcher, amending the law relating to injunctions.

Mr. Walsh's bill passed prohibiting employers from asking the surrender of any rights of citizenship by employees.

In the senate this morning J. D. Smith introduced a bill for an act amending the constitution to give citizens the right to vote in all municipal elections both of villages and cities and to hold any municipal office.

Mr. Donnelly had two other bills which did not get before the senate, one being a farmers' insurance company under the supervision of the state insurance commissioner, and one amending the usury laws.

Mr. Sanborn's joint memorial to congress in favor of free silver was lost in the senate this morning, but will be reconsidered at some future time.

Will Build to Duluth.
Officially Announced That the Great Northern Will Build From the Red River to Duluth.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 11.—It is officially announced at the Great Northern offices that Mr. Hill will begin in the summer the extension of the Great Northern from Crookston across the Red river country to the Zenith city at the head of the unsalted seas.

The branch has already been started and has been in operation for a portion of the distance for some time. The opening of the division will be of great benefit to Duluth, as it will make a much shorter line from that city to the granaries of the Northwest.

This will give the Duluth mills an immense amount of business which now goes to Minneapolis. What the latter city loses will be Duluth's gain.

DOING MISSIONARY WORK.
Alderman Long Tried to Convert the Heathen at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—[Special to The Herald.]—Alderman Long is doing some excellent missionary work in Washington in favor of the bridge bill advocated by the Duluth city council.

When seen by The Herald correspondent this afternoon Alderman Long said he had no further information about the situation as telegraphed yesterday. It is not likely that any of the pending bills will pass at this session. The fight here is exciting, however, and will continue until the end of the session.

Lizzie Weathers Arraigned for Murder in the First Degree—Similar Indictment Against Elias Johnson.

M. W. Bates Gets a Verdict Against the B. B. Richards Lumber Company—This Morning's Special Term.

The case of John Burns vs. Carlo Manillo et al. was the particularly interesting one on trial in the district court yesterday, but it did not go to the jury. The attorneys concluded their arguments at 5:45 o'clock and Judge Ensign announced that he would not charge the jury until Monday morning. Burns is suing for damages sustained through an assault. It will be remembered that Manillo paid a fine of $200 at the November term on account of the assault. Lizzie Weathers, the Biwabik murderess, was arraigned for murder in the first degree and was given until Monday to plead. J. C. Holmbeck will defend her. Andrew Erickson, for assault, in the second degree, was given one day to plead and will be defended by J. C. Holmbeck. William Riley and Philip Larkin, alias Peter McLennan, for robbery in the second degree, were given one day to plead. J. M. McClintock will defend them. Ole Eagen pleaded not guilty to forgery and will be defended by Wilson & Taylor.

The following indictments have been returned by the grand jury but the parties have not been arraigned: Elias Johnson, murder in the first degree, under arrest; James Clavort, selling liquor without a license, on bail; A. W. Seaman, assault in the second degree, under arrest; George Gilmore, grand larceny in the second degree, under arrest. Before Judge Searle, in room 2, the jury in M. W. Bates vs. the B. B. Richards Lumber company, returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $2,072.33. The case of Joseph Le Page vs. the B. B. Richards Lumber company was then taken up and is now on trial. Judge Ensign has made the following setting of jury cases for next week: Monday—35, 80, 93, 102, 105. Tuesday—111, 112, 117, 118, 120, 123, 128, 129. Wednesday—130, 133, 134, 135, 137, 138, 139, 140.

Baldwin et al; Wm. Steel vs. Archie Campbell; Daniel Peterson vs. Archie Campbell; H. P. Rugg & Co. vs. Tower Hotel Association; and Duluth & Iron Range railway vs. D. T. Adams et al. The case of Erik Polkki vs. P. M. Graft et al was taken from the calendar. A motion for a new trial was denied in Chas. Gasper et al vs. W. P. Heinbach. Keesee, an order was issued removing the cause to the United States circuit court. An order was issued discharging the receiver for Herman Harold. The order to show cause was discharged in the cases of David Sang et al and T. H. Sheridan vs. the city of Duluth. The matter of the condemnation of lands for the use of the city of Duluth for parks and parkway purposes was heard this afternoon.

STATE OF THE IRON TRADE.

The Record Speaks Well for the Financial Condition of Business. January is gone and one-third of February, with expectations of a strong buying movement "after the turn of the year" still unrealized. There has been buying, to be sure, in the last fortnight, enough to make a round aggregate, when the reports from all primary markets are taken together, but makers of raw iron are not satisfied with prices. Furnace firms that went into the new year determined to hold to the prices of December, says the Iron Trade Review, held off for a time, while presumably weaker firms did the cutting, but there is now no denying that concessions can be obtained from the largest sellers. With the unsettling of prices, there has entered into the situation a slight feeling of uncertainty due to the embarrassments which have been chronicled, and to the necessities of other firms indicated by the extremely low prices some of them have been making.

Yet the record of last year speaks well for the financial condition of the business taking it through and through, one large pig iron selling firm whose business aggregated $7,000,000, reporting that the total of losses to furnacemen on the year's business was less than one-fiftieth of one per cent. The statistics for February are not yet available, but are likely to show an increase of stocks, a situation that may not change until the spring is well advanced. Prospective demand for finished material is large.

In steel rails there is a better outlook. The Pennsylvania company has recently placed an order for 60,000 tons and the Northwest will be in the market for considerable tonnage within a few weeks. The big Chicago elevated railway contract aggregating $3,000,000 taken by the Carnegie company and the iron for the Chicago & St. Louis Electric railway mean heavy mill tonnage in that direction of material.

Naval construction contracts in the East have added to their acre, and there is a large amount of bridge and building work in prospect for the spring that promises an active structural market. Present prices are intricate, mainly no improvement on those of a week ago.

SAW MILL BURNED.

Ben Howard's Mill at Woodland Destroyed Last Night.

The saw mill of Benj. F. Howard, located at Woodland, about a mile and a half from the end of the street car track, was wholly consumed by fire last night. The building was not particularly a valuable one, but the machinery was of the very best. The plant cost $15,000 and had a capacity of about 60,000 feet of lumber a day. The property was insured to the amount of $5000. Mr. Howard returned from the range this morning and up to now has not yet been particularly of his loss, not yet having been told of the ruins. He said, however, that he would be compelled to rebuild, as he has 2,000,000 feet of logs on the ground by the mill to be converted into lumber.

A Few Words With Employers.

Having reference to the employers' liability line of the Fidelity and Casualty company, of New York, I wish to call your attention to some facts and considerations which may be to your interest, as to inspection of great value. We consider our inspections of great value. For this work a large force of salaried expert inspectors, something no other company engaged in the Employers' Liability line has undertaken to provide for. Inspection of risks. We get a benefit from the inspections in the prevention of accidents. The assured get the same benefit. I think that every person needing a liability policy will appreciate this service, especially officers of mines, and here I might say the need of a state mining inspector has recently been brought before the public, as the miners are frequently exposed to unnecessary dangers through the carelessness of superintendents, but all owners of mines which have carried their liability insurance with this company, have had the benefit of inspections of great value. As to adjustments: Accidents will occur, and it is necessary that every case shall be attended to in an efficient manner. To do this the company have provided a corps of lawyers at the home office and throughout the country, and any case in this city or elsewhere is considered the ablest in the Northwest. It is the company's intention that every case of accident which indicates a possibility of being a liability case, shall be examined into by competent persons, that every case shall be gotten out of the way by composition as soon as possible. In matters of inspectors and the conduct of our law work, we are providing for those people who take our insurance, a practical thing which is of importance to them, aside from any money indemnity which we pay in the given cases. I know ably that no other company is doing anything as well in either of these directions as we are, and if this be true, certainly any person needing this insurance should look into the merits of our company, which cannot be approached by that of any other company. Character must tell in this business. Promptness and thoroughness in transacting our business will not be lost sight of by our clients. The company was organized in 1876, with a capital of $250,000, and has deposits of $1,715,555.86. Inquiries and applications for insurance will have the prompt attention of D. H. COSTELLO, District Manager, 11 Phoenix block, Duluth, Minn.

Nervous Prostration.

A large manufacturer, whose affairs were very much embarrassed, and who was overworked and broken down with nervous exhaustion, went to a celebrated specialist. He was told that the only thing needed was to be relieved of care, and that he should have a change of thought.

This doctor was more considerate of his patient's health than of his financial circumstances. He ought to have advised him to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the best remedy for nervous prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, headache, ill effects of spirits, tobacco, coffee, opium, etc. Thousands testify to its cure. Book and trial bottle free at all druggists.

MAJ. SEARS' POSITION.

The Statement That He is Committed to Any Bridge is Unjust.

The Superior Evening Telegram, the organ of the Land and River Improvement company, which wants a high bridge between the two cities, said last evening that Maj. Sears is committed to the Connor's Rice's Point bridge scheme. Maj. Sears said to a Herald reporter this morning that the following, contained in a Washington dispatch of yesterday, defines his position exactly:

"The report that Maj. Sears, of Duluth, had singled out a particular bridge for favorable or unfavorable report is denied here. He has simply given the war department a report on what any bridge must be to conform to the requirements of navigation. He does not favor or oppose any particular charter, but outlines the size and length of draw that will be demanded of any bridge that may be erected."

The Duluth-Superior bridge bill was sent to Major Sears to report on simply as to whether it would obstruct navigation and whether it would conform to such requirements as he believed a bridge in that location ought. He examined the bill, and suggested such modifications as he believed ought to be made, interlining them, and reported to Washington that the bill so modified or any other bill meeting the same requirements would be all right. If any other bill is sent to him to report on it will, if conforms to what Maj. Sears has recommended this bill should in matters of construction, receive a favorable report.

BUSY TIMES.

Two Duluth Dentists Who are Getting to be Decidedly Popular.

There are two men in Duluth who are not complaining of dull times. Doctors von Suessmich and Day. A reporter dropped in upon them at rather a late hour last evening and found them both busy in their laboratory. In answer to an inquiry as to the condition of their practice Dr. Day said:

"Busy? Well, I should rather say we were busy just now. Last month we did the largest month's business for January, (which is a dull month) that we have ever done, that is about four times what either of us formerly did alone. Just this month we have done just twice what we did during the corresponding period last month."

"To what do you attribute your great success?"

"To the fact that we do nothing but the best work, that our prices are reasonable, that we have a system of painless filling, and extracting (teeth that please everybody, and lastly to the fact that we have a system of crown and bridge-work that is used by no other dentist and that gives the greatest satisfaction in every case."

"People appreciate your methods evidently."

"I should say so. We have yet to hear the first word of complaint from any of them."

"Are you not afraid that the other dentists of this city will find fault with you for letting people know where you are and what you are doing? It is against the ethics to let yourself be known, is it not?"

"Yes, it is," said the doctor, with a smile, "but we shall let the other dentists do the complaining, and we will keep right on doing the business. We believe we are doing the public a great benefit by letting them know what we have and what we can do to relieve their pain and prevent suffering, and we think it is our duty to do so."

"Isn't there a great deal of ignorance among the people as to the value of the proper care of the teeth?"

"Indeed there is," said Dr. von Suessmich. "You would be astonished to see the absolute disregard of natural laws which some people exhibit when it comes to the care of the teeth. Dr. Day has written a little pamphlet on the care and preservation of the teeth which we give to each of our patients. There ought, however, to be some means of imparting instruction to the masses upon this most important subject."

"Why not write a series of articles for the daily paper, say one every month? We would be only too glad to serve up such interesting matter," suggested the reporter.

"That's an idea worth thinking about," said the doctor, "and if I can find the time I will see what I can do. By the way, Mr. Reporter, why do you come to us so often for information?"

"Well," said the reporter, scratching his chin meditatively, "it pays us to get good, readable news of the kind you furnish us and print it for people to read. Newspaper men, like yourselves, like to serve the public the best they know how."

"Just so," said the doctor with a smile as though he didn't exactly catch the reporter's idea, but guessed that there was a joke somewhere.

"And then as it was late and both the doctors looked tired the reporter took his hat and his leave."

THE LIBRARY TABLE.

Mark Twain's New Story of the "£1,000,000 Bank Note" Has Been Issued in Book Form.

The Midwinter Number of the Century Has a Fine Portrait of Tennyson as the Frontispiece.

Many Articles of Striking Interest by Prominent Men Are Found in the February Magazines.

Charles L. Webster & Co. will publish early in March, Mark Twain's new story of the "£1,000,000 Bank Note," together with several other stories, by the same author, which have never before appeared in book form. They include "Mental Telegraphy," "Playing Courier," "A Letter to Queen Victoria," "A Cure for the Blues," "About Ships," "The German Chicago," "A Majestic Literary Fossil" and "The Enemy Conquered." They also announce for the same date a new dollar edition of "Tennyson on the Plains," by Elizabeth B. Custer, printed from new plates, with the original illustrations, and bound in a handsome and appropriate cover. This is one of Mrs. Custer's best books, and can be very favorably compared with her "Boots and Saddles."

The same firm will also publish early in March "One Hundred Desserts," by Filippini. This is the third volume of their "Handy Culinary Series," and contains 100 recipes, all of which have been tested by Mr. Filippini during twenty-five years' experience with Delmonico's.

The current number of the Engineering Magazine is of exceptional interest to enterprising railroad men, there being no less than three articles in its attractive table of contents which appeal directly to their interests. One of these is contributed by Richard Speight, among the most famous of living railroad managers. Formerly assistant general manager of the great Midland Railway of England, he left that position to become chairman of the Victoria railway commissioners, and his experience in the latter office especially fits him to deal with the subject of "State-Owned Railways in Australia." Cyrus C. Adams, who is equally familiar with "Railroad Developments in Africa," describes the marvelous progress of the Dark Continent in the matter of intercommunication. Both articles are elaborately illustrated. Equally interesting, though in a different way, is Robert Hill's article on "Mexico as an Iron Producing Country," showing that as soon as Mexico's iron resources are developed, an immense impetus will be given to her railway development, which is already so rapid that her iron and steel exports have increased wonderfully in recent years.

Macmillan & Co. announce among their issues for the coming month a new volume by the author of "Marius the Epicurean," entitled "Plato and Platonism." It will be uniform with the last American edition of Mr. Pater's books. From the same publishers also to come an entirely novel treatment of a belief in a future state, under the title, "The Unseen World." The argument is clear and presented with a moderation and absence of dogmatism which makes it exceedingly attractive.

There is a very interesting account of the career of Lola Montez, the beautiful adventuress, in the Argonaut of Jan. 30. It contains the story of her varied life in the capitals of Europe, as narrated in a recent book of memoirs, and tells of her life in California in 1833. This latter part, including her marriage to Pat Hull and their brief honeymoon, has not been told before by one who was personally acquainted with her and her friends, and is a valuable and entertaining chapter in the social annals of California.

However much one may have differed politically from Mr. Blaine, he cannot fail to be interested in the striking personality of the man, a personality which possesses a phenomenally intense and universal interest for the people at large. The February Cosmopolitan presents a careful review of Mr. Blaine's characteristics as a man and statesman, prepared by T. C. Crawford, and illustrated by numerous sketches of his home, and famous cartoons apropos of striking phases of his political career. The second article in the series of the "Great Railway system of the United States," also appears in this number, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, with its more than ten thousand miles of track being treated. A delightful Japanese story "Toki Murata," and a jeu d'esprit entitled "June, 1892," from the pen of Julian Hawthorne, are unusually entertaining. The making of beet-root sugar is thoroughly explained in every process, helped out by photographs of the seed, the roots, the method of cultivation and the most improved machinery for conversion into sugar.

Never has there been a time when religion was viewed so broadly as today, and all persons who have the courage to look at the subject squarely in the face will find the February Arena indispensable. In it Kinza Hirai, a profound scholar, who is descended from the royal family in Japan, and through whose personal munificence a large academy for free education has been opened in Japan, discusses "Religious Thought in Japan." This scholarly gentleman has made a careful study of the religion of the East, and his contribution is noteworthy. In the same magazine the eminent Unitarian divine, Rev. John W. Chadwick, discusses "The New Old Testament," and Rev. J. Ernest Allen (secretary of the American Psychological Society) contributes a searching argument on "The Supremacy of Reason in Religion."

The Review of Reviews has thus far succeeded remarkably in avoiding ruts. From the nature of some of its departments it might have been thought antecedently probable that the periodical would tend to monotony, but every number is a fresh surprise. Each monthly issue is perfectly distinctive and succeeds in striking one or more key-notes that seem to belong peculiarly to the particular month of issue. Two great subjects seem to dominate the February number: One is the subject of American cities and their social and industrial functions, and the other is the subject of millions and their possibilities of usefulness, particularly in the line of large benefactions for public objects and for the improvement of their own communities. The longer article of the number is Mr. W. T. Stead's character sketch of Jay Gould. Here we have a summing up by the brilliant London journalist, viewing Gould's life and career from his objective point of view, of what seems to him interesting and significant in the amazing career of this wizard of American finance.

The Review of Reviews announces that it purposely abstained from publishing this sketch of Mr. Gould in its January number, because it preferred to have the current newspaper discussions somewhat abated in order that the magazine's presentation might command the fuller attention as a sort of summing up and conclusion on the journalistic comment upon the late Mr. Gould. It is a very brilliant and upon the whole very judiciously chosen and well edited piece of work. Mr. Stead's discussion of Mr. Gould is the idea that the modern millionaire, however unobjectionable his conduct may be as a man and as a citizen, must to a considerable extent be judged as a millionaire, that is, by the use he makes of his great instrument of power. Mr. Stead holds that the greatest need of our day is a mission to millions, which shall convert them to a sense of their social obligations.

Outing for February is a beautifully illustrated number, filled with breezy, seasonable descriptions of sports in many lands. The contents are as follows: "Ski-Running," by W. S. Harwood; "Which Miss Charteris?" by C. G. Rogers; "A Comedy of Counterplots," by Edgar Fawcett; "The Wild Hog of Louisiana," by Geo. Reno; "Spearfishing Through the Ice," by Ed W. Sanday; "A Blank Day," by Mildred Darby; "A Day With Quail in North Carolina," by Claude Prescott; "Roping Elk in the Rockies," by H. S. Blanchard; "Len's Tour Awheel," "Bicycling on Pablo Beach," by H. I. Greene; "Harry's Career at Yale" (continued), by John Seymour Wood; "Through the Darkest America," by Mrs. K. White; "Held Up," by Myron B. Gibson; "Militia and National Guard of Ohio," by Lieut. W. H. C. Bowen, U. S. A.; "Ice Yachting," by Charles Ledyard Norton; and the usual editorials, poems, records, etc.

The movement lately started by the many patriotic magazines, Blue and Gray, to develop a closer fraternity between the North and the South seems to be meeting with hearty approval on both sides of the line. John C. Calhoun, grandson of the great South Carolina statesman, says in the February issue of Blue and Gray: "I don't care who he is, aims a shaft of love and fraternity from his own heart to the heart of another, he seldom if ever misses his object mark. It is a pretty hard man that spins the hand of an old enemy, even be he a bitter personal one, when it is offered in an open, manly way. We all know that there is no longer any feeling between the old soldiers of the two sections. We have little enough of what I call good-fellowship or comradeship literature. We hear enough of politics and finance, but they have always seemed to be tinged with a kind of acrimony that I know will never find a resting-place in the well printed and well edited pages of Blue and Gray."

The Illustrated American for the week ending Jan. 23 is usually rich in interesting matter. An ably-written article on "Ben" Butler may be called the "leader." It faithfully portrays the life and character of the deceased general, giving the details of his career from the time of his first posing as a hero in 1860 till his end a few days ago. Some apt words in reply to the headstrong German emperor refer to the "Passing of the Divine Right." The Panama scandal is brilliantly reviewed from an entirely new standpoint. In the third installment of the "Road of the Rough" Mr. Maurice M. Minton lets the reader look still deeper into the mire of vice, opening the door of the police station and showing the "tough" for the first time entering a cell, the prelude to a life of crime with but one end possible—Sinsing.

The reader of the midwinter number of the Century will find as the frontispiece a portrait of Tennyson engraved by T. Johnson from the photograph by Mayall, which the poet, Lady Tennyson and their son all agreed in thinking the best portrait of the laureate. Accompanying this portrait is an article by the Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke on "The Voice of Tennyson." Other articles of personal interest are a paper on "Franz Liszt" by Saint-Saens. The autobiography of Tommaso Salvini is continued with entertaining reminiscences of his early professional life. Poets also come in for consideration in Mr. Janvier's first paper, entitled "An Embassy to Provence," in which he will recount his interesting experiences among the Provencal poets of Avignon and other towns of Southern France. There are also two other papers of travel or adventures in out-of-the-way regions, one "Stray Leaves from a Whaler's Log," by James Temple Brown, with graphic illustrations; and the second a record of life on the Malay peninsula by John Fairlie, who has admirable opportunities at Singapore to study the life of the court, as well as of the people.

Probably the most notable article of the number is a semi-official paper by the secretary of the Russian Legation in Washington, Pierre Botkine, entitled "A Voice for Russia," in which for the first time an authoritative statement is made of the attitude of Russia toward its political prisoners and its Jewish population. Clarence Clough Buel contributes vivid "Preliminary Glimpses of the World's Fair," and the Rev. Washington Gladden shows, in the second part of his series on "The Cosmopolis City Club," the actual working of an organization for municipal reform. An article of much freshness of topic by the Rev. John P. Peters gives account of "An Art Impetus in Turkey," which is attractively illustrated.

Besides the serials, Mrs. Burton Harrison's "Sweet Bells Out of Tune" and Mr. Balestier's "Beneits Forged," the number contains five short pieces of fiction, two being "Balcony Stories" by Miss Grace King, "Mimi's Marriage" and "The Miracle Chapel," with illustrations by Sterner. The others are "Goliah" by Thomas Bailey Aldrich, "The Professor's Aberration" by Florence Waters Snedeker, and "The Lustings," in which Mrs. Schuyler van Kenschel, the well-known writer on art and architecture, appears as a writer of fiction. The variety of the number may be inferred from the geographical bearings of the articles alone, which deal with topics relating to English, French, German, Italian, Russian, Turkish and Malay subjects, as well as with American localities as diverse as Massachusetts, New York, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Chicago, Colorado and the Northern Pacific Ocean.

Timeliness is the striking characteristic of the principal contributions to the North American Review for February. The leading feature is an able article entitled "How to Revise the Tariff," by Hon. William M. Spencer, chairman of the committee on ways and means of the house of representatives. Two articles which are sure to attract wide attention in view of the recent scandals in Paris, which even threaten the republic, are Admiral Ammen's "Recollections of the Panama Canal Congress" of 1879, and Madame Adam's entertaining and instructive paper on "Criminal Law in France." Under the title of "Changes in the Church of England" the Very Rev. Robert Gregory, Dean of St. Paul's, contributes some interesting reminiscences of the Oxford movement and its leaders. "Horns and Banes of Free Coinage" are discussed on the one hand by the Hon. R. P. Bland, who sets forth, with marked frankness, his views on the monetary conference recently held at Brussels, and on the other hand by John Harsen Rhoades, president of the Greenwich Savings bank, who considers the question of savings banks and their depositors as affected by a premium on gold, while the "Repositor's Point of View" is forcibly presented by A. Depositor in a Savings Bank. Other interesting articles are by Senator Morgan, Gen. Gibson, Frederic R. Coudert, Senator Hansbrough, Kristus Wiman, Arthur R. Kimball, Lydia L. Pimoff and Rev. James M. King.

Completely Uprooted. How many remedies there are which merely relieve without uprooting disease. The contrast with sterling medicines which such palliatives afford, not only enhances the dignity of the former, but serves to emphasize the folly of employing half-way measures when thorough ones are available. A marked instance of this is the effect, on the one hand, of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in cases of chills and fever and bilious remittent, and on the other of ordinary remedies in maladies of this type. By the Bitters, malarial complaint in every stage, and of the most malignant type, are completely conquered and lose their hold upon the system. They are rarely, if ever, dislodged by the ordinary resources of medicine, although their symptoms may unquestionably be mitigated through such means. The same holds good of indigestion, biliousness, kidney complaint, rheumatism, nervousness and debility. By the Bitters they are cured, when many remedies fail.

A few days ago I was visiting a friend who has several children, all bright and of inquiring minds. One of the boys asked his mother to decide the question as to whether the sun or the earth moves. Nat-

SCHOOL COATS FOR GIRLS FROM 12 TO 15. Really she told him the earth did, whereupon he stood up with his back to the fire, and putting his hands behind him said gravely:

"Mamma, I do not wish to disagree with you, but don't you think you are mistaken? Papa says we are to believe only what we see and not what is told us, and I say the sun moves, for I have watched it. It comes up over there in the morning and goes up around so, and then goes down over there. Now, how can anybody say the sun stands still and the earth moves? I think it's rank nonsense."

It is not to settle the vexed question of whether "the sun do move" or not that I have mentioned this, but because it showed me how very greatly the fashions in training children have changed. Forty years ago children were hardly allowed to know their souls were their own, and I do not suppose that in all the world there was a child then who was not under the control of either of his parents with such an air and with strong unchecked opinions of his own. In school the restless mind that dared to question beyond the schoolbooks was promptly set back in his place, and the rules were enforced by vigorous use of the tattle or tattle. The embryo philosophers were relentlessly kept to the strict letter of the schoolroom law, and that was to learn the lesson on hand well and leave questioning.

Those lessons that were, so to speak, burned in with the rod were never forgotten, and when the time came for the boy to make practical use of his knowledge he had it ready for use. He learned his lessons laboriously, but learned them well, as the long list of names of well educated men now gray haired can tell.

The girl who set her mind on her few but standard and useful lessons, with a wholesome fear of the female, has left as good a record for education as any of her grandchildren who study under the more modern fashions.

Parents in these days watch their children struggling to learn rules for forming letters or figures—rules that are hopelessly complicated and utterly ridiculous—and think the child is getting an education.

EASTER OUTFITS FOR 12-YEAR-OLDS. In the old days the teacher would stand at the blackboard and show how the letter or figure was made, practically explaining it at the same time, and the lesson was instantly learned and never forgotten.

There is too much flummery in the fashions of schools now and little of the authority that is necessary. Let the children think and observe, certainly, but they should be made to follow the beaten track of learning with such positiveness that they should accept facts as facts, and then if they wish to know more let them study out the causes instead of calmly putting their own judgment above that of their parents and declaring that it is "rank nonsense" to say that the sun does not move.

The children of today really have too much made of them for their own good, though I would not for a moment have them relegated to the background as they are in some countries. They have as fine a class of literature as exists, the illustrations being most exquisitely beautiful; they have toys more intricate and marvelous than any their mothers possessed; they are taken to theaters and operas and are dressed in elegant material, and their bodily health is watched over with a better understanding. But the error in their training lies in the fact that love and regard for one's children have almost degenerated into an exaggerated idea that they do not need to study as hard and laboriously as their parents did, and that what with modern aids and story books the child may be saved the most of that tedious study. Governesses and tutors, where the parents can afford to have them, when conscientious, come nearer to the old regime than do the public and private schools of today, but the sooner parents and children realize that there is no royal road to learning the better, and discipline is necessary.

I had almost let my pen forget that I had really set out to give some of the mothers a few ideas as to the preparing of the spring wardrobes for their sweet little daughters, and as we were just speaking of schools we will look at some serviceable school garments. The first is a diagonal striped rough tweed, made without a lining, but having a hood cape lined with satin to match, and with a narrow band of light fur around and down the front, which is to be removed a little later. The hat is cavalier felt bordered with peacock feathers. The middle is a redingote of striped cheviot and velvet to match the dark stripes. A peaked felt hat is trimmed with bows of ribbon and clipped feathers. The little one has a double breasted coat of dark tweed with collar and pocket lips of astrakhan, and beaver hat with silk bows and cheviot wings.

The next has two lovely new coats for early spring, which, by the eternal law of fitness, should first be worn at Easter. One is a paleot of drab cloth, cut with a vest, and this bordered with astrakhan, and the sleeves are trimmed with the same. It is princess shape in the back. A little kilt plaited gown is worn with this, and a caplet felt hat trimmed with changeable ribbon loops, the shades being gray and maize.

The other is a coat of white cream laid cloth, with flat gold buttons and two rows of gold galloon around the sleeves. It is cut as a box coat and double breasted. The hat is white felt, with white velvet bows and plumes held with a gold buckle. The dress is of black surah, the children's own silk, with two rows of gold galloon at the bottom. Daintier dresses than these would be hard to find.

Another quaint and novel little dress is on the left side of the third illustration, and it would be very pretty made after this design in any material or color. The plaited skirt was of slate gray cashmere, and the waist was gathered on the shoulders. At the waist there was a grille of the cashmere, bordered with swan's down. The gigot sleeves were of striped and dotted silk. The hat was of slate gray felt, bent in a very graceful shape and garnished with a handsome gray plume and steel buckle.

The costume next to this was made of terra cotta cloth and mignonette green faille, the body of the dress being of cloth and the yoke and sleeves of faille, and all boned.

The last of the dresses is a terra cotta velvet, and black ribbons, and tuft of tips.

The swan's down is not the real skin, but a Russian goods where the down is woven on the surface and a cotton backing. It is very pretty, I think even prettier than the SPRING GOWNS FOR YOUNG GIRLS. red, as it is even, and the other varies with the length in the thickness except when one gets the very best quality, which is made of chosen pieces, and is thus very expensive.

The third dress is of moss green cashmere, made directorate style, with the vest and lapels of gray and white striped silk. The vest has two small positions in the back. It is a very pretty little frock and can be imitated very easily.

Two more beautiful little home dresses: One of stone gray, light weight camel's hair, a directorate vest and coat back. There is a sash of darker surah, and the lapels are of velvet of the same color, but darker. The other is a heliotrope cashmere, laid in flat box plaits from the yoke, but caught up blouse fashion at the waist. There is a panel on each side of greenish yellow silk, sewn with beads, and the yoke outlined with a band of plush bordered with imitation amber beads, the cuffs being treated in the same way.

Children wear black stockings altogether except for dancing school or parties, when light colored silk ones are permissible. For cold days they wear leggings of wool knitted in deep ribs; spring heels shod up to 12 and 13, when low heels are worn. Laced shoes are seen in many of the best shoe stores.

Aprons are worn for school and at home by all girls under 10, the prettiest trifles imaginable some of them are, and all are neat. Birdseye, linen, lawn, dotted mull, checked and striped laces and chesecloth are all used. Some are trimmed with ribbon, and some embroidery; often Bulgarian and Russian stitch, worked in colors, is seen upon them. All have dainty little pockets.

Girls wear the hair as it proves most becoming, but flowing locks are prettier for little girls. Ingenue styles for what is called growing girls are not often seen, the hair being banded and slightly curled over the brow and carried loosely back and tied in a catagan braid. If, however, a young girl looks best in an ingenue, she can be allowed to wear it so in all propriety. A very pretty fashion I noted lately for young girls of about 15 and thence and then pass them across in the back of the neck from ear to ear, fastening them snugly; all the rest of the hair except the bang very smoothly combed down the head.

Hats are worn by all children from 2 years old up to 16, but boots and capes are only for those under 6. The boots are certainly more comfortable in cold weather.

Let our young people, instead of succumbing to the influences that would keep them back and down, take them as the parallel bars and dumbbells and weights of a gymnasium, by which they are to get muscle for the strife. Consent not to beg your way to fortune, but achieve it. God is always on the side of the man who does his best. God helps the man who tries to overcome difficulties.—Rev. T. Do Witt Talmage.

Very little girls wear kid gloves and carry tiny ruffs hung around the neck with a string, and their elders wear gloves much like those of the mothers. Girls from 10 to 16 require many ribbons.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR. Topic for the Week Beginning Feb. 13. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—How to pray. Nehemiah's example. Neh. i. 4-11; Jas. v. 16-18.

The spirit of prayer is as universal as the spirit of religion. From the time of Adam's first petition to the last cry of an afflicted soul a cloud of incense has continually risen before God. Prayer has been so universal because men have believed that the One to whom they prayed was able and willing to answer their requests. Christians have been especially firm in this belief, with the natural result that prayer has been constant and earnest. In the Scripture and out of it we have numberless examples of praying men. Such is Nehemiah. Hearing that his brethren in Palestine are fasting poorly, he appeals to God in their behalf and leaves a model of how to pray. What are some of the characteristics of true prayer as exemplified in the prayer of Nehemiah?

1. A proper acknowledgment of God (Neh. i. 5). This is expressed in his introductory address, which is, "O Lord, God of heaven, the terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him." Prayer should always be introduced by a proper acknowledgment of the greatness and grandness of God. Thus Jesus in his model prayer taught us to pray, when he began, "Our Father in heaven." The wonderful attributes of God make him such a God as it is good for us to pray to, and these attributes should be suitably expressed.

2. Earnest entreaty (verses 6, 8, 11). This is expressed in the words, "I beseech thee" and "Let thine ear be attentive," etc. Nehemiah appeals to God. He displays a spirit of great earnestness, showing his faith in God's ability to hear and answer his prayer, and showing also his great desire to be heard and answered. Earnestness and importunity are necessary to success in prayer. So Jesus taught us in the parable of the judge who granted the widow's request simply because of her importunity. God delights in our earnestness, and we should in prayer have the spirit of Jacob when he said, "I will not let thee go, except thou bless me."

3. Humble confessions (verses 6, 7). In these verses Nehemiah humbly confesses the sins of himself, his family and his people. He confesses that they had not kept the commandments, nor the statutes, nor the judgments of the Lord. Confession of sin is absolutely necessary to success in prayer. John says, "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins." Humble confession should always precede prayer. We should confess our sinfulness and utter unworthiness of all God's blessings. The Lord loveth a humble and contrite heart.

4. A pleading of God's promises (verses 8, 9). "Remember the word that thou commandedst Moses," God has promised to hear and answer our prayers, and he has taught us by precept and example that we are to recall these promises and plead them in prayer. Thus will we have what James calls (v. 16), "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man [which] availeth much."

5. Bible references.—Ex. xx. 6; I Kings xviii. 1; Ps. cxix. 135; 17; I Pet. iv. 23-24; I Cor. xiv. 15; Eph. vi. 18; Phil. iv. 6; I Thess. iii. 10; I Tim. v. 5; I Pet. ii. 7.

The Epworth League.

The opening of the Epworth league's new western headquarters in Chicago recently marked a big step in the progress of the league in this country. The Methodist Episcopal institution was a Methodist in the interests of the young people of the church. The league is only 34 years old, yet it has 9,000 chapters, and a membership of 700,000. While the 1,000 chapters each in the southern and Canadian church districts bring the total membership up to nearly a million.

The object of the league is to promote intelligence and loyalty in the young members and friends of the church and to train them in works of mercy and help. Any young people's society may become a member of the league provided that it adopts its aims and general plans. It is governed by a board of control, consisting of five members appointed by the board of bishops, five by the managers of the Sunday School union, five by the managers of the Y. M. C. A., and five by general conference district. The board meets annually, and the members hold office for two years.

God Helps the Brave. A great deal of useless sympathy is in this day expended upon those who start life without social or monetary help. Those are most to be congratulated who have at the beginning a rough tussle with circumstances. John Ruskin sets it down as one of his maxims that in early life he had "nothing to endure." A petted and dandled childhood makes a weak and insipid man. No brawn of character without compulsory exertion. The man who sits strongly in their social, financial and political elevations are those who did their own climbing. Misfortune is a rough nurse, but she raises giants.

Let our young people, instead of succumbing to the influences that would keep them back and down, take them as the parallel bars and dumbbells and weights of a gymnasium, by which they are to get muscle for the strife. Consent not to beg your way to fortune, but achieve it. God is always on the side of the man who does his best. God helps the man who tries to overcome difficulties.—Rev. T. Do Witt Talmage.

PASSENGER-AGENT TOOKER.

Disease, like a train, acquires momentum. One can't attend too early to the signs of nervous debility. Habits are creases in the body often made at thoughtlessly as the folds in an old newspaper. Every time you double up under the pain of rheumatism or dyspepsia or neuralgia you deepen a very bad habit.

Grasp your illness by the forelock, drag it from its hiding place, and it loses its power to torment you.

One of the most popular passenger agents in the United States, as well as one of the ablest, is Mr. M. B. Tooker, of the Grand Trunk railroad. His home is at Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

Mr. Tooker, whose portrait is printed here, is known everywhere as a man of great energy and push. His advice has always gone a long way in railroad matters, and he is possessed of those rare qualities which make him a good friend and advisor in every-day matters of life.

Several years ago, Mr. Tooker was a sufferer from that very common complaint, rheumatism, which has been notably prevalent for the last few years.

As every one knows, it is one of the most painful of diseases, and until the recent discovery of Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth College, was considered almost always incurable.

Mr. Tooker's experience was very much that of scores of people in probably every town large enough to have a drug store.

"For two years," says Mr. Tooker, "I suffered from rheumatism and kidney trouble, for which I tried various remedies, but with no success. A clergyman advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound. I did so, and was surprised at the effect. After taking one bottle I was entirely relieved. I have taken two bottles and am cured."

As a well-known and conservative physician in Duluth has said, "Paine's Celery compound is generally considered a certain specific for the cure of rheumatism, and so much better results are obtained from it than from all the usual remedies that it has become a regular prescription among the most eminent practitioners. I prescribe it regularly and believe in every rheumatic victim should use it."

That inure to Duluth's supremacy than any other Duluth paper. It is essentially the women's paper; its bright and crisp society gossip, its many features pertaining directly to the homes, and the recognition of the cause of the gentle sex make THE EVENING HERALD especially of interest to them.

The independent course pursued by THE HERALD in politics has won for it many friends who are not prejudiced by party ties, and who approve of a fearless newspaper, but who loathe and despise a hide-bound organ, that only reverberates the sentiment of some party platform that has nothing in common with Duluth or her varied interests. THE EVENING HERALD has given several examples of its independence the past year and will continue to do so whenever in its opinion the good of Duluth demands it. If you do not take it, subscribe for it.

The business man reads it and advertises in it to the exclusion of all others, because it GIVES THE NEWS and is read by double as many readers as all other Duluth papers.

The laboring man and the artisan want THE EVENING HERALD because it is delivered fresh from the press at a time when his day's labors are ended and he has the long winter evenings to read to himself and family all the day's happenings of his own city and from every nook and corner of a busy and heedless world.

The two largest news organizations, the Associated Press and the United Press, serve the Herald with special telegraph wires, with all of the outside news.

Its staff of editors, local reporters and contributors are ever alert that nothing may be missed that might be of interest to its patrons or contribute to the welfare and prosperity of Duluth.

BILL NYE IS EN ROUTE

His Meeting With a Sissy Traveling Man on the Train Who Took a Sponge Bath.

Was Constantly Running Up Against Things That Were Just as Rude as They Could Be.

Bill Overhears the Pathetic Wail of a Stout Lady and Answers a Heartrending Request.

The ablo critter who has held out for years that Mrs. Stowe had excluded the possibilities of poetic license when she represented Eliza as escaping over the Ohio river on cakes of ice is now dead. He died in Florida in January from exposure while skating on the St. John river, and when they found him friends had to cut out a square rod, perch or pole of ice with his body in order to send him home.

He always maintained that the Ohio river never even froze enough to make a cake of ice between Cincinnati and Cairo. Last January Eliza with her infant child could have crossed over with bobsleds and a 4-horse team.

"Oh, bother!"

In West Virginia we had to have all stoves and a furnace going all day in the opera house, as well as the entire gas service, including footlights, in order to warm up for evening service, and even then we wore white sweaters and shoulder breakfast shawls over our dress suits on the stage.

Natural gas is getting less plentiful, and the demand increased so that there was great suffering from cold among the poor, who had to return to the electric light and cast aside their parlor gas logs for the time. Heavy manufacturing enterprises also decrease the quantity of gas for home consumption, and as usual the corporation sells gaily on while the citizen has to go to bed to get warm.

"How strangely mankind does!"

We go and beg on bended knees for large corporations to come and build and do business in our town to raise the price of our lots, and yet how long is it before we write a piece for the country paper saying that we are driven to the wall by these great corporations, and that we hate them like everything.

We are only children in this life, dressed up in men's clothes, and I hope with Dr. Briggs that there is a chance in the future state for growth and development. I can see how I could grow in a future state and add to what I now know.

During the terrible reign of the cold we met on a train one day bound west the rarest thing I ever saw on earth—viz., a "sissy" traveling man. Traveling men are most generally business men. They have to be. They are mostly pretty rugged, masculine men, with voices that you can hear "the darkest night that ever blew."

This one was constantly running up against things that were just as rude as they could be. That was as far as he ever got. Some people were real hateful, and he claimed that once his blood boiled like everything.

Maybe it was the morning when he took a sponge bath in the north end of the sleeper at Pittsburg, as the train took breakfast there. You must know that the sponge bath facilities cannot be just what one would wish in a sleeping car, especially when one has to do it in the front doorway at a meal station with the thermometer at 15 degrees below zero and a great deal of passing in and out.

Still he had probably promised some dear one solemnly that he would bathe every morning if it cost him his life.

People filed past him filled with wonder and amazement, and to each one he said in a light, thin, girlish voice, "Beg pardon, but would you mind shutting that door?"

Nine of us, after we had passed by him, went to the other end of the car and passed through again three times, enjoying it heartily.

Once we met the man who brings in the ice for the cooler. He was near the young man who was trying to bathe. We had quite a long quarrel with the ice man over the right of way, and one of our party jeered him rudely against the young man, who was trying to towel his back. The ice man slipped, and his large cake of ice and the great coarse towels also fell against him.

It was horrible. The young man gave a wild shriek, and with a moan of pain his Boulanger whiskers went back inside and it is said have never come out again.

Later on after breakfast I tried to make up to him and be friendly, but he turned upon me like a wild beast and exclaimed, "Oh, bother!"

I overheard yesterday the wail of the stout lady. She was looking at a fashion magazine, but she could not find anything to suit her.

"Did you ever notice," she said to her companion, a tall, lithe young woman, who was so long waisted that she never seemed to sit down at all, or to be sitting on her foot if she did sit down, "did you ever notice that nothing is ever designed for the short, stout woman in these magazines, Ethel?"

"Well, I do not remember ever to have seen any designs for short, plump people," said Ethel, shooting her cool, spiral neck out of her collar so as to look still longer waisted.

"No," said the short, stout lady; "shortness and stoutness are regarded by the fashion plate makers as deformities, and you have to go and get some special artist to work at it to design your clothes just as you would go to a specialist if you had a club foot and get him to make your boot for you."

"Why is it, do you suppose?" Ethel asked, with great, wondering eyes.

"I do not know," said the short, stout lady as she swung her feet back and forth like a baby in a high chair. "There are surely enough of us, and some of us are quite refined. You know it is not generally believed that stout women are refined. A man may get so stout that even the presidential chair isn't big enough for him, and yet he will not lose any prestige, but let a lady along about 30 to 40 begin to weigh well and shun the slot machines, and then strangers in a crowd look upon her as they would on a man who rides on one railroad ticket and carries a hive of bees with him in the same seat, or puts the live there, at least, and lets the bees select their own seats."

"Yes, that is so," said Ethel, "but these who know you love you if you are stout. That's more than some can say whom I know of."

"I hope so," said the short, stout lady, with a tear in her eye as she tried to get her overalls on by kicking it against the other foot, but only succeeded in fracturing a whalebone or two and tipping her hat down over her nose.

"There ought to be some recompense. We are ashamed to ask for clothing of our size, and nobody ever attempted to design anything for us especially, for we wouldn't wear it anyway, no matter how becoming it was, if it had got to be the uniform of the fat women of the universe, and so there you are."

Then they both had to get off the train there, and Ethel had to borrow a traveling man's sample case for the short, stout lady to step on as she got off the coach.

I have not been richly endowed by nature with the fatal gift of beauty, but it might have been worse than it is, though when I pass through a car and afterward look back and see the passengers examining their watches to see if they are still running I can think of the short, stout lady and say, What if I too, had been thus?

Written in a childish hand comes a request from little Alonzo Belcher of East Rawlins Center asking this paper how he can care soreness of the tongue.

Alonzo, it seems, during the cold weather was acting as understudy for the property man at East Rawlins Center, and one of the other stage hands, a bright young whalerback farmer, got Alonzo to accept a wager that he (Alonzo) could not erase with his tongue the name of Pistache Oleson, the rising young Swedish night-ingle and child wonder, which she (Miss Oleson) had written in blue chalk on the gas pipe of her dressing room while at the Grand Opera House of East Rawlins Center.

Alonzo accepted the wager and now writes to ask about what he shall do, which almost encircled the gas pipe, and which he may still be seen there. For one night he and the opera house occupied the same apartments. The next day they jogged along together till about noon, when the other stage hands told the authorities, and steps were taken to arrange it so that the opera house and young Belcher could be used separately.

You see, you dare not cut out a piece of gas pipe that way for fear of asphyxiation, and they could not cut it off at the master, it seems, as the company had arranged it so that gas would be "consumed" every evening, whether the house was opened or not, and they did not see how they could change it.

A bad asphyxiation, however, was applied to the tongue, and soon the little sufferer was removed from the real estate and again became his own personal property.

He went home, he exclaims in the letter, feeling like a man that has a red-hot cattle bone in his mouth and cannot get it out. Ever since then he has communicated with the outside world wholly by means of the pen. No one can even think of his great sorrow without a bitter and somewhat brackish tear.

How many are our efforts when we find ourselves in the act of violating a great natural law? We must not get out the mighty turntable of creation or try to cross the side tracks of solar systems unless we are experts.

Mr. Belcher will do well to bathe the sore place with lard as often as the idea occurs to him, and keep a piece of oiled silk between the tongue and roof of the mouth, so that the two shall not unite and become one grand whole, to the injury of the grand hole that he has been in the habit of swallowing through.

Mr. Belcher (which, by the way, is simply a pseudonym) writes also regarding his future, inclosing a chart of his palm and a lock of hair, asking to know what the future of one possessing those things may be.

The thumb is marked strongly and would indicate that in your early life you whittled toward yourself a good deal; also that not many generations back your ancestors competed with the woodpecker in their glad, free scuffle for food in the forest; also that during the early part of the eighteenth century, possibly later, your folks walked on the palm of the hand a good deal and resembled the Highbedford or Hineswood hall-oon of Lake Dennis, in equatorial Africa.

The headline runs backward toward the wrist instead of forward, thus indicating that you will gradually, as years roll on, add more and more to what you do not know.

The hair does not indicate anything, and I would have respected you more if you had told me you had none.

It is good, vigorous hair and seems to grow quite rank, indicating that you are of a lymphatic temperament and have a cool skin well adapted to the growth of hair and whiskers, too, that will toss to and fro in the summer breeze as you grow to be a man and while you are adding all the time to your lack of intelligence, thus fitting yourself for duty as a juror in the future.

Your hair would indicate that you inherit from your father's side, and that you are not strong physically. You need out of door exercise, cheerful company and a shampoo.

In choosing a wife you had better select a lady with a wooden limb. Then you can keep the limb locked up in the bureau drawer, and she will no doubt remain at home more than she otherwise would. You should not marry one who could easily escape.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Herrmann, the Great Prestidigitator and Magician, Will Appear at the Temple Tonight.

No Dramatic Attractions Next Week—"Miss Helyett" and Lottie Collins at the Lyceum Soon.

James J. Corbett, the Pugilist Actor, at the Temple This Month—McLean and Prescott Coming.

This week has been a decidedly barren one as far as dramatic attractions are considered and has offered but little to satisfy the very few habitual theatergoers who claim Duluth as their residence. Tonight, Herrmann, the great magician and prestidigitator, will mystify, interest and astonish everyone who sees him at the Temple, but outside of this the house has been closed. Next week is even worse and the house will be dark—"closed for repairs" says the management.

The Lyceum had the University Glee and Banjo club on Thursday evening. On Tuesday next the St. Louis county auxiliary of the World's fair board will give a Columbian treat, but outside of this the house will be closed.

Week after next, however, has better things in store "Miss Helyett," one of Charles Frohman's attractions, will be at the Lyceum, with Miss Lee Carter and will also bring with it the famous Lottie Collins, who is inseparably associated with the familiar song "Tara-a-boom-de-ay." The Travesty club, a local organization, will present a burlesque of "Romeo and Juliet."

At the Temple, which week McLean and Marie Prescott will be seen for two nights. Jim Corbett, the pugilist, will also be there.

THE GREAT HERRMANN.

He Will Mystify an Audience at the Temple This Evening.

Herrmann, the great magician and prestidigitator, appears at the Temple tonight. That human nature loves to be humbugged is a fact to which the illustrious Pineson T. Barnum has testified, and of this sort of deception Professor Herrmann has made a lifelong study. In this interest he has visited the far-famed Eastern lands of mystery, and has won from the wily Indian conjurers secrets of their black enchantment with which to charm away for a while our practical common sense.

His entertainment is an agreeable diversion from the usual dramatic representation of the play-houses. Behind the footlights the mystic forces are unloosed and natural laws defied. The skillful wizard pleases with the deftness he employs in his magic art, with his fluency of speech, that requisite to a magician's success, and his anxiety to satisfy by giving to doubters the opportunity to detect him in "this way that are dark and tricks that are not." He is versatile to the verge of unbelief. Before the eye apparently impossible occurrences, transformations are effected until one wonders if the scene is not a conjurer's unchanged. At a wave of the conjurer's hand the bare, brown earth blossoms like the rose, my lady's "jewels" are destroyed, then restored to perfection. "Yakoyo" or "immigration made easy" is Herrmann's latest trick and is said to be a wonder.

LOTTIE COLLINS.

She Will Appear at the Lyceum Soon in "Miss Helyett."

There will be a double attraction at the Lyceum on Monday, February 20, in Belasco's comedy with Audran's music, "Miss Helyett," interpreted by well known singers and comedians, Louise Leslie Carter being the popular little Quakeress in her original creation "Tara-a-boom-de-ay." The world loves an originator, and for a while her scores of imitators Miss Collins has compelled attention. In New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago, as in London, she has caused a great stir, and crowds have flocked to hear her clear-cut enunciation of the droll verses and see her fantastic dance accompaniment. Miss Collins appears only in "Miss Helyett."

Local Burlesque at the Lyceum.

No opera having visited Duluth for so long a time the Lyceum under way by the Travesty club of this city will be looked forward to with much interest. C. H. Eldridge, the leading spirit, has been very busy arranging an operatic burlesque of "Romeo and Juliet," to be given at the Lyceum Washington's birthday afternoon and evening. There are travesties and travesties, but this will be different from anything ever before attempted. To begin with, Mr. Eldridge has secured the best talent in Duluth. The piece as arranged will resemble a comic opera, for the most popular airs from the best operas of the day have been selected, "Robin Hood," "Mikado," "Ermine," "Musketeers," "Don Quixote" and many others being represented. The management of the Lyceum promises a magnificent staging for the piece.

THEY HAVE MADE HITS.

Two Bright Actresses Who Are Very Popular Everywhere.

The leading lady of Charles Frohman's stock company is Miss Sydney Armstrong, who is every day adding to her excellent reputation by her earnest, conscientious and artistic work in Belasco and Pyle's plays, "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

Miss Armstrong's career affords a striking illustration of what perseverance and honest endeavor, allied to natural ability, will accomplish in the theatrical profession. Born in Memphis, she was brought to New York while an infant by her parents. Her father was A. T. Wells. He was known for many years as the A. T. Stewart of the south. He died last May.

On account of the ill health of Mr. Wells the family removed to the west about 12 years ago, and five years later Sydney Wells, transformed into Sydney Armstrong, made her debut on the stage as a member of a little repertory company which was touring Illinois. Her duties were arduous, but the experience was invaluable and enabled Miss Armstrong to secure a position with the stock company of the Grand Street theater, Baltimore, where she remained until she received a flattering offer from Ellen Henderson to play Arto O'Neil in "The Shaughraun." Then Miss

MISS SYDNEY ARMSTRONG.

Armstrong played a long engagement at the Union Square theater in "Lyndwood," after which she made her first appearance as a leading lady with Frederic Byron in "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

The final part in "Hedraun Blind" was Miss Armstrong's next work, and it proved to be "the making of her" in a professional way. After playing in turn the leading female roles in "The Girl I Left Behind Me" and "The Girl I Left Behind Me," she was joined by Charles Frohman's forces in the summer of 1890 and has been with that gentleman ever since.

Miss Armstrong has never married. She is fond of reading and poetry. "Rienzi" is her favorite novel and "Elegy" her favorite poem. She is fond of music, but neither plays nor sings. She is an excellent judge of paintings, likes flowers—violets especially—but dislikes fine dresses except on the stage. Miss Armstrong has no faults, except that she is, as she declares, more stage-struck now than ever. She will go to Europe for the first time next summer.

Miss Armstrong is a handsome rather than a pretty woman. Her figure is magnificent in its superbly rounded outlines, and her face, while analytically good in its features, is more attractive for its intelligence and sympathetic quality. In personal appearance she is therefore admirably adapted to the line of work in which she is engaged. Miss Armstrong is a genuinely brilliant conversationalist, a keen observer of current events and a witty and charming woman.

Almost everybody in the United States has seen "Across the Continent," and no one will claim that it is even a moderately good play, although it does contain a large amount of shrewd and glib and a few thrills. And yet three of the most remarkable achievements on the American stage "debut" in this wild western nightmare. They are Ada Belan, leading lady with Augustin Daly's company; Hattie Russell, who fills a similar place in William H. Crane's company; and Kate Byron, who is the heroine of the play in which her husband, Oliver Deed Byron, stars and rants and incidentally makes "barrels of money."

These ladies were born in Limerick, Ireland. The family name is O'Brien. Mrs. Russell made her debut when she was 19 in "Across the Continent." Then she became a member of the Arch Street theater (Philadelphia) stock company. There she met Robert Fulton Russell, an actor, whom she afterward married. Ada Belan was a little girl then, and in the company were John and George Drew. Mrs. Russell, her husband and her sister, Ada, went from the Arch Street theater to Albany, where they joined the stock company at the Leland Opera House.

Mrs. Russell next became a member of Augustin Daly's traveling company, and in the road the parts which Ada Belan played in New York. She remained with

MRS. HATTIE RUSSELL.

Daly two years and then put in three years with W. J. Florence and two years with Mrs. Langtry, playing leads in both companies.

Mrs. Russell joined Crane in 1890 and has been with him ever since. She is a sterling actress who confines herself to legitimate methods. She is a splendid swimmer and always spends the summer at Long Branch.

Probability That the English and American Champions Will Meet.

So many challenges have been flying around in America and clicking along the Atlantic cables of late that there is considerable doubt as to whether George F. Slosson has challenged the world, or if he has.
